

Evidence.zip

Swedish Players

- [1] Karl Johan Bohlin (MikeHaggar)'s Testimony
- [2] Nicklas Ringberger (Rocky)'s Testimony
- [3] Calle Strandberg (C)'s Testimony

Swedish T.O.'s / Onlookers

- [4] Adam Lindgren (Armada)'s Testimony
- [5] Gustav Alm Rosenblad (ROFL)'s Testimony
- [6] Viktor Johansson (VJ)'s Testimony

American Players

- [7] Aziz Al-Yami (Hax)'s Testimony
- [8] Jeffrey Lapuebla (Zneffy)'s Testimony
- [9] Adam Oliver (Strong Bad)'s Testimony

Other Documents

- [10] Letter to Genesis 3 Staff

Forum Posts

- [11] Smashboards
- [12] Swedish Forums

Red indicates that the testimony is written by a 'prospect' (someone with a lengthy history of abuse).

All text is modified to Liberation Serif / 12 pt font. No other modifications are performed.

[1] Karl Johan Bohlin (MikeHaggar)'s Testimony

Hello. I am a smasher from Sweden who I believe has done a lot for community. I've worked hard to motivate and bring in new people the scene and held countless smashfests at my home (when we haven't had anywhere to hold small weeklies), despite having to clean the place up afterwards and angry neighbors from the noise we cause. I simply want to keep our small scene alive, happy and motivated.

This text is regarding the unfortunately necessary ban of a narcissistic chronic liar who has done more than you can imagine to rip apart my second family: Our precious smashcommunity.

Ever since I first met him, Leffen was extremely disrespectful to me for no reason whatsoever. This was at my second tournament ever. My first one was a very small local (SKN) with roughly 20 people, my second one was STIIG.

As always when meeting a new social group, I was a bit nervous. I also wanted to prove myself as a competent competitor, and at this time I was very motivated to become the best.

This was a community of elite gamers. What they think of me? Would I play horribly and have people laugh at my lack of skill?

As I arrived, I was greeted very warmly by some of the people I met at SKN. This felt fantastic, I was a completely new person in a new social circle and they already seemed to accept me.

I sat down to play some friendlies with someone. This is when Leffen came by and plugged in his controller. I had heard about him; that he was a very good player, especially vs my main Captain Falcon. and therefore I assumed he was someone to be respected. I became nervous and wanted to prove myself.

Instead of giving me any kind of respect, he picks a strange character (Ice Climbers) and proceeds to 3-stock me while screaming things like "MY ICs ARE TERRIBLE" "GET OWNED, IM ONLY USING DOWNSMASH", making a fool out of me in front of the entire scene. Being completely new this felt horrible.

This is an example of the attitude of Leffen and some of his friends (2 other people in particular). It was very negative, derogatory and non-inviting attitude. It caused a bad atmosphere, especially towards new players. This attitude was something that started when Leffen arrived in the scene. I will come back to this.

This treatment and the attitude of Leffen certainly did not give me a good first impression of the smashscene. If it hadn't been for overwhelming majority not conforming to his behavior and being so nice to me (there were 50 or so people there), I wouldn't have stayed in the smashscene for long.

During this tournament I somehow managed to pull off a win vs EK, the former European champion and then he was still a top 10 (or possibly even top 5) player in Sweden. This was obviously a huge accomplishment for me, and one of the most memorable experiences of my life.

But Leffen wanted to snuff out that happiness, commenting on my set, claiming I only got lucky hits.

Isa is another example of disrespect towards new players. When he first showed up at a small local weekly (with just a handful of people), he said that Leffen would laugh at new people because they were bad. He did not have the courage to play for this reason.

He said he would've quit after his first two times at these small weeklies if he didn't meet Rkey on the way out. Isa has been a huge contributor to our scene and has worked very hard to make new people discover this game. Had he quit before even entering or if he would quit it would be a huge loss.

He is shockingly mean and rude towards towards his own teammates, especially if they are worse. He yells at them for the mistakes they do and blame the losses on them. Once he pushed a teammate so hard he got tears in his eyes, during friendlies.

Two people who has teamed with him now never wants to again, despite the fact that they usually win prize money when teaming with them.

Once when a swedish smasher, Jerk, was saying goodbye to a few smashers when leaving. Leffen refused to shake his hand for no reason. Jerk has never done anything to Leffen.

Leffen has also told Jerk that everybody hates him. Jerk laughed at this because it obviously wasn't true, but the intention of hurting him is still significant.

I know for a fact that me, Isa, jerk and his teammates are far from the only one who has this kind of experience with Leffen, and this is just a few examples of he how he acts. This defines his entire behavior and personality.

During the two and a half years I've been a part of this community, I've seen how the scene has developed, and I've noticed a pattern: As soon as someone new who lives in Leffens area (Stockholm) enters the scene, I'd say half of them quit shortly after introducing themselves. I have good reasons to believe that this is atleast partially due to the bad atmosphere caused by Leffen and experiences similar to mine. Note the fact that this virtually never happens to new players in my area (Gothenburg).

I've talked to smashers in Leffens area and they say that the mood and attitude has changed since Leffen arrived. It has become less chill, people are mean and rude to each other (and to people of other gaming scenes in the same venue, giving us all a bad name) and drama is always in the focus. This is the attitude of him and his friends I talked about in my first encounters with Leffen. Leffen was the one who started and feed it.

He has bullied a great friend of mine (in real life, not just verbal abuse on forums), Nicklas "Rocky" Ringberger, for his hearing disability. Making fun of everything he said, manipulating people to not invite him to smashfests, etc. Rocky quit for 6 months as a result for this. You can read more about this in Rocky's own testimony.

Leffen has extremely poor sportsmanship, always makes excuses when he loses and never wants to give his fellow competitors any credit whatsoever. When he played a friend of mine in tournament he was faking yawning while beating him just to make him feel bad at the game. There will be more examples of bad sportsmanship in Armada's testimony, but it's impossible to summarize or even remember all of the examples, even if we just take the most extreme examples.

He has split in tournament (Brawl at Tampora 3) and a year or so later he said that two other players in America should be banned because of splitting.

He has played bad characters in pools, making sure that Isa (a person he had already hurt) didn't get out, and manipulating the bracket. Isa avoided a number of smashfests because he was so upset with Leffen.

He is EXTREMELY rude to people who disagree with him, calling anyone who does not share his opinion retarded, and if they are worse then him he says that they don't have enough high-level experience, and therefore their opinion is useless.

Originally I decided to disregard his behavior, something that I now regret. But now, his immense disrespect, personal verbal abuse, bullying, spreading lies about people about he does not like (primarily me), etc has only escalated and become worse as he becomes a better player. What's scary is that he has expressed that he has the right to be arrogant because he is good at the game.

At BEAST 2, a large international tournament, I decided to tell some people in the Swedish scene about something very personal: I suffer from mental illness in the form of recurring depressions, and I am possibly bipolar type 2.

What this means is that I am a normal person, but I become mentally ill periodically (my depressions seems to come along every two years). When I'm not in an episode I have no symptoms. I take medication to prevent relapse, and I told this as well.

I wanted them to know so they would know why I might become periodically reclusive, not go to tournaments, etc. I thought I could trust these people. And I could, with one exception.

I knew that Leffen was a rude, spoiled and disrespectful person, but I couldn't believe that someone would be so evil to spread this information around. He has tried to make me seem like an insane stereotype of someone locked up in a mental hospital so crazy they require a lobotomy. He also adds made up fantasies about me, like how I am "known" for lying and stealing.

He has spread this on various forums where people I have met and will meet in real life and therefore giving them false preconceived ideas about me, he's sent it around in PM's, and made a pastebin about it. In all likelihood he's talked like this about me irl, but I cant know since obviously he hasnt talked shit behind my back to me.

He has no regard for the fact that I am without symptoms when I'm not depressed, and when I've been sick I generally avoided tournaments (My depressions are extremely serious and I was hospitalized in the beginning of 2012).

He has made fun of me on multiple occasions for this.

He also implied that I take LSD which I NEVER have. He said, on a tournament stream, for hundreds to hear, "do that face like Mike Haggart (my gamertag) on acid" clearly implying that I have taken LSD.

He has also do the same thing to another person in the community (you can see this in posts below) who also suffers from bipolarism, using the word "locked up" for his hospitalizations, and saying that he "refuses" to take medication, as if he doesn't have the right to choose, with complete disregard for the horrible side effects. He has gone so far in his attempt to spread this that he has even posted this on the finnish forums. He has also spread this around verbally (I've heard him talk like this about C myself), on smashboards, and the swedish forums.

He has unfortunately succeeded in manipulating people against C which obviously has hurt him, and the entire community. I discussed the ban with another member of the community, and he said C's opinion didn't matter because C slapped Leffen for constantly pushing a chair into his knees to hurt him. In Leffens version of the story the chair part was excluded.

After this, I challenged, questioned and made fun of this behavior, and absurd logic in arguments (that revolves around making other people look like worse people and players then they are), mainly on the forums.

I would also trash-talk his matches in the crowd for fun, like most competitive fighting communities. I usually stand in the back to not disturb the players, I mainly want the rest of the crowd to hear to make them laugh. I've talked far more trash about Aniolas (another smasher) during games, and he doesnt have a problem with it. He knows it's a joke and we're great friends.

I don't usually do this unless I know it won't affect players, and Leffen has claimed that he is not affected by it so I have no real reason to stop by his own logic. Leffen has also said that I am funny to me, and online, but he has said the exact opposite during other occasions. I can't fully tell if he's lying to make me look bad, lying to fit in (when he applauds me), or just a genuine hypocrite.

What's ironic is that he has intentionally disturbed players during sets, for no other reason than making them play poorly, sitting right next to them and making noises in their ear when there is no crowd.

I do want to admit that I have, at times, gone to far in my criticism. But considering how he has treated me I find my reaction more than reasonable from an emotional point of view, although it would've been better if I instead would've tried to enforce a ban earlier.

You might think, "But why not talk to him?". I have tried. I confronted him in SR about a post where he claimed I'm known for stealing money (seen further below), and he claimed he was talking about someone else. As I didn't know him well enough to assume he was lying and didn't have the post in front of me, I gave him the benefit of the doubt.

The tensions between us grew, but again I unfortunately did nothing. He ripped on me on the forums even harder than ever before, using even more disgusting tactics, constantly misrepresenting and pointing my health problems. I noticed even worse disrespectful behavior towards me in real life. He would ignore me when I talked to him, stand in the way of me to freeze me out of conversations, sigh when I spoke, etc.

I'd like to talk about a facebook conversation we had after a big smashfests, involving a large number of lies.

At this smashfest I pulled a prank on Leffen at a swedish smashfest, like guys do to each other all the time for fun. I gave him a shot of beer and told him it was 70% appleliquor (don't ask me how he fell for it), and he became placebo drunk. My friends have pranked me and I don't hold it against them at all, it's all in good fun. On the way home from a smashfest, my friends pulled a prank on me. They told me they had left from a mall (that we had stopped at on the way back) in their car without me to not miss a train for one of the people in the car. Did they make fun of me for, in the lighthearted manner that we do? Yes. Was it funny? Yes. Did I hold it against them? ABSOLUTELY not.

I posted about my prank online, because it was funny. The same thing has been done to me and others between us in the smashcommunity, FOR FUN. And note that this is LONG after he has started spreading personal information and lies about me online and that he has always been extremely rude and disrespectful to me for no reason.

Leffen did not view it in this matter, if you do something that's even a tenth as bad as what he has done to people he views it as way worse.

He has absolutely NO self-awareness, maybe he will gain some if he is banned.

On the swedish forums, he tried to tone down the stupidity of himself for falling for prank, saying he had drank more before then he had, and all sorts of other nonsense. This was disproven by everyone who where there and saw it. Yet, he tried to claim on Smashboards (and on facebook) that I was a liar, and known for it, when telling this story. I assure you this is not the case, and you can ask other people like Rocky, Armada (who knows me well personally and has been to every single tournament I have been to), or any other smasher from my area who's perception of me has not been clouded by Leffens lies and manipulative power.

The problem is that Leffen can't take a joke and will start an ambitious vendetta with people over almost nothing. This has caused massive drama in the swedish smashscene and has changed the mood of the smashscene. It causes fear and a tense atmosphere.

After having seen what Leffen has done to me, C, Rocky and other people Leffen views as antagonists, many people have not had the courage to speak up because they are afraid of what Leffen will do to them if he finds out they are in any way against them. This is a sick bullying tactic to stop people from speaking up, and unfortunately it has worked for a very, very long time.

Later, Leffen contacted me on facebook and claimed that “several people” had contacted and claimed that I had bullied him because of this prank. This was a lie.

He claimed that his mother saw the story online and found about him drinking which he claimed she didn't (he is 17, and was going to be 18 in a few months, the legal drinking age in sweden). This was also a lie. There's pictures of him on facebook passed out from alcohol (when he was 16), and he didn't give this person any crap for it. He lied and said he was never tagged in the picture, but I had seen the picture before Leffen deleted the tag, and knew he had been tagged in it.

These are just things I remember, there where more lies in this conversation. It is very frustrating to read because I feel so stupid for originally falling for it. He guilt-tripped me with lies, and made me say “I'm sorry”, which he did not deserve. He also asked for forgiveness, but this did NOT stop him from being rude irl and posting about my mental illness online (and flaming everyone). I feel very stupid to be duped by someone who has abused me so much.

When Armada and me read it through later, we where able to see that he had lied and found evidence for it. Armada knew Leffen better then me and had realized that he's a chronic liar.

Later on on another occasion, I made him admit the lie: The smashers where planning o go out drinking after a tournament (in Denmark, where we thought the legal drinking age was 16), and I asked Leffen “You're coming, right?” and he said “Yhea”. And then I pointed out that apparently his parents have a problem with him drinking: In this situation he had to admit that it was a lie.

Later on, I heard that he pulled the same lie (from Armada) to my friends to make me look bad.

As he kept on abusing me, and because of that and the fact that I had after all said I'm sorry, I made the decision to avoid him physically at events (although I would still respond to his abuse of me and other people online).

Leffen took note of this and decided to use it against me. I saw that he started trying to befriend some of the best friends I have in the smash community, to take them away from me. These people didn't know much of what he had done to people, and where amongst the few lucky ones who have been spared from his wrath. This has to do with these people not being very competitive and therefore not a threat to him, and one of the people's status as TO.

When Leffen is with these people, I can't be with them because his presence disgust me, and also he is so mean to me in indirect ways.

I am now scared to talk about personal things with these friends out of fear that Leffen will find out and using it against me. He is ripping apart my entire social life.

As mentioned his horrible behavior escalated the better he became at the game.

The growing tension, horrible behavior deterioration of the entire scene as a result of him eventually led to a ban warning.

He obviously did not understand how serious this warning was. Instead of changing for the better his abuse actually escalated. Leffen went so far that he actually taunted the ban warning and said that it “will never go through in a million years”. This proves that he does not understand the seriousness of his actions, and that he actually needs to SEE the consequences of his actions for him to better himself.

We have tried everything: Warning to ban, politely asking him to better himself, trying to talk things over, etc. A smasher was so desperate to try to solve things that he said he'd by lunch for him so they could talk things over. This was disregarded. Eventually Leffen promised to call this smasher back, but he never did.

Nothing has helped.

Here is a collection of posts that proves that my claims are true.

<http://www.smashboards.com/showpost.php?p=14399743&postcount=823>

<http://www.smashboards.com/showpost.php?p=14400041&postcount=835>

the guy mikhaggar is talking about is Sparken (C)

Let me tell you the story of a bipolar maniac who stole ~2000 dollars, destroys AJP computer and doesn't pay a dime and then does everything he can to destroy the Genesis 2 trip the swedish smashers went on.

*It is also a story of people who are okay with eating , people who are okay with 25 year olds punching/threating his friends.

So, during the genesis 2 trip every smasher was talking behind C's but no one had the courage to say anything. People were fine with C constantly stealing money from Jack, even though they were painfully aware of what was happening.

(Mikehaggar& the other swedish smashers are known for doing this to extreme amounts with a other known swedish smasher)

Smakis (who bought his 1000 dollar ticket, with C promising he'd pay him back was on the brink of just buying a new ticket home because of how, according to him, C ruined his trip.

About the so called "punch" (which was more of a hard slap)

I was sitting on a chair, charging my laptop. C asked if he could take my place. I told him I had to charge, and this spot was the only one where the charger could reach (we needed my computer to look up maps etc). C became furious about not getting to sit down and "punched" me and ran off.

When we were sightseeing in San fransisco, he ran off in the middle of the trip (3 hours away from our car) with no phone and didn't even attempt to find us. We didn't find him until 5 hours later.

He forced AJP to drive all night after already driving all day because he didn't approve of our traveling plans, and his "plans" of course, turned up empty everytime.

I could go on for so much longer, but I'll spare you the details.

I had enough and told him to quit being such a ing  (several times). He resorted to punching+threating me because during his maniac episode(s), he could not see anything wrong with what he did. I did not stop calling him on his bull because he "punched" me, because if I didn't noone would (even though I was the youngest and he was 10 years older than me).*

It took about 5 times before anyone even said a word about it, even though he hit me infront of everyone

Before anyone mentions it, yes, C has been diagnosed with Bipolar disorder and has been locked up for it twice.

*He now lives off the hefty amounts of money that he gets from social services, buying new computers (top of the line stuff, when he already has above average) and has not payed a single * to anyone that he borrowed from.*

Oh, and after the trip, he tried to make me convince my dad to drive him home. LOL

Also, Mikehagggar also suffers from a similar disease (Bipolar disorder 2) and acts like he knows everything about C even though he wasn't on the trip and knows nothing about the events and he barely even knows C.

He also tried to call me out on several things about C's mental health, acting like he knows everything and when he was proven wrong, he edited it away so no one could see his fraudulence.

Mikehagggar somehow is stupid enough to believe that he has control over me and clearly craves that control. He has also been brutally double 3 stocked by my Yoshi in tournament and now thinks I am scared of him. And yes, he is bad enough to where I could use any character and beat him easily. "god i just hope your parents start abusing you one of these days so you learn a thing or two about life."

*LOL. It's so funny when your "HAHAIWASJUSTTROLLING" mask comes off.
when it comes down to it you're just pathetic*

I could go on about Mikehagggar too, but that'd just hurt his internet presence even more and that is apparently very important to him ;o

*and yes, I like writing about the fraudulence of smashers. Sweden has a VERY ed up scene, let me just tell you that. It goes much deeper than Mikehagggar being an  on the forums This thread will probably get locked but this post shall forever be remembered”

Here he makes up a lie that I'm known for stealing money. This is utter nonsense and you can ask anyone in the swedish community and I will guarantee that they will confirm that this statement is a lie.

Not to mention he grossly misrepresents C, myself and the entire Swedish smashscene. He was not “constantly stealing money from Jack”, he borrowed money and failed to pay it back in time. He was supposed to pay it back AFTER the trip, so DURING the trip this had no significance.

He misrepresents the conflict between C and himself severely, to the point of lying, and has done this in other posts and in real life. Leffen was constantly making comments about C and looking for a reaction. For example, he was whispering about him behind his back in earsight several times. He pushed a car-seat into him when he was sitting behind so hard that it caused physical pain. C told him several times to stop. Leffen did not listen. Eventually C couldn't take it anymore and slapped Leffen. People around them couldn't see what C did, but not Leffen, so C looked like the bad guy. There's countless examples, and it will be more extensively covered in C's testimony.

The reason for this was to make C out to be a bad guy, and take attention off how Leffen was acting. This was a planned strategy that is typical of Leffen. He chose C as a target because he knew he would get a big reaction.

This post draws the ENTIRE swedish smashscene in a negative light. If it wasn't for him it wouldn't be so “fucked up”.

The reason for this is obvious to anyone who knows him: To make other people look bad so HE doesn't look as bad in comparison. This has always been his response to critique. When people criticized him for making excuses when he lost, he argued that Hack and Nizro made excuses more than him, instead of changing his behavior.

The fact that he deleted the post has little significance since it was quoted, and he made no effort to have it take it down. Not to mention he sent it around in PM's. And, as you can see here, admitted that he deleted it only because he had infraction points:

<http://www.smashboards.com/showpost.php?p=14399760&postcount=825>

took it away bcuz I realized that I already have infraction points

When I confronted him about his lies about me on the boards (you can see my post in the thread), he had this to say:

<http://www.smashboards.com/showpost.php?p=14408157&postcount=861>

yawn

this thread started to bore me

goodbye

<http://www.smashboards.com/showpost.php?p=14399819&postcount=832>

ffs im getting mad PMs

im making a pastebin

Here he admits that he's been sending around the information (why would he otherwise make a pastebin?). In the facebook conversation I talked about earlier, he lied and said he didn't. He said he only wanted to know how many people where interested. He claimed I should've asked him if he sent it around as if I should've have assumed that he didn't actually mean what he said.

<http://smashboards.com/showpost.php?p=15247942&postcount=97>

Keep giving yourself excuses to obsess over me for, the fact is that its only gonna hurt yourself and the people who you drag into your insane obsession.

*I have made some mistakes, and I will certainly make more, but I will learn and improve from them and honestly, I wouldn't take any advice from you if you were the last person on earth, since really, you're ing terrible at everything I value.

*Whether it be mental health, social life, smash, school, being fit, commentary, work or simply not being ugly as * as far as I'm concerned you're ing terrible at all of it.

I'm gonna try, I really am, to make this my last post about you Mikehaggard. Talking to, and knowing you, has been nothing but poisonous to me. You're probably gonna go balls to the walls crazy continuing your obsession over me, but I really, really hope that you'll eventually realize how stupid and fruitless it is.

Here he reveals my mental health problems (note that this was after the swedish ban warning), and says he does not respect me because of them. Not respecting people with bad health is absurd, but he has shown time and time again with me, Rocky and C that he does not.

He also expresses that he thinks I will go "balls to the walls crazy" over, again harassing me for my mental illness, and using a scare tactic to stop me from criticizing him.

<http://smashboards.com/showpost.php?p=14241222&postcount=257>

@C. You obviously are either very clueless about what being bipolar is or about how C acts. He is diagnosed with bipolar disorder type 1 and he is a textbook example of one (other swedes could easily confirm)

Maybe you are just in denial of other version of bipolar disorder because you suffer from bipolarism that isn't C's? You are type 2 rite?

That should explain it.

Nice ninja edit btw when you realized that you're were clueless, again (took you 8 hours too, lmao)

@Yoshi: You gets brutally 3+2 stocked by my yoshi with a character that relies on trading and without me giving a *, and then claims you claim that I'm scared to play yoshi. Yeah, totally. I would love to play yoshi again against you and I would have last weekend if you didn't wuss out of going to the tournament you had booked tickets for. Oh, and I annihilated everyone at that tournament using yoshi, not dropping a game, fyi. Me dominating Randomness with yoshi should be up soon.

But yeah, you're "TROLLING" so your horrible arguments and overcompensation is hip and cool.

inb4 comments about me being a douche btw, go figure, its mikefknhaggar

Again, harassing me and spreading around this information. He implies that he knows C well when he has always been treating him horribly and therefore obviously does not know him well on a personal level.

<http://www.smashboards.com/showpost.php?p=14903723&postcount=22>

I wasn't even talking about your mental disorder, jeez. If I ment that, then I'd say "WELL YOU CAN*T PLAY BECAUSE YOU HAVE A MENTAL DISORDER DERP DERP"

I was just talking about your mental problems that aren't related to game knowledge, such as motivation, ability to perform under pressure etc that everyone has >_<

oh well, as usual you are blinded by your hate. All of my "lies" and me "trying to make you look bad" is to a large deal just you being incredibly paranoid and self centered which led to you misinterpreting everything again and again (and I have already proven that you did this in the past). You think that I'm trying to lie away what I've done to you/rocky, when its the complete opposite, but even if you would realize this you'd never admit it because this internet ego thing of yours is the so *ing important to you

also, at the ban stuff. are you serious with your first sentence? your intentions are stupidly clear.

and if you didn't know, that "Ban" thing im guessing you and rocky tried to apply is complete bull* that will never go through in a million years.

anyway I'm done, this is not going anywhere and you're just gonna repeat yourself AGAIN. this is probably gonna be replied to with you hating on me even more and trying to twist what I've said, but whatever.

Here he denies lying and denies that he has denied and made excuses for what he's done in the past.

This has been disproven through him claiming some things on the boards, others on facebook and in real life, and his continued denial of changing himself or even dealing with a real life confrontation (except for lying about what he's done and/or said).

He also makes an argument that I am paranoid, which is nonsense (paranoia has never been a symptom of an episode I've had when I've interacted with him in any way, online or offline). It is also very mean and derogatory, and again makes a case for me being crazy.

He also mocks the very serious ban threat that was not even posted by me or Rocky and listed several people that where in support of it. I wasn't even one of the people listed.

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14903603#post14903603>

"I've been wanting to confront over things irl, but I've avoided it to not cause drama"

.....

yep

mikehaggard doesn't like drama.

jesus your worldview is so off, I don't even want to continue arguing.

you earlier posted:

"I'll stop ripping on Leffen now because it will lead to him destroying the thread,"

lolllll

and if you do not see how game knowledge (again, not framedata type stuff) is incredibly important to not choke then whatever, I can't really argue that your other mental problems dont play a huge role in your "choking" , but for most people, that aint true.

I don't really see this debate going anywhere, since all you are gonna do is mindlessly spew out walls of text repeating the same thing a million times (that, have very little truth in them) and ignore the productive things that could come out of this (also, please learn to read, will you? You always misinterpret everything, our previous debate had this happening a million times and you still don't get half of what im saying)

Note that this is before I confronted him irl.

Here he implies I like drama because I jokefully talk smack on boards and in real life.

He also claims that I'm lying in posts, which I am not. He has also said that I am "known for lying" in a facebook comment. I have never heard anyone claim that I am a liar except for Leffen. Most people tell me I am to blunt and honest for my own good.

He constantly does a rather convincing case to draw me as a terrible human being, but I can assure you that speaking to anyone who knows me will assure that it is all nonsense.

<http://smashboards.com/showpost.php?p=14063342&postcount=126>

@Rocky:

*We aren't all socially disabled like you ;) Nice edit too, completely changing the post I wrote LOL you should be happy though, vday sucks * even when you're in a relationship, at least imo*

Here he claims Rocky is socially disabled which is derogatory, false and ironic.

<http://www.smashboards.com/showpost.php?p=14903503&postcount=18>

lmao you just are hilarious aren't you

*do you think anyone ing cares about your retarded rants? >_>

well anyway, I honestly also think that me + mikhaggar would be a pretty good commentating team. Sure, you would have the arguing....

*LOL NO, because mikhaggar never says * to me irl, and neither do I to him (I honestly don't "hate" mikhaggar, hes just boring/stupid at times, but considering how he tries to make me out to be the worst person in the world, you'd think that he could have the nerve to ever say something to my face).*

*If we are on stream I wouldnt say * about our personal stuff lol, why the hell would I want to. To think that I'd do that really proves that its actually you who'd do it Mike lmao.*

btw, game knowledge (aside from frame data) is one of the main things that keep you from choking, so get the hell away with those johns lmaooo

edit: its sad that you're so bad at this game, otherwise we could have a hype rivalry, that'd be cool get yourself together with your "choking" and stuff and maybe you'll have a shot in 3, 4 years (supersrsbszn!!1>:>)

Here he claims that I would say something about his personal information which is false. What I said was that we wouldn't be a good commentating team because he would constantly correct me due to his inflated ego. He is putting words in my mouth and trying to make me look like someone I am not. He claims that I don't have the courage to say anything to him in real life, ignoring my real life confrontations.

Also note the constant derogatory statements about me as a player.

<http://smashfinland.munpalsta.com/index.php?topic=285.msg20202#msg20202>

Considering how Sparken more or less stole around 1400€, broke AJP's computer (He has no intention of paying back for neither)and he also goes around hitting/threatening people for literally nothing so sorry, bringing sparken isnt an exactly an option

As you know, C was harassed. This is on the FINNISH forums, as you can see he goes VERY far to spread this stuff around to people who don't know what the reality of the situation is.

<http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?f=5&t=790&p=91783#p9178>

I'm going to do what I can to change my behavior, but that doesn't fucking mean that I'll start respecting people who are idiots/frauds, however I will shut up about it since that's how you're "supposed" to act.

Here, on the swedish forums, he says he does not feel like he needs to respect “idiots/frauds”. He has also said in real life that he does not believe that people he considers “frauds” deserve respect. His definition of fraud seems to be anyone who is worse at the game then him, and if they also question his behavior they are the even worse. This is one of the reasons a ban is necessary for his behavior to change.

Regarding what he said about our conflict, I did say sorry, but he forced this through lies (I didn't understand this at the time). After this I left him alone irl and have since, but not on the boards, since he kept up flaming everyone and everything in his old fashion I assumed he would not mind.

I have not spread hate about him on facebook.

Regarding his drunken posts, one of his lies where exposed (again), we did not criticize him for drunken posts in and of itself.

Me being worse then him is nonsense.

<http://smashboards.com/showpost.php?p=12292617&postcount=666>

I also think that the 18 argument is horrible. And about age= more mature ... I dont really see how people who failed / dropped out of school, people who have huge debts + not enough money to afford food everyday yet refuses to search for a job, people who have declared mental illnesses and neither still dont s how any interest until the last day are so stunningly mature. Oh and they are under the age of 21 lol.

W/e, I better stop writing. extremely high fever + heavy medication isnt the best idea lol

Now, this was regarding a roadtrip where they considered not bringing Leffen because he is not mature enough. This was a genuine concern, as you at this time must've figured out.

As always, he resorts to bashing someone else, in this case C. It is not true C does not afford food. In fact C once offered to buy lunch for Leffen to talk things through over lunch. It is not as if he “refuses to search for a job”, due to his illness the situation is obviously far more complex.

He also implies that people with illnesses are incompetent and immature, which is extremely false. It would be entertaining to watch Leffen try to explain how Winston Churchill managed to be so successful despite his bipolarism.

When he is later called out for this, he simply says “not gonna discuss this here.”.

C is also the person that eventually made it possible for Leffen to come to this trip by telling AJP (the person holding the trip) that he'd have responsibility for Leffen.

This is how he thanks C. As you will se more of, he was even worse to him AFTER the trip, spreading things about him, and working very hard in real life to convince people that C was a bad person.

<http://smashboards.com/showpost.php?p=14063690&postcount=137>

good job not getting it rocky

if the only thing you did is making that PATHETIC post

then why did I hate you beforehand >_>

*for you americans: the above post is basically collection of posts from the swedish smash forum in attempt to show how horrible of a person I am. This post must have, no doubt, must have taken hours to find and compile, while at the same time, much like hax, takes every single scenario completely out of context and has massive amounts flat out lying + exaggerating a load.

example of lie:

"provoing people for 72 hours straight until they finally snap"... true story:

waiting for a plane, first day (so not even 24 hours) of genesis trip

*C(the person who snapped): Can I sit here (points where I'm currently sitting using my laptop)
me: No, my charger doesn't reach anywhere else snaps and instantly starts hitting me
lol.*

*Granted, this guy is a extremely bipolar person who refuses to take any of his prescribed medicine.
He also borrowed 2500$, destroyed AJP's computer and hasn't payed a single penny of it back, while he frequently buys very expensive computer equipment and forces us to pay for his food when he sneaks into our smashfests. The huge amount of money that he hasn't payed back is now being payed back by his (former) friend AJP, who barely has enough to buy food himself.
This is, btw, rockys mentor and very good friend.*

*btw, good job doing the classic C. "HURRDURR don't try to answer my lies because nu uh". And how would it waste your time if I shut down all of your points >_<
I don't know why you brought this up here though, seeing as how all of your posts but one were swedish*

*also, you generally spend time with your girlfriend when you're in a relationship during vday.
time that generally exceeds 1% of ones time during a day, esp if you're getting a gift* *who the * gives out valentines cards LOL.*

As you will see in C's testimony he was, indeed, harassed. He claims Rocky lies which is, again, not true.

He claims a lot of people "lie/misrepresent" what he has done. But considering how many people do this and reach to the same conclusion, it is more likely that Leffen is lying then that there would be some sort of illuminati working against him.

<http://www.smashboards.com/showpost.php?p=14395369&postcount=770>

*you know damn well that if well that I could post a LOT more * on you than you could on me so will you stop this pathetic act*

Here he threatens me to spread more personal information. What I posted about him was a prank I pulled on him ,certainly nothing personal.

<http://www.smashboards.com/showpost.php?p=13847752&postcount=21478>

lol, thats the thing

everyone wishes that I was much worse here in sweden too.

*first months of me playing:
did a top 10 list, said that the 4th (dev) wasnt that good people shouted at me, omg your just a new player, it doesnt matter how talented you are, you will NEVER beat him and he could 4 stock you in his sleep.
2-0d him next tournament.*

*and lots of
ima be top 2 when I've played a year
no omg lol
but so I was*

*and now with this yoshi thing:
omg you'll never beat ME with YOSHI.
won my 3 first tournaments with him annihilating everyone*

*sometimes I wonder what its like not to be talented, to actually suck like most ppl.
people would flame me so much more lol and I would just look like kage trying to major in physics.
but then I spew arrogant bull* over the internet 5 minutes later because I can.*

I may be cocky/confident, but im not OVERconfident. Im just exactly as arrogant, cocky and confident that I need to be to be to win and to show the truth (when debating, I dont sugar coat, at all).

*pp has also realized this lately which is why you see him be more "cocky" etc.
if you're aiming for the top, then you need to be.*

sveet. you're right. I'd never face you to begin with. I don't do amateur brackets.

Here he implies that his behavior is OK since he is good at the game. and his escalation of rudeness along with his improvement in the game confirms this.
Note that he was NOT top 2 after playing for a year. It didn't take long, but it did take longer.
This post is an excellent example of his narcissistic nature.

<http://www.smashboards.com/showpost.php?p=15290578&postcount=47>

*Hey dude I understand that I'm supposed to be nice to the mentally handicapped (is that the PC term for bipolar or whatever you are?) but you've been haranguing me for long enough now that I feel compelled to tell you that your retarded is showing. Strangers on the internet are not morally obligated to put up with your "I have no idea what's societally permissible" , and to be a troll you have to first be a little bit clever

This post is not by Leffen, the point here is that it proves how his words has caused a false impression of me, and obviously this will affect my future interactions with smashers who do not yet know me personally.

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=15119200#post15119200>

Haha, nah hes even funnier/sad irl

*he sits right behind me during most tournament matches and tries to make me choke by talking to me/ thrashtalking, constantly talks * about me on commentary (check out kfc2 teams if you want to hear it)*

*maybe next time i should just tell the TO to get him banned, considering how people want inui banned for not doing something close to as bad lmao
maybe I should just do same thing back instead, but i mean, you can't get worse than last place anyway*

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=15119562#post15119562>

Oh and I'm just saying, if you don't want to be banned, then watch it.

Here he threatens to ban me on no grounds, and lies about me sitting right behind him and talking to him during tournament matches. I have never done this.

I HAVE talked trash about him in commentary, in a jokeful manner, as I have with everyone.

<http://smashboards.com/showpost.php?p=15218102&postcount=2762>

ME: *well then get to work on your essay admitting all the * youve done to me along with your disgusting lies to take away the blame from yourself. and you will present your essay to me irl and we will talk it through.*

then i will consider forgiving you.

Here, regarding our conflict, I say that he must admit everything he's done to me publicly and ask for forgiveness. This is more than reasonable, to say the least.

Then he simply tells me to fuck off:

<http://smashboards.com/showpost.php?p=15218165&postcount=2767>

*also * off then mikhaggar, just leave my friends alone, idgaf if you talk * to me but leave others out of your obsession*

The thing about friends was me getting upset about him being invited a new years smashfest, and I expressed that it made me feel like shit for good reasons. This is the aforementioned group of people that he befriended to get to me. He's very manipulative and has managed to make me out as the bad guy in this drama, because they know nothing of what he has done, and has made a huge deal out of this prank that I posted online (again, after he posted lies about me). This obviously made me very upset.

<http://www.smashboards.com/showpost.php?p=14394542&postcount=764>

"Watching my random top tiers (my cf/sheik iirc) along with MacD's Peach and Nikos Marth get raped by Hbox's ness was one of the best smash moments ever. I've rarely been so impressed.

I'm proud to say Hbox raped me with Ness. Does anyone know if there are vids? I know it was streamed...

I consider myself to be ranked 3-8th in europe atm. I'll be #1 soon enough.

I have a ~6-1 record against both Pepito and IVP during the last year. "Often", lol.

@Mikehaggar. Wanna know something funny about Mikehaggar? Mikehaggar sucks. Mikehaggar places last in teams not winning a game. Mikehaggar misses his trains to tournaments and when he has no other way to escape getting raped in pools by my Yoshi he burns himself on a PAPRIKA (that he heated up himself).

Mikehaggar burnt himself on a paprika so bad that he had to leave the tournament and his dad had to get his things.

I still can't stop laughing when I think about it

LOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOLLLLLL”

Virtually everything negative he has said about me in these posts is a lie. Again you can ask ANY swedish smasher from my area (Gothenburg) about this. Many of Leffens lies have reached through to smashers in his area, causing undeserved dislike towards me.

You may disregard because it is in a forum, but this will affect the opinion and perception of me from people that I have and will meet in real life.

When it comes to the spreading of information and lies, I am certain he has done it irl aswell. I've noticed this because of the changing attitudes of people towards me. It feels horrible to have your friends think differently of you because of lies.

When I was in my first to second year in gymnasiet (swedish equivalent of high school) I was clearly at the bottom of the totem pole. I wouldn't say I was bullied, but people were very mean to me for no reason. I was once pushed into a wall for absolutely no reason at the end of a basketball game and nobody cared.

Nothing that those people did to me can compare to how Leffen has hurt me (Even if you count everything all 20 or so people did together).

I can't explain how terrible it feels to have someone with such an extreme vendetta towards you, changing the opinion about me (and anyone else he dislikes) of people that I love. This has lead me to skip tournaments just minutes away from my home, lose all my competitive motivation (his constant derogatory comments about me and my skill eventually got to me). I've never gone to a tournament in the USA because I wouldn't be able to stand a long trip with this atrocious human being. All the stress of this puts me in the risk of getting sick again, and I increased my medication to avoid this, giving me bad side-effects, but I can't risk getting sick again (which is way worse then the side effects).

You might wonder why this has gone on for so long.

Believe it or not, this is just the tip of the iceberg, even if you just look at what he has done to me alone. I spent maybe 2 hours to find and gather these posts, since he posts this stuff so much it's very easy to find. I didn't even look through his posting history, I just googled quotes from things he's said that I remembered.

It is completely unrealistic to include everything as the amount of abuse is so absurdly big. (and how rude he has been in real life, which is in my opinion, worse).

Not to mention one of medications I take for my recurring depressions makes my memory worse (which I've been forced to increase due to the stress that Leffen has put me through), there's no doubt I've missed a lot of things. The examples of lies to make himself seem like a better person and player are countless. Many of them are silly, like claiming Armada has played more Project Melee (a Brawl mod) then he has, but since they are so constant it is still significant.

The lies reported here are only the ones I have evidence for. He has said many other things to me that I am very certain are lies, but I unfortunately don't have evidence for it.

When the ban was set in Sweden, Leffen showed NO regret. Instead, he as always attacked others (such as myself), calling other people in the scene false and my existence sad, claiming our scene was doomed, claiming I like drama (if I did, I wouldn't want to ban him), and more.

He demanded proof for him freezing out people of conversations in real life (as if it would've been recorded?) and other things we actually did have proof for (such as when he implied that I take LSD, recorded on twitch archives). These are things normal people would admit and ask for forgiveness for out of their conscience. He lied and claimed that he had tried to contact me since then when in reality he had blocked me from facebook and ignored a message I left on his phone (where I simply told him not to give my friends any undeserved crap for this). He has made NO effort to contact me anywhere whatsoever.

Leffen is a chronic liar and narcissist to a sick degree. This person is ripping apart my social life, other peoples social life, and the entire smashscene, even internationally, as you will see in other testimonies. He's ambitious in destroying peoples lives, demoralizing new and old players alike, to the degree of making people quit.

This is not only justice, it is a necessity. Please help us.

-Karl Johan Bohlin

[2] Nicklas Ringberger (Rocky)'s Testimony

What do I have against leffen and why should he be banned from tournaments? Definitely not something that can be answered in a single sentence.

Let me tell you a little about myself. At 5, I more or less completely lost my hearing. This led to me receiving special implants that I use like hearing aids to hear with. Despite this disability I still manage to lead a normal life, never needing any assistance in school, etc. However, I obviously have a harder time following speech than "normal" people; something that has resulted in a few humorous situations at tournaments or during trips to/from tournaments. Most fellow swedish smashers take this well, making jokes about it (which I am and have always been in on) and respecting me as a person regardless of me being disabled or not.

Leffen however, despite never having gotten into trouble because of me misunderstanding something, has on repeated occasions gone out of his way to paint me as a retard who without fail will ruin trips. (1, 2, 3, 4, 5) The way he has mistreated me for my disability is the worst any human being has treated me in my life. You cannot even make a case for him having joked with me, as there's such a huge difference between what jokes me and my friends have come up with, and what leffen's said, in regards to both tone and degree. He has not only belittled me, he's also spoken for me a bunch of times when I've been spoken to by others, interrupting my response and telling the other party that "He obviously doesn't hear/understand you dude" and even outright shutting me out of conversations. He's even called me "socially disabled" once. (21) I have on different occasions asked leffen, both online and in person, directly and via mutual friends, to stop treating me like this since I was feeling horrible about it. All of these attempts to make him cease his acting have been fruitless and I've been foolish enough to keep trying through all the years I've known leffen.

Related to the problems that my hearing disability causes: Two of my worst mishaps were during visits to two different tourneys, Berlin Calling (Germany) and Smash Needs You (UK). At Berlin Calling I accidentally got away from the rest of the group on the way home and had to travel to the airport alone (still making the plane). Smash Needs You had me not realize that we were short on time, making me (and a few swedish smashers, IVP, AJP_Anton and C, who didn't want to leave me behind) miss the train to the airport. It still worked out when we were let on the next train, however. The important thing about these 2 events is that LEFFEN WAS NOT PRESENT AT EITHER TOURNAMENT.

Leffen has also worked to exclude me from the smash community to the highest degree possible. In the summer of 2011, he manipulates a mutual friend of ours into no longer inviting me to smashfests. (7) Later that year, APEX 2012 is announced, and after a while, people on the swedish smashboards are discussing the tournament. I am one of the first to say "I'm in." Leffen does everything in his might to exclude me from the preliminary planning, citing my 2 previous major mishaps (which he once again, did not experience in person, and more than a year had passed since the most recent one) as reasons for why I should be banned from going, but to no avail. In an attempt to further justify preventing me from going, he states that none of the other people interested in going want to have me come along and that the entirety of the community hates me (both statements are later exposed as lies). (1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 8) Nevertheless, I eventually find and book cheap plane tickets for me, Armada, Hack and Zoler after the 4 of us had discussed it together. A few days later, leffen PMs me on Facebook completely out of the blue, acting like we've been friends for an eternity and asking me to book his plane ticket for him. Considering how he's treated me up to this point, I decide to tell him I won't book his ticket for him, but I do link the site I used to do the bookings and tell him exactly what to do to book the same flights as ours.

His response is "Ok, if you want it that way. It's not like I eventually said OK to you coming along for APEX even though I didn't need to at all, I could just as well have told the others to diss you." He wraps it up by saying "Good luck going to the upcoming tourneys in Norway/Finland unless you arrange your own trip there since I alone completely decide who gets to travel in the car."

I decide to go to the tournament in Norway anyway, taking the train to get there. Leffen here intentionally disturbs me during a tournament set by sitting next to me and trashtalking me/making noises in my ear.

Later during the fall, people are discussing taking the ferry over to Finland for the tournament there. Leffen decides to strike again, this time outright banning me from taking the trip (he saw himself fit to do this as we were going to use his dad's car to drive people to and from the ferry), even though the majority of the people going voice their opinions against it. (9)

As we're finalizing our APEX planning, we've decided to split up into 2 rooms since King Funk, a danish smasher, had booked one and wanted our company. Despite a lot of ifs and buts we eventually agree on having Leffen/Zoler/King Funk in one room and me/Hack/Armada in another so that everyone in each room can get along and sleep comfortably. This part becomes important later.

The trip itself goes well for the first days, as we don't see leffen at all (for some reason, he booked different flights even though I'd more or less laid the ones we took out for him). We have a blast mingling with the US smashers and hype ourselves up for a good tournament. At the tourney, however, leffen goes against all the plans we made by leaving King Funk alone in his hotel room, and he steals Hack's bed spot in the process. He then spends the evening ripping on every word I say. At this point the mood is so tense I eventually leave the room to cool down.

As day 2 breaks I'm more than fed up with sharing beds with leffen in a room that I'd lent money from my parents for, so I kick him (and Zoler, who had been giving me a lot of shit the previous night) out of the room, telling them to go to the one King Funk is in like we originally planned. So much for that tournament experience. Paying about $1500 to go to the US together with leffen is honestly the one decision I've made in my life that I regret the most. It was like getting lung cancer after spending a long ass time fighting tuberculosis.

Leffens actions against me are quite numerous and malicious, as can be seen. However, they're part of a repetitive behavior and he's caused suffering for far more smashers than just myself.

Other things he's done include spreading false rumors about people and telling people's personal information to others, something smashers like MikeHaggard and C have fallen victim to. He also lies to make himself seem better or as being on the right side, and his lies have on multiple occasions caused other smashers to become angry with each other. In some cases he's even manipulated people into hating each other. (10, 11, 12, 13, 14)

He has poor sportsmanship, exemplified by him once making himself responsible for bracket manipulation when he decided to play Mario and G&W, both of which he randomed, in a pools set that he would with 99% certainty have won with his mains. His loss in this set screwed another player named Isa over so that he didn't make bracket, and leffen's response to this Isa's frustration was that he was immature in his nerd raging. (15, 16)

In the same vein, he's a dreadful TO. At the aforementioned tournament where he went Mario/G&W in pools, he was one of the TO:s. When over 1000 SEK (an amount equal to $150) was stolen from the pot due to it being left unattended in the open, he tries to blame Isa, who despite not being a TO in any way had helped out tremendously with the organisation of the event, for it happening since Isa had not been watching over the money. (16) At this tourney he also paired together two players without the consent of one of them, leading to that player's usual team mate getting screwed over. When this player confronts leffen online about it later, leffen insults him and never apologizes. (17, 18, 19, 20) Also worthy of mention is how there were many completely new players at this tournament; none/few of them ever came back, presumably due to what had happened at the tournament.

Another disaster occurred when he was hosting Gamer's Meetup, a fairly large tournament that was sponsored. Despite the winners following his instructions by sending him their paypal information, no money was paid out. Only 6 months later would Armada, after having inquired about the prize money on repeated occasions, receive the money, with leffen telling him that it had been Armada's responsibility to make sure he got his money.

V3ctorman, prominent Yoshi player and known in the community for his kind and humble demeanor, has probably been leffen's primary target in the American community. This is despite V3ctorman never having done anything to leffen aside from being a fellow Yoshi user. Several times, leffen has blatantly insulted V3ctorman as both a player and a person and made several displays of not respecting his fellow Yoshi players at all. (24, 25, 26, 27, 28) He also has an elitist attitude and has even on repeated occasions said he doesn't regard someone's opinion because they're a "mid-level player." (29, 30, 31, 32)

Over 6 months ago there was actually talk about banning leffen from swedish tournaments, and following yet another scene of leffen treating people like shit, Armada, me, and some other smashers collaborated to post an ultimatum: change your behavior or get banned from future tournaments. Time passes and he refuses to change, taunting our threat and claiming that it "would not happen in a million years." (33, 34)

This threat was however not a bluff in the slightest and Lolex, VJ and Armada, Sweden's 3 major TOs have as of today banned him from all of their tournaments for at least a year. Following the announcement of his Swedish ban, leffen has done the most disrespectful and despicable thing in doing everything in his might to manipulate people into being against the ban or lifting it. He has displayed disrespect for the ban and the people arranging it by doing the following: - Claimed that nobody had spoken to him about the ban in advance (despite having been warned 6 months ago, and reminded of this warning on several occasions)

- Demanded examples and evidence for the behavior that got him banned, then when presented with such making excuses, claiming that things were misunderstandings and saying that "it's not like X person HAS to play me in friendlies or not tell me to stop." In all of these cases, there's been no hint of him wanting to apologize.
- Called the Swedish community "fake" and "doomed", saying that he doesn't want to attend any more Swedish tournaments. Despite this, he has desperately argued for the ban to be changed into an ultimatum or even for it to be lifted.
- Made twitter posts where he says that he wants to give people advice and critique, and then citing them as "evidence" for him having changed.
- Cast blame on the people who banned him that they didn't help him better himself, even though they'd given him lots of advice and pointers in the past.
- Tried to contact several smashers, both his victims and those who stand behind his ban, saying that things are either misunderstandings or falsified information. These acts are clear displays of him trying to go to extreme lengths in order to manipulate people.
- Denied many of the points made, showing blatant unbelievable disrespect for the people he has hurt.
- Lied about making a public apology/statement. Initially he was going to do one within the day, then he decided not to as "there would be no reason to bring this up again in a year's time."

This further proves that leffen cannot be reasoned with. Even prior to the ban he has on multiple occasions lied about trying to better himself, along with asking a person for forgiveness and then treating them in the exact same manner a day or so later.

Several smashers have stated that they don't want to stay in the same room as leffen. Me and MikeHaggar are for example more or less set on not attending Genesis 3/EVO if leffen goes, and the same applies to swedish tournaments as we don't wish to endure his presence any more. His presence in the smash community has made me and other players less motivated to attend tourneys which proves that he will either directly or indirectly affect the Genesis 3/EVO experience negatively for many smashers.

Conclusively, leffen has given me and numerous others a hard time during his stay in the community, on repeated occasions proving himself to be a chronic liar, a bully and generally a despicable person who only regards his own well-being. With this, I wholeheartedly vouch for him being banned and was one of those who originally came up with the idea as there is no doubt in my mind that the smash community is better off without him.

Sources:

Much of the stuff said in this testimony can be backed up either by the testimonies of others or posts on smashboards/the Swedish smash forums. While there's also a compendium of all of his offensive posts on the swedish boards, I've put some of the links here as well in order to show their relevance to my testimony:

(1) <http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=80444#p80444><http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=80444#p80444> Aug 28/2011 – apex part 2

"So like I said, who's up for going to the US a little earlier?"

And is there ANYBODY who can consider carrying rocky on his back during the trip?"

(2) <http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=80466#p80466><http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=80466#p80466> Aug 29/2011 – apex part 3

"A leash is better, then you can tie him [Rocky] outside of stores/the tourney and avoid fuckups that way."

(3) <http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=80533#p80533><http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=80533#p80533> Aug 31/2011 – apex part 4

"@VJ

Yes, I'm 100% serious. I'm not considering going with Rocky due to general retardness + extreme travel fuckups that I'm not gonna stand if I pay 4,5K SEK for a trip. Everybody I've spoken to has expressed similar thoughts.

I guess the sad thing is that Rocky has such poor self-awareness that he hasn't realized it himself."

(4) <http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=80544#p80544><http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=80544#p80544> Aug 31/2011 – apex part 5

"It really isn't like I clearly wrote that I don't even WANT all the fucking problems/retardness that Rocky creates, even if I could "handle" them.

I like how you keep talking even though you're not going, btw, is Rocky talking with you on msn or what lol."

(5) <http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=81509#p81509><http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=81509#p81509> Oct 02/2011 – apex part 8

"I've gotten a buddy pass (saving 3k SEK is pretty nice) so I'll be flying solo.

Arriving/leaving on the same day would still be nice, though!

+ if anybody wants to be housed with/get a hotel room/play parent for Rocky, mention it asap. I think it'll be better for everyone if we split up as of now. Radde? Armada?"

(6) <http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=77641#p77641><http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=77641#p77641> Jun 08/2011 – General raging at Rocky

"I fucking agree, when one's trying to push others down and point out their failures that they obviously cannot do anything about just to make his "buddies" (the ones you're fellating and think like you) and himself to feel better, it's fucking bad.

Epecially bad is it when one never can realize that it's oneself that's at fault, not taking any responsibility and just pushes others down to seem less bad oneself, didn't you say it like that?

When one points out things just to point them out, despite not knowing whether they're true or not, one's really evil, don't you agree?

[Shoutout from Rocky: Leffen: Good stuff leaving your wallet in plain sight inside Jack's car, resulting in it getting smashed to bits, and then forcing Jack to sit in front and cover the broken window the whole way home (after which Jack gets a killer cold). Bonus points for not either offering to pay the reparation/insurance fees! I also hope you feel satisfied with getting 2nd at a tourney where just about everyone outside of the top 2 had broken controllers or played shitty!]

If you didn't realize, this was the reason for my "flame" post you fucking hypocrite LMFAO.

Edit:

this will most likely be responded to with another meaningless picture/video/smiley in a desperate attempt to attempt to laugh yourself out of your fuck up ^earlier written in size 0

sorry but it's fucking done now"

(7) <http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=77709#p77709><http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=77709#p77709> Jun 09/2011 - Rkey, having been manipulated into not inviting Rocky to any more of his smashfests

"So to me it's like this, I'd really like Rocky to come but I feel like neither leffen nor Nizro would be able to stand it atm.

This sucks, Rocky =(Can we hang out in the weekend?"

(8) <http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=80552#p80552><http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=80552#p80552> Aug 31/2011 – apex part 6

"[Rocky: I understand that you're a very sensitive person regarding making a fool out of yourself or having flaws.]

Name reasons/examples plx.

[Rocky: however i can't grasp why you consider it necessary to talk about how i "always" fuck up when you haven't been on any of the trips that i've actually really blown it on (while these trips also took place more than a year ago (SNY)]

I consider it necessary because i don't want anything to do with it + that I don't like you as a person and you obv don't like me.

[Rocky: As far as I know you seldom have enough spine to complain about the people to their faces when you see them, rather letting the majority of it manifest itself as pure back talk]

Yeah, you sure do have a lot of information about this. I really didn't complain about C AT ALL at Genesis 2. Yep. Btw, I wonder what you have to say about the impending lawsuit against your god (C).

[Rocky: the only thing this is doing to the smash community (which, by the way, is turning into a sports club) is create drama and segregation. I don't get how people can keep doing that stuff, we're a community for a fucking video game, if somebody annoys you either shut up or grab the bull by its horns and talk to the person in question.]

LMFAO

Yeah, it's just me talking shit over the internet but not saying a SHIT irl.

Now let's see:

http://smashfonticulus.ecommunity.se/vi ... sc&start=0

The classic.

[Rocky: Leffen: Good stuff leaving your wallet in plain sight inside Jack's car, resulting in it getting smashed to bits, and then forcing Jack to sit in front and cover the broken window the whole way home (after which Jack gets a killer cold). Bonus points for not either offering to pay the reparation/insurance fees! I also hope you feel satisfied with getting 2nd at a tourney where just about everyone outside of the top 2 had broken controllers or played shitty!]

[Rocky: leffen, can't you like, break the brakes on the RV or something? That way you'll be rid of this idiotic, unnecessary road trip so that you instead can hitchhike to the nearest tourney! (Because we all know smash was the point of the trip for you)]

HYPOCRITE.

1. I don't talk shit about you, I'm just asking if somebody's planning to play parent to you during this trip.

Radde was the one who brought the shit up several times (after I'd said I was wrong), not me.

C is a fucking bi-polar retard. That's it.

[Rocky: my advice to you is to learn to become more tolerant and try to be more distanced to your self and others]

See the above quote. Lmfao.

The ONLY reason you want me to not say shit/be more tolerant is so that you can go to Apex when in actuality everyone doesn't stand you. Out of EVERY person that I've talked to about the Apex trip, NOBODY has wanted to book tickets with you going (and just like earlier in this thread when I've asked if somebody want's to act as your parent, nobody wants to, obviously). And yes, people have said that they want me to come.

Tl;dr

I hate you, you obviously hate me/are jealous, you're a hypocrite, you say all of this so that you can come along and I'm never going to go with a "regger" again after having lived with C for 2 weeks.

EDIT: You're free to contact me via PM or similar but don't think I'm gonna change anything, lol."

(9) <http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=82609#p82609><http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=82609#p82609> Oct 25/2011 – bans Rocky from trip to Finland

"I'm the one arranging the trip.

If I don't go due to for example not being able to afford it, nobody's going as of now.

Even if Rocky had paid me 10 hours before I'd made my post I wouldn't have given a shit about it. This is something Rocky (recently) has indebted himself to me for and he's only got himself to blame. Rocky isn't going and that's the end of it. Anybody who has a problem with it doesn't need to go."

(10) <http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=68895#p68895><http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=68895#p68895> Feb 17/2011 – Lies about not having talked shit about Rocky

"Regarding Rocky:

Srsly, nedech/rkey who think I'm looking down on rocky. Fuck off.

I was the only one who played with and didn't complain about him (yes Rkey, you included) during the time that the so called hate was at its worst.

Insanely many have brought up his mishaps/etc, C, Rkey, UGS, Nizro, IVP, hara, radde and so on. Agreeing with some statements does not make me one of them, the only back talk I've made regarding rocky was about him trying to blame what people had done towards him on others which is an extremely annoying and idiotic quality.

I'm pretty sure that the scanians and the people trying to prove that the so called "hate" is unjustified have also felt this.

People who say that Rocky is bad refuse to realize the truth and it's been a really long time since I heard anybody talking about it. People who feel that he's annoying to be around have a subjective opinion that I and apparently many others share at times.

@Why does he even go to tourneys: I don't fucking know it either, why would you go if you feel hated by the community."

(11) <http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?f=5&t=946&p=91086#p91086><http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?f=5&t=946&p=91086#p91086> Jul 30/2012 – Threatens to spread "much worse shit"

"I'd drank 6 7% ciders and I said before taking the 'shot' that I didn't want any more because I felt like vomiting :0

Besides, I started asking around about what it had been since I hadn't been feeling anything (even though they [Mikehaggar/IVP] said it would come xD) and that's what led to Zoler telling me lol (when he told Armada, I already knew)

Mike, it's fucking pathetic that you're going to repeat and over-hype exactly everything Wouldn't have a problem spreading much worse shit but I'd rather we cease the shit-flinging."

(12) <http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=91096#p91096><http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=91096#p91096> Jul 30/2012 - "I'm going to better myself from now on (at least if you do the same thing :>)"

"@O. No, you're talking about the wrong night. This was the 3rd.

@Armada. I won't keep putting my word vs yours, but I don't think it was like that, but w/e. I'd bought 7 ciders, you got one of them and then I shared about ½ of a can with Zoler/Gamba. I probably acted more drunk, but I'd been drinking cider before/after taking the shot and had just drank a whole lot before that when i was playing P:M. Considering how furious you became when i posted something (that you also interpreted completely wrong), it's funny that you point it out, Mike >_> whatever, if people want to keep dwelling on this feel free. I'm not saying it wasn't a good prank, but putting it up here, on facebook and smashboards after i'd asked you to stop Mike fucking makes me want to put up a lot of overstatements about how mentally unstable you are, that you've been hospitalized and eat a lot of pills and blablabla but like i said, I'd rather just see us quitting this and removing everything. I'd rather also do this with Rocky from now on. Sorry Rocky/Mike for how I've acted before, I'm going to better myself from now on (at least if you do the same thing :>) edit: wrote this before rocky's new post. If you want to continue, Rocky, go on, I can see how you think I deserve it since it quite indeed was I who began (or well, the whole stockholm region, but I was a part of it), but I'm at least going to stop and ask for forgiveness rather than continuing.

If Mike/Rocky want a personal chat about this, please msg me on FB”

(13) <http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=91107#p91107><http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=91107#p91107> Jul 31/2012 – Tries to blame others regarding treatment of Rocky when confronted

”uh, tldr because explaining what actually happened during the 'stockholm hate' isn't very interesting for this discussion.

Nizro began all the hate, like Yuna began all the hating on Ying. Everybody including me wondered why. After a couple of smashfests/tourneys more and more started realizing the truth in what he'd said. The shit talk went around and EVERYBODY was doing it on different occasions. I've heard/seen from AJP/Jack that you thought that they were the only ones who weren't flinging shit at oyu, and that you because of this constantly msn'ed them about completely random shit, and this was the source of a lot of laughing since it wasn't true in the slightest. Same goes for C, he was perhaps the one who talked the most shit about you out of everyone, and told a whole lot about random meetups/msn convos even during your ”regg-period”. Heard some similar stuff about a few others but you get the point. Only thing is, the only people who were actually heard were me/pepito/nizro, because nobody, no matter how much shit they talked behind your back, wanted to say anything to your face. So, and now, I'd like to hear why you wanted this publicly, because I feel like it's not something I want.”

(14) <http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=91123#p91123><http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=91123#p91123> Jul 31/2012 – Wants to apologize - on his own terms

”The stuff about the 80% apple juice i can take back since I was very drunk and if anything I guess i'm just recalling it wrong.

”this is how i remember it” is always what you say when telling something >_> I also find it dumb to squabble about a point that i don't even care about, people can think that i got extremely fooled if they want to, but i still found my version of it worthy of being put up since it didn't resemble Mike's version at all.

Not going to comment the MikeHaggar thing since I've already (at least tried to) talk with him personally. The reason I'd prefer the shitflinging to end is because it's fucking hard for me to change myself (which i quite indeed need) when others are throwing shit my way. Whatever, I'll stop defending myself then, I see your point.

Am sorry about how I acted during the Mario Party 5 game if I haven't said it enough, if there's anything else you're free to bring it up (i'd rather it be on FB or similar, since it's much faster and as far fewer misunderstandings)

@Rocky: I still want to apologize, but you gotta meet me halfway >_> and true on the other bit.”

(15) <http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=84110#p84110><http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=84110#p84110> Nov 19/2011 – Isa vs Leffen part 1 – Isa's post
"leffen is a swine.

Pools in the singles tournament: me, leffen, lootic and another guy who everyone beat. Leffen 2-0s med with Fox and then goes and plays Mario, Mario, and GaW, all 3 of which he randomed, against lootic and loses the set 1-2. I face lootic and beat him 2-1 after three very long games (i timed him out game 1), but I still don't make it out since leffen didn't give a shit about playing seriously vs lootic.

Then, the bitch has the NERVE to tell Nizro to play seriously. I tell him to shut up and he responds with "at least I paid entry."

Apparently you get the right to be a fucking swine and not give a shit about others as long as you pay 50 SEK (which you then get back when you win the tourney). This would've been the first time I'd made bracket but now I didn't.

It wasn't exactly like leffen didn't knew what it'd lead to anyway, since I was screaming about it during his set against lootic.

I'm so fucking angry and frustrated.

I'm quitting the smash playing until January, when I'm going to Gothenburg to see Lolex and other people. I don't fucking know if I'll be playing any more after that, but atm I'm SICKENINGLY tired of everything Melee and the community surrounding it mean."

(16) <http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=84137#p84137><http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=84137#p84137> Nov 20/2011 – Isa vs Leffen part 2 – Leffen's post

"@Isa: "I wasn't a TO." You had spoken to Alex, set a time for the event, you asked people who they'd be teaming with (WITHOUT ME SAYING ANYTHING). Since you'd wanted to host a tourney and taken so much initiative yourself I assumed that you wanted to join in as a TO.

I don't give a shit if you didn't officially sign up as a TO, but everyone viewed you as that and you acted like one. You called pools and bracket, you made the pools and when Alex was asked about who the TO:s were he said 'Leffen, the one in the hat (you) and Jack'.

I didn't sign up as a TO, i didn't talk to Alex directly and even still every fucker knows I was one of the hosts BECAUSE I ACTED LIKE ONE. Did ANYONE view Jack as a TO, even though he was 'official'? If you do as much as you did people will assume you're a TO and trust you. You were much more "officially a TO" than I was (I made the thread when I was talking with Jack because he was busy).

@The pools shit:

First and foremost, you had the BY FAR easiest pool. (2 made it out, in the others it was Beat/Pep, Masterkai/AJP, Nizro/PO while our pool had me, emvald (a complete newbie), lootic and you). I didn't check the pools at all after you'd changed them and I would doubtlessly have asked for a change if I'd seen them before you called them.

Then, it was like this: I didn't try EVEN. IN. THE. SLIGHTEST. BIT. Against you, even though I was playing Fox (you know this, why the fuck do you think you had the lead on several occasions, no offense). I felt it wasn't fun at all to play like that and it made me realize I'd rather have fun than win.

When I played Lootic I went random because it made it hype, lots of people watched the set because it was more interesting than all the other fucking sets in the room. You yourself cheered for Lootic before you realized his victory would hurt you. That you then began to whine like hell during the set I've heard later on, but I didn't listen to it at all, I was enjoying my set.

I was trying to beat lootic to a much higher degree than I did vs you, even though I was playing a "low tier" (MARIO IS BETTER THAN LINK). I lost in the end and when I realized it COULD hurt your performance I said sorry (I did this twice, btw, on both occasions you didn't give a shit). I would, completely honestly, probably not have played "other characters", had you played each other first.

I did NOT pull a Nizro, who intentionally got himself a low seeding to own as many as possible in the bracket (terebi). I didn't do it to put myself above anybody, or to own anyone. I did it in order to see if I could win with random which to me is fun. I asked Nizro to play seriously in bracket because he was playing Pichu vs Masterkai because he hadn't paid any entry fee. I paid his entry for him to play seriously and right then we knew money was missing (before any of the pot was stolen).

@your reaction

CHILL. WITH. THE. NERD. RAGE.

Everybody gets that you're disappointed, but seriously. You went around the whole room, screaming about what's happened and that I was a swine for a fucking hour. You went and kicked me for 2 minutes when I was playing...

That you'd been acting like a TO earlier made your acting like a 5 y o much worse, under no circumstances should you give outsiders such an immature and childish impression of the smash community, especially as a TO.

I know you think making bracket is an extremely big deal but have you said anybody else whine as much as yourself when they've gotten gayed out of it, regardless of the reason? No, exactly.

I went Yoshi in bracket and lost 1 game vs AJP and was generally closer to losing than I might've been had I gone Fox/Falco. If I'd lost I would've knocked Nizro out earlier, for example, but not one fucker would've complained about it.

@the theft.

It was supposed to be 1800SEK but instead it was 600 fucking SEK at the end of it. The money was in the cafeteria the whole time, until I took them out to give them to O/Aniolas who needed to leave (after that, ca 1000 SEK was left!). Me and AJP then went to play our games and we left the money out in the open, but I assumed it was safe because you were sitting by the computer the whole time. Then, you left without saying a shit (while I was playing a tourney game, btw) and left the money completely unguarded and I'm 99% sure that's when the money went missing.

Anyway it's happened now and that's that.

Read from here if you're not Isa or have a strange need to understand why nerd rage occurred. IF YOU KNOW THAT YOU HAVEN'T PAID ENTRY, POST HERE PLOX (i know 99% will just lie but still)

Anyway, until next time!

1. You sign up and pay simultaneously, no exceptions.

Jinzo and Rocky being fail enough to stall the tourney and still not find a fucking ATM or head into 7-Eleven is not something I'll give a fuck about. You pay singles and teams at the same time and if you have to leave, you have to leave. I won't let anybody get their money back just because their planning sucks (which also ruins the tourney along with making it much easier for money to get stolen/lost)

I honestly didn't believe that Isa was giving any money back (at least, he didn't tell me), but it won't be allowed.

2. I'm a fucking official TO and talk to Alex personally. Jack had missed several facebook meetings, Alex didn't know the tourney was on until 2 days before (causing a double booking...). Isa will also probably not be a TO again due to him being mad at me + his mood not working as a TO. Jack/AJP/somebody else will probably help out but I'm at least going to arrange everything. The tourney was overall really nice imho except the money/Isa incidents.

Blergh, now that's off my chest.

BTW, I don't give a SHIT about what people who were not present and just assuming think."

(17) <http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?f=14&t=1189&p=84196#p84196>
<http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?f=14&t=1189&p=84196#p84196> Nov 20/2011 – Leffen vs Jinzo

"okejji nzo iunder standdd"

(18) <http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=84217#p84217>
<http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=84217#p84217> Nov 21/2011 - Leffen vs Jinzo 2

"uh. Wtf.

You're not making any sense.

I put Masterkai and Nizro together because they agreed on teaming and nobody said no afterwards AND they finished the tourney... YOU WEREN'T EVEN THERE THEN, because you were late.

I don't understand your last sentence. I paid Nizro's entry and how is that unfair.

You played both teams and singles, why should I ow you money? Think a little, plx.

@Isa: Yellow Card/Red Card rules don't work. Period. There's been a ridiculous amount of bickering and it's completely illogically used in the brawl community (it's gotten hella negative feedback and when M2K got banned the URC changed the rules to allow him to come, etc...)

This is even worse for us to use since we don't have control over other melee tourneys (unity ban has it in brawl), and because it's a small, relatively non-serious tournament. If it's to be changed, the major tourneys need to change it first (BEAST 3 etc).

I do however think it's extremely shitty overall to ban people because they don't play to win. It would for example ban me from all tourneys ever since i play Yoshi...

It just isn't applicable. Should you ban people not using their mains? LOL.

Should you ban people who lose with low tiers? LOL

If you're going to separate players' characters, say if Lootic also played fox and lost it's cool, but if he loses with Link, it isn't.

If people want to do walkovers they can just as well use high tiers (such as what happened at BEAST1), you can just play on a lower level (like I did vs you for example...)

For you to be able to ban somebody you in other words have to say "If you lose to somebody with a lower seed, regardless of character, you're banned". You can also alternatively say that it's up to the TO to decide which only leads to a lot of bias about the players (for example you thinking my mario/gaw MUST be worse decisions for victory), which doesn't work + I'm a TO and would never allow somebody to be banned for not playing seriously."

(19) <http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=84227#p84227><http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=84227#p84227> Nov 21/2011 – Leffen vs Jinzo 3

"So you mean that you have to play just as well vs everybody? If you try less in a pool game because of it being pools = ban. In other words, 99% of the community are worthy of being banned since they don't take every game as seriously.

You can't demand that people shall perform as well vs everyone, it doesn't work lol. I could just as well have went Fox and lost because I didn't know the Link MU. 'oh but i don't know how to beat link' → BAN RIGHT AWAY

With that way of thinking you have to ban Hack for "letting" Ice make it further at Beast1 because he doesn't use Kirby as much as I play Mario.

Worthy of mention is that I also got a first seed going into bracket, just like my pool seed. But as you say, you really can't do anything about it and nothing should be done about it when it's about locals.

@Jinzo: I asked SEVERAL TIMES, and nobody said a shit afterwards either. The bracket was done before you arrived, we threw you in at the last minute and we didn't have time to redo the brackets. When you'd finally came, 2 teams had already played their first set, but I guess I'll have to assume you didn't understand that.

Blame yourself, you played in the tourney (YOU AGREED ON TEAMING WITH ROCKY). You were late. You, nor Masterkai, didn't say anything about changing the teams. And you would, completely honestly, never ever had gotten even close to the same placing as the one Masterkai/Nizro got had you teamed with Masterkai.

Could you please stop acting like a handicapped jelly lump for fuck's sake, please, learn to spell."

(20) <http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=84231#p84231><http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=84231#p84231> Nov 21/2011 – Leffen vs Jinzo 4

"Maybe he [MasterKai] didn't understand when I asked, but he had a lot of time to call me on it and so did you.

It doesn't matter if I'd asked him or I'm lying to you, you played with rocky, you entered the tourney and that's what you paid for. With you paying you had the chance to win money, and you were apparently competing for money when you were teaming with Rocky.

The fact that you don't get this is pretty mindblowing tbh.

If you don't like my personality, you're going to "make up" by taking your money back? How the fuck are you thinking? What exact part of my personality being bad is helped by you taking back your money.

I honestly don't understand why I'm asking, I know I'm just going to receive yet another impossible to understand response."

(21) <http://www.smashboards.com/showpost.php?p=14063048&postcount=123>
<http://www.smashboards.com/showpost.php?p=14063048&postcount=123>

(22) <http://www.smashboards.com/showpost.php?p=14063342&postcount=126>
<http://www.smashboards.com/showpost.php?p=14063342&postcount=126>

(23) <http://www.smashboards.com/showpost.php?p=14241222&postcount=257>
<http://www.smashboards.com/showpost.php?p=14241222&postcount=257>

(24) <http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=15275479#post15275479>
<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=15275479#post15275479>

(25) <http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=15096977#post15096977>
<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=15096977#post15096977>

(26) <http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=15008424#post15008424>
<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=15008424#post15008424>

(27) <http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=15009740#post15009740>
<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=15009740#post15009740>

(28) <http://www.smashboards.com/showpost.php?p=15286645&postcount=13278>
<http://www.smashboards.com/showpost.php?p=15286645&postcount=13278>

(29) <http://www.smashboards.com/showpost.php?p=15287020&postcount=13294>
<http://www.smashboards.com/showpost.php?p=15287020&postcount=13294>

(30) <http://www.smashboards.com/showpost.php?p=15287195&postcount=13300>
<http://www.smashboards.com/showpost.php?p=15287195&postcount=13300>

(31) <http://www.smashboards.com/showpost.php?p=15287225&postcount=13302>
<http://www.smashboards.com/showpost.php?p=15287225&postcount=13302>

(32) <http://www.smashboards.com/showpost.php?p=15287282&postcount=13304>
<http://www.smashboards.com/showpost.php?p=15287282&postcount=13304>

(33) <http://www.smashboards.com/showpost.php?p=14903723&postcount=22>
<http://www.smashboards.com/showpost.php?p=14903723&postcount=22>

(34) <http://www.smashboards.com/showpost.php?p=15119053&postcount=27930>
<http://www.smashboards.com/showpost.php?p=15119053&postcount=27930>

[3] Calle Strandberg (C)'s Testimony

Who are you?

Hello there Mr. Tournament Host! I'm C A.K.A "the crazy Swedish dude that everyone needs to be vary of", formerly/locally known as "Sparken"

I believe people consider me to be one of the pioneers of the Swedish smash community, which has a lot of its foundation to thank for by its predecessor "N-Next" which started off as a gathering community where people who competed in the annual “Nintendo championship” + a few other gaming oriented people got a chance to interact, compete and hang out with each other.

In fact, there was a time between the release of the game and the creating of the scene where I managed to “quit” competing in smash before I even started! ☹

Why am I reading this?

If people actually took the time to wrap their heads around what actions Leffen have exhibited towards me, MikeHaggar, Hax, Vectorman, Rocky and many more, the thought of doing anything less than not welcoming him to any future tournaments or gatherings is ludicrous.

The mere thought of it is preposterous and the act of allowing the things he will subject others to is nothing less than grotesque and an act of cruelty towards his “targets”.

You must understand that he has yet proven to show any sign of remorse whatsoever concerning his actions, how they affect people, what they have to go through and put up with. Nor how it affects not only them, but poisons the entire atmosphere and well-being of the community as a whole.

He impeccably dismisses and declines any invitation or attempt to inquire in any form of dialog or conversation regarding the situation. He just doesn’t seem to care, at all. And until that fact changes, it would be preposterous to invite, accept or allow this guy anywhere near the people he constantly subjects to acts of malicious intent, not to forget or undermine the urgency in sparing any new potential prospects. The indecency in prolonging this is truly nothing less but an act of cruelty.

What’s the situation?

We are in a community and in scene that is being manipulated by unbelievably sick people.

The chasm between what Leffen and his sympathizers manipulates people into believing is going on and what is really going on is absolutely enormous.

The vastness and level of psychological warfare Leffen exhibits towards his prospects is one of the most elaborate acts of vicious intent I have had the (mis)fortune of witnessing first hand. This ongoing torment his viciousness forces his prospects to endure, directly and indirectly by leaving them as sole beneficiary to all of the consequences his actions may cause, which is why they evidently always end up being the ones paying the price and taking its toll.

Needless to say, if Leffen actually would show any sort of genuine interest in changing his ways, taking responsibility for his actions, start talking with and apologizing people. I guarantee you I would be the first to welcome him and accept his invitation, much like he dismissed and ignored all of mine (referring to it in the opposite manner of course)!

Unfortunately, he has been proven to lack any sort of interest in changing his ways or doing these things, yet. So I truly wish and hope that he will come around and that this situation will change in the near future!

Where are the facts?

The facts are everywhere. If you aren't satisfied with the links and quotes provided by Rocky, Hax, MikeHaggar, etc. I suggest you click on Leffens profile at any forum and start viewing all of his posts, because to me they are all proof of what his intentions are and where he's been coming from since day one.

It is worth pointing out that his behavior cannot be dismissed as "trolling" as his in real life behavior reflects this personality, although more subtle, hence why it's easily dismissed and ignored by the unwitting even though he can be even more vicious and malicious in his behavior and nature.

MikeHaggar's testimony specifically includes several incidents of him harassing, lying and attempting to make me look like a horrible, incompetent, evil and sick human being, which I've recently been made aware is the picture he's been painting of me at IRL gatherings as well. Something which unfortunately has proven to affect a lot of people and infected their minds.

This behavior dates back to the very first interactions he had with and about people on the forums, calling them out and behaving like a total jerk. Which when confronted with was always dismissed stating that he was only "trolling", inclining people not to take anything he said about anything seriously. I suppose if people would've only remembered and listened to nothing but that statement, none of this shit would have happened.

It would take me forever to account for all the times I've seen Leffen acting out viciously against his prospects, so I'm only going to account for the timeline revolving the Genesis trip.

The Road trip

I could never dream to express the experience Leffen put me and occasionally anyone foolish enough to associate himself with me through. No words could ever do justice to the level of psychological warfare and malicious intent he had planned to execute and constantly made his best effort subjecting me to. Literally anything I said, any comments/thoughts/desires/plans I uttered or anything I did, no matter what shape or form it would manifest in, he made sure to always oppose and obstruct in any and all the different means possible when present and an opportunity was given.

Needless to say, this put a lot of strain into the atmosphere and if it weren't for years and years of experience on my part with managing and enduring this type of behavior I would probably have snapped at day one of the behavior that escalated more and more the longer the trip went on.

These failed attempts of trying to "break me" started taking its toll on Leffen, so his tactics began being more desperate and more obvious in what his intent was, doing anything in order to create and maintain an agitated atmosphere around me. Going as far as to deliberately keeping me awake at night and trying to sabotage our journey down to Grand Canyon in the sickest way possible, not only did he make sure to switch on all of the lights in RV, but he made sure to keep the volume turned up so high that when the alarms went off, no one could possibly hear it over the noise of playing meele, but those who were awake and aware of it. Fortunately enough, I woke up sensing something wasn't right, to my surprise the lights were on making it impossible to distinguish the sun's light from outside, and the overall noise being shattered from the TV room was ludicrous.

As soon as I realized that all of us sleeping missed the alarm and we're really late to our schedule, I jump out of bed waking everybody up and confronting the people awake why they didn't care to wake us up when the alarm went off? Leffen, caring less about the fact, immediately starts attacking me verbally with all sorts of nonsense, seemingly doing everything he could to instigate a situation that would keep us distracted and stalled instead of getting ready to leave. I was having none of it, I was determined to make this hike happen, so I just proceeded to making sure everybody was getting ready including myself so we could get the heck going before the sun got too big of a lead on us so we wouldn't have to cancel our already paid for hike and camping site at the bottom of the Canyon. Leffen, determined to his cause proceeded to continue his blabbering whilst physically blocking me, making it impossible for me to grab and collect my stuff, so I politely asked: “Leffen, can you please move?” - No response to it what so ever. Instead, he continued to ramble on about whatever nonsense he could come up with, being totally dismissive to any sort of request or attempt to communicate in a reasonable manner. I make my very best effort to reach through to him in a reasonable manner, but after several attempts, it gets obvious. He isn’t going to back down, he isn’t going to acknowledge anything I say and/or request at this stage, he knows this is the time to push all of his chips in.

Seeing as Leffen isn’t going to do anything but to cause drama, this keeping us from leaving, I make the assessment that there was only one way to make this trip happen. And that was to make it clear in the only way I could that he was not going to stop us from leaving, he had to move his ass over to TV room where he spend all night keeping us distracted and stop blocking us from gathering our stuff and preparing to leave.

I think this is the one moment I actually reached through to this guy, but it didn’t take long before he snapped right back into the same mood/state of mind, trying to walk straight back to the position he was using to block us from leaving. I cut him off half way, walking straight towards him with a very assertive energy saying something like “NO YOU DON’T”. Even though he failed his attempt to ruin the hike, he did manage to bring forth a reaction that he later on easily manipulated and colored up with systematic lies and bullshit that shadows everything he says, making the only person who actually cared enough to fight for him being included on this trip look like the villain... And some people actually buy this crap...

The trip home

On one the planes home, I got seated behind Leffen. This was a budget flight so the leg space between your chair and the one in front was really slim, which means I had my knees tightly knocked up against the backside of Leffens seat. Realizing this, Leffen thought it would be a great idea to shove his seat back against me unannounced in one quick and forceful maneuver. Luckily my knees wasn’t locked in a bad posture at this moment, so I got away with just an “OUCH!” and made sure Leffen realized that I was seated behind with no extra space for my knees and asked him kindly and clearly not to that again. Thinking the message got through, the next few minutes I manage to readjust myself into a comfortable position, now with my knees tightly locked in to the back of the front seat.

Big mistake... In a flash, Leffen launches himself against the back of his seat, pushing his chair against my legs squeezing my knees so bad that I felt pain when using them for a few weeks. I responded to the pain with a loud “OUCH!” and a firm tap, naturally directed towards the one causing it.

The wrap up

I’ve tried contacting and talking to Leffen on several occasions since the trip, both IRL and online, as you might’ve figured out by now, without any result. But with a pounding heart I wasn’t going to take no for an answer and after having reached out several times just to be dismissed and ignored, he realized I wasn’t giving in to his hatred, so he made a promise to contact me when he “got the time for it”. Sadly, this never happened or shall I say, hasn’t happened, cause as you might understand I still wish he would start opening up to people, talk with them and explain his issues if there are any. But he seem to be less interested in keeping a healthy relationship with his prospects, in fact, it seems he thrives on making other people miserable by acting malicious towards them, spreading false rumors and manipulating people in to disliking them. He has changed the social atmosphere around people and the scene as a whole for the worse; he has caused undeserved hatred towards innocent people and solely managed to instigate people spreading this hatred around like wildfire.

No matter how sad his background or story might be, projecting ones misery on to innocent people who have done them nothing wrong is unacceptable! His negative influence on people is damaging not only them, but the entire scene and its people. This madness has to stop!

[4] Adam Lindgren (Armada)'s Testimony

Hey, Im Armada from Sweden and I have been a part of the smash community since early 2005. Going to tournaments, travel across the world etc have been a part of my lifestyle for a longer while now. Every single time I spend a weekend with my friends in the smash community I realized how lucky Im to be a part of such a fantastic group of people.

Somewhere in the late part of 2011 I realized we have one guy in this community that actually is working hard for people to feel worse. This guy is called "Leffen" and is a smasher from Stockholm in Sweden. This guy attended his first tournament in late 2009. At first I didn't had any problem with him at all. He seemed to be a cool guy that had a big passion to improve. In late 2011 I really realized how he actually is as a person. He is a chronicle liar that ALWAYS is trying to make himself look better and at the same time destroy the other persons image. He has sended tons of very personal information online and threatening to send PMs to people if they wanna know even more (can see this in other people testimony etc), convince people to ban great people from events and also is showing the worse sportmanship I have seen during my 8 years in the community.

For example when Ice/Myself was losing a WF set against Leffen/Fuzzy they basically followed us around like fucking tails and talked about "how good everyone was playing" etc. In GF me and Ice completely destroyed them with 8-0 in matches. During the set tons of comments like "It's so easy to play Sheik/Peach, it takes no skill" "If we would have played good we would beat them easily" "Look how happy they are and how much they care (trying to make it sound like we were a bunch of nerds while he is just some kind of god or something)".

What he has done to me, personally, is not enough for a ban to happen. But that and everything else he has done is more then enough to get him banned. Severall of people actually feel really bad because of Leffen. Some players don't travel to some events in Sweden or even to America because being around Leffen for such a long time is not worth it. This community has ALWAYS been a place where we respect everyone and treat them well. Leffen dosen't share this view and are treating people worse because of it. At one point (summer 2012) he basically told me/Beat (another smasher from Sweden) that he thinks humans should not show that much respect towards each other as they does most of the time.

He is also using the fact that he is good at the game as a excuse to treat people badly. He look down at people that is not as good as him (mostly, even if he treat everyone badly). I guess that was the reason it took me almost 2 years to realize what kind of person he really is. Cause after I realized how he was as a person you could see clearly patterns on how much worse of a person he become as a result of him getting better at the game + the way he wrote on smashboards also prove my point. But yeah other people from Sweden have told me that the first time they meet Leffen he was making fun of how bad they were or what kind of disorder they have.

That is not something you joke about!

Especially not to new players in the community. It is a huge chance we will lose a lot of great people coming to more events because their first impression of the community is so bad so they don't wanna return again. He also made one smasher almost crying cause he treated him so BADLY because they were losing a few friendlis!

Also as a TO he was doing a super bad job. After a tournament in Sweden, called "Gamers Meetup" Leffen basically refused to take any of the responsibility he had. After the tournament he told all the winners to send their account numbers so he could send the money. I did this fast because I didn't had much money at the time. He told me he wanted to have the numbers from everyone before he started to send the money. I waited for 6 months (I told him several of times in the meantime that he need to hurry) and then I posted on FB where everyone could see it that "get my money before this months ends cause this is fucking bullshit".

After that he told me that all the winners needed to send the bank numers by themself to this guy called "Alex" that was one of the people holding in Gamers Meetup (this event included many games). NO ONE of the winners had get this information from Leffen (6 months after we should have got our money). After he tells me that he basically says it is all the winners fault for not taking responsibility when in fact he told us to just send the money to him and he would take care of it. In the end it meant I basically had to call this "Alex" so much over the past few weeks to finally get the money. So as a TO he treated everyone really badly too.

One of the strongest argument for this ban is the fact that Leffen did get a warning a few months ago. In this warning me and a few other Swedish smashers explained that the behavior he has is far away from acceptable and if he dosen't change he will get banned in Sweden. The most people that is in a situation like that should really reconsider what he has been doing. In Leffens case he clearly proves that he has no intention to change the way he is. On smashboards he posted "and if you didn't know, that "Ban" thing im guessing you and rocky tried to apply is complete bull* that will never go through in a million years."

This clearly proves that he dosen't have any plans to change himself, something we said was needed cause people feel so bad about him. One question a skeptical person maybe would have said is "that is just a post on the internet". That is true but if we look at his behavior in real life AFTER that post he has done many things too. One example is from the last international tournmanet, Apex 2013, when he made a new player feel really bad about himself. This guy is new to the community and Leffen basically told him that he is a fucking horrible player. So he has proved so many times the true colors of how he is.

I don't know exactly how to explain how cruel this person is. But he honestly feel better about himself when he makes other people suffer because of the actions he is doing. A person like that dosen't deserve to attend any tournaments at all. Im one of the TOs in Sweden and I will make sure to protect the community I love, I really hope everyone else can take their responsibility too

[5] Gustav Alm Rosenblad (ROFL)'s Testimony

I have been playing this game for way too long (sometimes seriously, currently not so much so). Leffen rose quickly through the ranks when he started, many years after me, and quickly surpassed me. I initially respected him for his hard work, but this respect has continuously eroded to its present low point of nonexistence due to his lack of respect for others. I can't claim to be one of Leffen's foremost victims, but I'll share my story to try to represent those who he only interacts with momentarily in tourneys.

While I have historically respected Leffen for his ability, I haven't really derived any value from playing him, since when we play it always leaves me utterly demoralized. It matters to me, maybe too much so, to feel like I am treated with respect as a fellow human being. When I play with Leffen, I feel like he thinks I'm worthless. He tends to sigh, and emit other signals, sometimes subtle, sometimes not so subtle, from which I have deducted that he judges me for not being as good as he is at the game after all my years. I can't help but think that he sometimes plays just to hurt people.

Though my playing Leffen has made me avoid him in general, what has in the end lowered my opinion of him is his constant scheming to bring down people who he dislikes. I have seen some of my friends' mental health decline noticeably due to his damaging influence. It seems as though he constantly divides up people into winners and losers, friends and enemies, and viciously goes after the latter category with lies and other tactics whenever he gets an opportunity.

I haven't been that active in the scene for much of my being in it, but I have been in it long enough to see how the scene has shifted its focus from having a good time to a bunch of pointless drama, from which nobody really benefits. Leffen has singlehandedly made people quit the scene (banning Leffen will not actually make the scene smaller, if anyone thought so). The ban is not necessarily about punishing Leffen for his behavior, though we are hoping that his conduct will change. If we don't ban Leffen, we will lose other players in the process.

[6] Viktor Johansson (VJ)'s Testimony

I have never personally been in a conflict with Leffen. He has never disrespected me personally and I have a lot of respect towards his knowledge and skill involving Smash. Only as a tournament host, administrator of the Swedish forums and general observer am I able to contribute to this cause. The Swedish community was informed that Leffen had been asked to change his immoral behavior and attitude, in the form of a warning of being banned. In spite of this, he has continued just like before, which is the reason I testify against him.

I was very slow in realizing Leffen's true nature in comparison to many other players. Even though he harassed people, I saw him as completely harmless. How could anyone ever be offended by a newcomer who does not know what he is talking about? I refused to realize that anyone who chooses to play Smash as we do, who chooses to take part in the forum life as we do and who chooses to attend smash tournaments as we do, could behave in that manner, really. I regarded him as a troll, that "actually" respected both better and worse players, and that wanted to contribute to our movement. Generally, this can be applied the Swedish smash community as a whole, which is at least one reason that this process has taken such long time.

It should be known that there is no one else who shows this level of arrogance and undiplomatic elitism, even though there is a large variety of personalities in the community. He has on several occasions harassed and spread lies about other smashers, which still happens regularly. He has on several occasions edited or removed his own posts in order to embellish himself, which clearly shows that he is a dishonest person. I know for a fact that his presence at tourneys has several times made other, a lot more appreciated, smashers not attend.

I, as a relatively frequent host, has made a personal decision to never permit Leffen's attendance, until he has proven to be worthy. The service I provide by renting (or in any other way providing) a venue, and thereby hosting a tournament, gives me the right to decide whom may enter the venue. I see it as my responsibility to summon the police if he intrudes and refuses to immediately leave the area. Because our movement's primary purpose is to help people play and socialize, it would go against my principles to refuse anyone the privileged. However, there has never been a more justified case than with Leffen. He has himself denied entry of a person he disliked in the past, which is much more ironic than influential to my decision.

My opinion is that the host has to decide in the end, whether or not to allow him to attend. I am completely for the decision to ban Leffen from future tournaments, until the world wide community unanimously chooses to allow him, which very well could be never. In terms of my tournament, the decision is already decided.

My guess is that Leffen will pretend like this is a surprise, which I assure you: it is not. Yet again I remind, he has clearly been warned before.

[7] Aziz Al-Yami (Hax)'s Testimony

Never in my life have I encountered someone as vile and ill-willed as leffen.

My first encounter with leffen was at Genesis 2, where he challenged me to a $2 money match. I nearly jv4 stocked him in the first game, but as we begin game 2 I'm called for a tournament match. He asks me if we're going to continue after my tournament match. I tell him not to worry about it, and to keep his money.

In October 2011, I wrote an essay on defensive play, which I believed was dominating Melee at the time. The thread evolved into a large, thought-provoking discussion - exactly what I'd wanted. Many agreed with the thread's premise, while many disagreed. The key thing to note here is that regardless of what side we were on, all of us were respectful of each other's opinions. Except for one person.

The same week I wrote the thread I was asked to be a part of Episode 6 of PEEF's SotG stream (a series of Skype conversations where smashers are called in to discuss current events in Smash. The episodes are livestreamed on Twitch). If I recall correctly, this episode featured PEEF, Dr. PP, Taj, Kage, myself, and leffen. When discussion of my thread, titled "Don't Approach: Melee's Flaw Dissected", began, leffen (who I didn't know outside of our brief encounter at Genesis 2) began to call certain arguments I'd made "fucking retarded," "fucking terrible," etc. He went on and on about how bad they were.

I could not believe my ears. What had I done to this person? Was this really the same person I'd made a polite gesture towards at Genesis 2? Who in their right mind would display such disrespect towards someone they didn't know over a differing opinion? The statements he made that night screamed "I want attention."

I was hardly able to defend myself that night. I was too in shock from being publicly disrespected by someone I'd been polite to the only time I'd met him. I'd signed up for a rational discussion about my thread, and I ended up being cursed at to the point that I wanted to have nothing to do with it. I wasn't going to argue rationally with someone who had spoken to me like that, and I certainly wasn't going to stoop to his level and start cursing back. I was fairly silent for the rest of the Skype conversation, and left extremely pissed off.

For the remainder of the thread's lifespan, leffen continued to post, and my responses were not particularly respectful after the low blows he'd hit me with the other day. The thread that was once a blossoming discussion deteriorated into a shitstorm and eventually got locked.

leffen's vendetta against me had only just begun.

For the past year and a half, it's been as if a dark cloud has followed me wherever I go on Smashboards. Whenever I'd post an opinion on C. Falcon, leffen would be there to paint the image that I'm a whiner, a retard, and an overrated player. I couldn't even say widely accepted stuff, i.e. "Falcon loses pretty badly to Fox" without him being there. From late 2011 to this day, there have probably been about 20 posts I've had fully typed out, and ended up deleting/not posting because I knew leffen would be there to capitalize on aspects of them. Many of these were good, thought-provoking posts. The thought of feeding leffen posts to respond "LOOOOOOL Hax is retarded" to has caused me to withhold several posts I would've otherwise made.

I'd find him namedropping me in a negative light/harassing me in several threads. There was once a small, local tournament in Brooklyn, NY that happened to be streamed. Jman and I had agreed to split the 1st/2nd place money, and gave the stream a crappy/sandbaggy GF's set that I lost 3-2 (something I apologize for). Afterwards, someone posted in the thread asking for results. leffen, who lives in fucking Sweden, quickly responds "Jman won 3 times over Hax in a Bo5 set. get raped lol," implying that I got 3-0'd. I almost went nuts. Not only did he lie about the set score in a set where we were clearly sandbagging, he'd taken the time to post that I lost at a small local held in a different country. I couldn't even screw around at a local tournament without him harassing me from overseas. If this isn't blatant harassment/someone looking to start shit, I don't know what is. leffen ruined my night that night, just as he's ruined many other nights.

I promptly PM'd him and warned him to put an end to the harassment. I tell him that it's getting pretty desperate when he's watching streams of me sandbagging at locals and posting in the results that that I got raped shortly after I lost, even lying about the set score to make me look worse. He ignores my PM, and goes on to post in another thread: "Hax, please stop PM'ing me. It's getting pretty pathetic."

At this point I was frustrated beyond words, and completely clueless as to what I had done to deserve this.

My Smashboards experience has not been the same since late 2011. I've had to deal with someone who seeks to ruin my image at all costs through the use of lies, insults, and manipulation of words. On February 13th, 2012, I made a long post making it very clear to leffen that I despised him, and to keep my name out of his mouth for good. He went back to talking shit about me in several threads 3 weeks later.

I contacted Fly Amanita about half a year ago telling him that leffen's behavior was beyond unacceptable. Nothing happened to leffen.

I have added him to my Ignore List several times, and taken him off shortly after every single time because it doesn't help. He doesn't stop running his mouth. Every time I'd read through a thread and deduce that leffen had namedropped me in a post I couldn't see (based on quoted posts/other people's responses), I'd just end up logging off of my account so that I could read it anyway. I cannot put into words the degree to which leffen cannot be silenced once he has a vendetta on you.

Later on in 2012, I challenged leffen to a $500 money match the next time I saw him, which he declined. Then, as Apex 2013 grew closer, I challenged him to a $200 money match. This was my final offer. I wanted to take a large amount of money from leffen for the way he'd treated me; no less than $200 would do.

True to his manipulative ways, leffen proposed the idea that my money match was for such a large amount that it was in fact a bluff (he claimed I was asking for an amount so large that he clearly couldn't accept), and that I was actually afraid of him. It was at this point that I began to violently vomit up everything I ate for a week. I literally lived off of food that I didn't have to chew very much, as the act of chewing/swallowing was too much for my nerves. The hatred inside of me was beyond words; something no one deserves to ever experience. I cannot begin to explain the suffering I endured that week. My mother had to help snap me out of the trance I was in.

Apex 2013 finally comes, and I end up face to face with leffen in the prestigious USA vs The World crew battle. I utterly destroy him. I don't even want to think about where I'd be mentally had I lost, considering leffen's existence still makes me unhappy even after my victory over him.

Somehow, I knew that the war wasn't over. Was leffen going to stop being a bully, a liar, and a manipulative person because I beat him? No.

I soon learn that Jeffrey Lapuebla (Zneffy), a NYC local player, had his Apex weekend ruined because of leffen (which you can read about in his testimony). About a week later, I witnessed Blake Curry (Ripple) endure verbal abuse so severe in the NTSC tier list thread that it got the thread locked (sound familiar?). These two things were the last straws for me. They prompted me to organize this group and campaign for his ban.

(This portion of my testimony was added following leffen's 1 year ban from Sweden)

I am writing this portion of my testimony to voice my opinion on the despicable manner in which leffen has handled his ban, and convey a prime example of his manipulative behavior.

On February 9th, 2013, leffen was banned from Swedish tournaments for "at least one year" (however long is necessary for him to change) by Sweden's 3 major TO's: Armada, VJ, and Lolex.

Following his ban, leffen made the following post in the Melee It On Me Facebook group (FB group with ~1000 Melee players):

"I'm currently really bored with smash. When I currently look at smash all I see is all the fake people that I thought were my friends, and drama. I'm not even sure I want to get unbanned because of how pointless all the drama is. Maybe I'll do a public statement, maybe I won't. Currently I don't think Smash will ever be the same for me (and every top player in sweden has already quit).

Instead, I want to change the focus, going back to the one we just had. Just over one week ago when I looked at the smash, and the community I saw everyone getting together and helping each other, all for breast cancer and for the game that we all love. I myself hosted a charity tournament, and did critique for donations, which people seemed to enjoy.

I want to critique/help people improve, so please, link me a video or describe a problem (could be in game, our just related to smash overall) and I'll do my best to help you."

This post, to me, quite literally reads:

“Swedish scene = fake for banning me. I don’t even know if I want to get unbanned/see those people ever again. I’m the victim.

(Transition paragraph that makes it harder to see the hypocrisy between the above and below statements)

By the way, I’m trying to change. Post videos and I’ll critique.”

Attempting to play the victim card + Calling the Swedish scene fake for not putting up with your behavior after warning you that you were treading on thin ice for a ban is NOT the answer. This is perhaps the most disrespectful, despicable thing leffen could have done to those he has abused in the past. He is attempting to deny all allegations he is being charged with and make it seem as though the Swedish scene expelled him for no reason. He has forged any chances he had at apologizing to us and gradually befriending us over a long period of time; he has instead left us in the past and attempted to start fresh by appealing to American smashers who are uninformed about what he has done. Things do not work this way, leffen. Actions have consequences.

Armada has contacted him in private to call him out on his lies, and he has continued to deny, deny, deny. We know leffen all too well for this to surprise us. Publicly confessing to having bullied someone for their disability, making an amateur want to quit at his first major tournament, destroying people’s images through lies and manipulation, causing pain and suffering for many, and so much more, would earn leffen a bit of redemption, but it would likely provoke a discussion regarding EVO/Genesis 3 bans. The latter is all that leffen cares about. He has shown time and time again that he has no remorse for those who he has harmed; whatever maximizes his chances of attending EVO/Genesis 3 is what he will do.

This is the opposite of change. This is classic, manipulative leffen.

3 hours prior to Armada’s ban announcement, leffen was abusing people on Smashboards. Immediately after the ban announcement, he began to make informative, helpful posts, presumably in a scramble to not get banned from EVO/Genesis 3. His polite, helpful tone of voice in his recent posts was unheard-of prior to his ban. As someone who has been victimized by leffen, what he is doing disgusts me. I hope that those reading this can look past the angelic persona leffen has put on post-ban and understand how fake and manipulative of a person he is.

I have been a member of this beautiful community since 2005. Never have I seen someone cause such a net loss of happiness within us. Never have I seen someone so poisonous.

I beg of those reading this to take EVO and Genesis 3 away from leffen for the sake of our community. He does not deserve to be a part of what will be the grandest week in the history of Super Smash Bros. Melee. Those who he has abused do not deserve to have to see him there. His path of destruction has to end.

Thank you for your consideration.

[8] Jeffrey Lapuebla (Zneffy)'s Testimony

With the encouragement of fellow members in the Smash Brothers community, it was recommended that I share my personal experience with Leffen, as it may benefit others as well. Apex 2013 was my first major tournament experience, something that I looked forward to very much as being a relative newcomer to the competitive circuit. Unfortunately, the latter half of my tourney experience would be somewhat disenchanting due to an unprovoked verbal attack from Leffen.

As a new player, every friendly is a match to not only meet someone new, but also display what skills I have spent so much time rigorously practicing for. I am an outgoing person and like to socialize, because let's face it, a lot of the tournament experience is based upon the people in it. Also, I am open to asking for advice and giving it (if warranted) with fellow players. So that being said, as a new player, if a player with the skill set Leffen has beats me pretty convincingly, I will try to modestly ask for pointers in future matches.

Leffen sat down, and beat me first game convincingly. He then said, "I know this matchup pretty well." To which my response was, "Is there any advice that you can give me for future matches?" He ignored my question and repeated himself in an unfriendly tone, suggesting I had done something wrong. We played another game, and after asking him again, he told me blatantly to my face that, "I know this matchup well, and you are a pretty horrible Luigi". Then he continues to ignore me the entirety of the 'friendly' session.

Mind you, I had never met or spoken with him at any point before this, even on smashboards.com. His attitude instantly created a harsh, uncomfortable, provocative environment within the area. Even the other player beside me sat speechless and worded out to me: WTF?. I very much look up to players of his caliber and was taken back by the experience so much that I had to remove myself from the area because I felt attacked. Honestly, the emotions I felt were enraged and instantly the place felt hostile even though I had literally done nothing worth his insult. He ruined my weekend at that point and I spent the rest of the time avoiding him as to not create a scene of any sorts.

I spoke to my friends afterwards to cool down and they remarked how unsportsmanlike his conduct was, to put it lightly. If this was my first tournament experience ever, I would of been so disillusioned I would of quit. I felt so demoralized because his insults were on the brunt of his victory, which made me feel even less of a player, like I shouldn't even tried. Having had a few tournament experiences before, I shook it off, but even then it was hard for me to consider continuing after hearing a comment like that from a high level player.

I didn't feel encouraged to get better, I wanted to leave our scene altogether. This to me is why I share this testimony; in hopes it may help better create a more inclusive vibe to the newer members of our community.

I am updating my testimony to address the "apology" leffen PM'd me on Smashboards once word of what he said to me spread. It is titled "A misunderstanding+an apology" “Hey!

I don't remember you too well, but apparently I made quite an impression on you.

I remember us playing at Apex, I played fox and you played luigi, right?

I know you think I was trying to be mean, but I actually was trying to do exactly the opposite. I 4 stocked you one time and said something along the lines of "don't worry, I play with a luigi main all the time, I have loads of experience".

It appears as I perhaps misspoke, or you took this offensively, either way, I am incredibly sorry. Tracking down on new players is the LAST thing I want to do, and your luigi was honestly not bad (I 4 stock Ajp_anton all the time, and hes top 5 in sweden atm)

I don't think I even said another word to you, but my memory is perhaps not accurate. Either way, I sincerely apologize.

If you want me to critique some matches (I know a lot about luigi), or want any help at getting into a tournament mindset etc, PLEASE feel free to ask me for help.”

I would like to ensure you that every sentence of my testimony, everything I claim leffen says and does, is the truth.

“I know you think I was trying to be mean, but I actually was trying to do the opposite” was the most difficult sentence of this “apology” for me to read. There was absolutely no misunderstanding regarding what happened between me and leffen at Apex. And there most certainly weren’t good intentions behind what he did.

To me, this is the opposite of an apology. This is a high level player attempting to use his status to pressure me into forgetting what he did. Nowhere in this PM does leffen confess to what he said; he instead places the blame on ME for misinterpreting him (which I sure didn’t).

I have not responded to his PM, nor do I plan to.

[9] Adam Oliver (Strong Bad)’s Testimony

Hello. I am Adam "Strong Bad" Oliver. I serve many roles in the Melee and Smash community as a whole, including but not limited to: Smash Researcher, Melee Backroomer, Project M Back Room Leader, and Tournament Organizer. In the following testimony, I will describe to the best of my ability my experiences with William "leffen" Hjelte. Where I could, I provided direct sources to occurrences. However, Smashboards' search feature is still down at the time of writing. Reading through all of leffen's posts is a sentence I wouldn't wish on my worst enemies, so you'll understand that some of them lack links.

I have had the displeasure of interacting with several unpleasant members of Smashboards and the community at large in my 4 years of being in it, both in person and online. In most of these cases, I have succeeded in dealing with them by either ignoring them, literally ignore listing them on Smashboards, or physically/conversationally avoiding them in person. However, one member in particular could not be dealt with in such a manner. Never could I have imagined someone could be so arrogant, rude, disrespectful, and toxic. That is, before leffen happened.

My first interaction with leffen was I believe on Smashboards, at some point after Genesis 2 in 2011 (I was lucky enough to not interact with leffen at all at G2). In the NTSC Tier List thread, he argued with me incessantly that Yoshi vs. DK is in Yoshi's favor by some absurd amount. Now, I have debated several match-ups like this before, like with KAOSTAR about DK vs. Mewtwo, but never before had such a discussion upset me or even just shocked me as much as the one I had with leffen. My problem with leffen wasn't that he disagreed with me, but rather the sheer amount of disrespect and negativity leffen displayed in nearly every single post in the discussion. Rather than arguing with the points I put forth, he repeatedly attacked me on a personal level. He brought up my skill at the game, my knowledge of not only Yoshi but also my own character Donkey Kong, a character I've been undisputably top 3 at for over a year. Not only is this blatantly bad argumentation (ad hominem), the language and disrespect with which he addressed me turned his posts into incredibly offensive and upsetting attacks. Now, I myself tend to use quite a bit of explicit language, but I know very well the difference between describing the temperature as "fucking cold" and referring to a human being as a "piece of shit."

After that, I don't remember much about my interactions with leffen up until August of 2011. By this point in time, both myself and leffen had been admitted into the Melee Backroom. One of the discussions that was beginning at this time was an attempt at a somewhat regular MBR discussion to post to the public. That discussion was <http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?t=308970>. As you read the first 30ish posts, discussion is enjoyable and interesting. Good points are brought up, people respectfully agree or disagree with each others points, all is good. In post #30, unknown522 posts a fairly long write-up of why he feels Falco is a better character, going into match-up ratios and character qualities for both. And then in post #34 suddenly leffen's response completely changes the tone and flow of the discussion, and it never quite returned to how it was. What first caught my eye when reading this post is this line in particular:

First off, its worse at forcing approaches than Fox's (you have to be really fkn stupid/biased to argue otherwise) but its strength comes in the form of lockdown.

I was shocked. Here I was in the Melee Backroom, reading all sorts of thought-provoking and in-depth posts about high level SSBM, and then I read this. What kind of person calls his opposition "fucking stupid" when someone disagrees with him? It doesn't stop there, though. In that same post, he goes over how useful he thinks Falco's lasers are in edgeguarding various members of the cast, highlighting that they are worthless against all characters other than Fox and Bowser. Not only is this absurd, he then goes on to state that unknown522's opinions on Falco's laser's use in edgeguarding are based entirely on the fact that unknown mains Fox himself in a condescending manner. However, leffen continues to behave even worse in this post. After quoting a section of unknown522's argument, he writes:

Jesus, You just fail.

I was speechless for over a week. Never would I have imagined that such blatant disrespect would ever occur in the MBR of all places. MBR members tend to mess around a bit in the public Melee Discussion board, but when it comes to MBR discussion we always keep mutual respect in mind even in the most heated discussions. Because of leffen's behavior, the thread then turns into leffen vs. the world for a while. He even responds sarcastically to Sweet in post #42.

I chime in in Post #51 with my points on both his arguments as well as his blatant disrespect of unknown522. I then contacted MBR leader Cactuar via AIM about leffen and he agreed, and later warns leffen in post #59. Sheridan (HyugaRicdeau), another MBR leader, also posted to agree with Cactuar about leffen's attitude in post #60. But the damage was done; the thread never returns to its original state as a locale facilitating discussion on the topic. I think it's mostly because of leffen's involvement in the thread that it eventually dies, and that the project as a whole is not pursued further.

To his credit, leffen apologized for his response to unknown. Unfortunately, leffen's attitude has not been consistent in the past two years. Over time, he has become worse. It seems that the better he gets as a player, the more disrespect and hatred he demonstrates toward others.

Fast forward to APEX 2012, which took place in January 2012. Leffen had talked a lot of shit about Yoshi vs. DK, so I was ready to prove him wrong. On day 1 I looked around the venue for him and when I finally found him, I challenged him to a DK vs. Yoshi money match. I don't recall his exact response, but he basically said that it would be a waste of his time. I was dejected, confused, upset. Why would someone who so vehemently argued a match-up was in his character's favor decline the chance to prove it? It was pretty upsetting and I was bummed about it for most of the day, which also happened to be the day that Melee pools happened so I didn't really play all that well.

Anyway, after APEX 2012 I mostly avoid leffen on the boards, yet he still sent some jabs my way. For example after MELEE-FC in August, he insulted my Project M DK, a character who I am undisputedly top 2 of with no real provocation. Several others occurred randomly but I don't think it's necessary to bring them up with the insurmountable amount of evidence against him already.

At some point late in 2012, leffen became so bad that I approached Cactuar (either via AIM or text message, I don't recall) and told him that it was shameful that a person who treated others so badly was in the MBR. The MBR is supposed to be filled with not just high level players, but role models for the entire community, and leffen's behavior was unacceptable. Cactuar agreed and removed him from the MBR, but the damage was done.

At that point in time, I had become very involved in Project M related stuff. For APEX 2013, myself and JCaesar were allowed by Alex Strife to run an invitational Project M Demo 2.5 tournament. We decided to invite people based on skill and previous PM tournament results, and of course this included leffen. He was top 2 or 3 in Europe at the game, so yeah. Anyway, as each player got eliminated I made it a point to shake their hand and thank them for participating in the invitational. Each player was pretty polite about it, except for one person. You guessed it: leffen. He got very far into the bracket, placing 4th. When leffen lost to Wizzrobe in losers, he turned toward my co-host JCaesar and exclaimed "You guys fucked up on Sonic" before storming out. I attempted to shake his hand and thank him for participating and he swatted my hand away angrily. Later that week he posted saying that it was the worst tournament he had ever attended. I later saw leffen in multiple streams trash talking both Project M and the PMBR (especially me), unfortunately I don't have logs or anything.

What was most upsetting about this was that I had been particularly pleasant to leffen at APEX 2013, hoping that maybe being the better man would convince him to improve. The day before APEX we were both being housed by InternetExplorer. Ice messaged me on Facebook asking to talk to leffen so I let leffen use my laptop to talk to him for like 15-20 minutes when I was trying to go to sleep, had to wait up a bit longer. And day 2, leffen mentioned that he might enter Marvel but he didn't have a fightstick, I offered to let him borrow mine. He didn't end up entering, but I offered nonetheless, when I didn't have to especially considering how he had treated me over the past year.

In conclusion, leffen is in his own tier of maliciousness and potential damage to the community. I'd like to see him improve his behavior, but at this point in time, his attendance at tournaments detracts from the experience of others, driving away players in an already struggling environment. It would be in the best interest of the entire community if he is sentenced to at least a temporary worldwide ban from tournaments, and preferably a Smashboards ban as well. Any sort of interaction with leffen gives him the chance to abuse and insult others, and without making it very apparent that his behavior is unacceptable by preventing him from competing, he won't change.

[10] Letter to Genesis 3 Staff

Dear Genesis 3 Staff,

First and foremost, thank you for choosing to continue your tournament series this summer. Our competitive scene would not have survived for 12 years if it were not for people like you. We are all thoroughly excited for the EVO/Genesis 3 week that will surely be magnificent for all of those in attendance.

We are contacting you today in light of an unfortunate, but necessary recent event: leffen's 1 year ban from tournaments held in his home country, Sweden, ban from Denmark's KFC3, and ban from Norway's DrømmeLAN 2.5. We are looking to pass this ban down to Genesis 3 as well as EVO, as it would be a disservice not to after the damage he has done to our community.

Fortunately for our case, leffen has caused suffering for not only many Europeans, but many Americans as well. We have been joined by several of these Americans in enforcing this ban. Altogether, we have 9 individual written testimonies about people's experiences with leffen that we hope will convey the necessity of this ban to you. We urge you to keep these testimonies confidential, as much of the information within them is extremely personal.

Words hurt. Never has that statement rung truer within our community than it has with leffen.

For years, leffen has imposed on the happiness of countless members of our community. His unparalleled hatred and vulgarity leave people feeling belittled and attacked wherever he goes. His self-righteousness, manipulation, lies, superiority complex, nonsensical reasons for attacking people, and refusal to change make him a threat to not only the Smash community, but society. He is both a psychopath and a narcissist to a dangerous degree.

In real life, he has flipped the Swedish Smash scene upside-down. Through vicious bullying, rumor spreading, harassment, manipulation of various people, lies, condescending behavior, hateful gestures, and awful sportsmanship, he has single-handedly ruined the Smash experience for many Swedes.

Online, he is notorious for being, bar none, the most ill willed, toxic, destructive poster on Smashboards as well as the Swedish forums. His words psychologically damage people and go beyond what could ever be considered trolling; he is a cyberbully. His persistent, vicious verbal harassment of countless people has single-handedly made both Smash forums he posts on stressful and tense.

This person has gone to unheard-of lengths to make people feel bad about themselves, make less experienced players feel unwelcome, destroy people's reputations, kill motivation and discourage progress, and make people want to quit the game all while contributing virtually nothing. Both online and offline, he serves no purpose other than to leech massive amounts of positive energy from our community.

Following his ban from Sweden, rather than apologizing to those he has hurt, leffen decided to stay true to his roots. He has chosen to play the victim card and ridicule the Swedish scene for banning him, claiming that they are "fake" people who are "doomed" without him. We hope that after reading the attached testimonies and forum posts there is zero doubt that leffen is not the victim, and that his decision to continue to lie only serves as further evidence of his character.

Please enforce this ban for the good of our community.

Thank you.

Adam "Armada" Lindgren
Nicklas "Rocky" Ringberger
Karl "MikeHaggar" Johan Bohlin
Calle "C" Strandberg
Viktor "VJ" Johansson
Alexander "Jalex" Wall
Kim "Nedech" Jönsson
Gustav "ROFL" Alm Rosenblad
Lucas "Zoler" Blomgren
Aziz "Hax" Al-Yami
Jeffrey "Zneffy" Lapuebla
Adam "Strong Bad" Oliver
Timothy "Vectorman" Wilson
Charles "Cactuar" Meighen
Blake "Ripple" Curry
Roustane "Kage" Benzeguir

[11] Smashboards Posts

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=13846759#post13846759>

kage ur fkn crazy and understanding your posts [not that I ever do more than glance over them and laugh nowadays] is impossible.

foxlisk ur just dumb. go die.

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=13847439#post13847439>

@Druggedfox: lol I agree tbh, im just being retarded on the boards.

@Twebb. Ur dumb.
Vanz beat Jman last time (and hax), while S2j and lovage beat him Lovage beat hax
comparing teczero and kk isnt fair imho either
<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=13847752#post13847752>

Originally Posted by JPOBS
the difference is that leffen, unlike most other people who like to ruffle feathers, is actually good at maylay, and might actually beat the people he's trash talking
lol, thats the thing

everyone wishes that I was much worse here in sweden too.

first months of me playing:
did a top 10 list, said that the 4th (dev) wasnt that good people shouted at me, omg your just a new player, it doesnt matter how talented you are, you will NEVER beat him and he could 4 stock you in his sleep.
2-0d him next tournament.
and lots of
ima be top 2 when I've played a year
no omg lol
but so I was

and now with this yoshi thing:
omg you'll never beat ME with YOSHI.
won my 3 first tournaments with him annihilating everyone

sometimes I wonder what its like not to be talented, to actually suck like most ppl.
people would flame me so much more lol and I would just look like kage trying to major in physics.
but then I spew arrogant bull* over the internet 5 minutes later because I can.

I may be cocky/confident, but im not OVERconfident. Im just exactly as arrogant, cocky and confident that I need to be to win and to show the truth (when debating, I dont sugar coat, at all).

pp has also realized this lately which is why you see him be more "cocky" etc.
if you're aiming for the top, then you need to be.

sweet. you're right. I'd never face you to begin with. I don't do amateur brackets.
<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=13847783#post13847783>
the key is to use lots of arrogant thrash talk and juuuuust the right amount of truth and basis

makes people tingle
<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=13847957#post13847957>

LOL.

my squirtle vs your ganon was:

I raped you.

had you offstage, you had to up b, I had ~20%

I sd during the edgeguard (no hits or anything) repeat 2 times.

killed you with an edgeguard throw you off at 70% next stock, sd for the fourth time.

first time playing squirtle, and you would've gotten annihilated if I didn't SD FOUR TIMES (all under 40% loooooool).

so yeah, have fun "owning" me.

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=13848044#post13848044>

why would anyone care about what your point was kage.

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=13848094#post13848094>

kage knows a lot about consistency

he places consistently outside of top 5 in canada, every god damn time

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=13869863#post13869863>

^somuchthat

listen to peefs podcast

"OMG FALCON HAS NO OPTIONS VS CROUCH CANCELING"

"PEACH BEATS EVERYTHING IN FRAME PERFECT WORLD WITH DASH ATTACK"<-not kidding, he literally said that falcon cannot do "anything" against it and if you punished (by shielding, jumping) it you were playing suboptimally so that didnt count

"FALCON CANNOT DO ANYTHING VS PEACH"

"TAJ BEAT ME ONLY ONLY BECAUSE HE GAYED ME OUT, I WOULDVE WON SO EASY IF HE HAD APPROACHED, OMG I WISH THE SET WAS UP ON YOUTUBE SO EVERYONE COULD SEE HOW I JUST GOT GAYED AND DIDNT DESERVE TO LOSE" the sad part was that people actually agreed with him all this iirc one week after him and Jman lost to VanZ

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=13911988#post13911988>

* off you tall ****

even if they're johns, they're still true and everyone who was there at the venue knows what I'm talking about but I see how you don't think its rape

if you're from denmark you're always behind a stock

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=13957074#post13957074>

He doesn't anymore anymore, that was my *ing point around ~25 fox players with only 8 falco players... and G2 had similar results and now the best falco MAIN (I dont consider mango a falco main, even if thats his best character) lost to the best Fox (Javi)

Fox has always outperformed Falco in the past too except for PP winning with Falco (all previous nationals had more fox players in bracket more or less)

Please quote your *ing sources of Falcos raping foxes or stfu please, and don't be that stupid to use friendlies as your argument again, please.

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=13966936#post13966936>

lmfao the difference between marth (and a little CF) and the rest is pretty *ing hilarious lol.

get over yourself.

please

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=13973865#post13973865>

france sucks * tho ;D

srsly though, Marth is THE most successful character by far, are you guys seriously so retarded that you think that he can't win anymore just because of a little metagame change?

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=13974167#post13974167>

Wow you really don't understand the word successful do you

*ing retard

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=13975975#post13975975>

lmao, thats hilarious. Because, you know, I were playing at my full potential just like everyone else were. After maining fox for a whole month its very clear that I'll never to get better and that the only answer is to cop out to different characters like you do with species (I guess thats the logic you need to use to be able to be emo when maining marth, lmao)

I were also so impressed by you beating Ice who was also playing really great. Oh and that part about you not punishing any of his habits before your friends did the hard part for you and started screaming out instructions every 5 seconds. But I guess you, coincidentally, didn't hear any of that AND started doing these things just by random! How weird that you haven't traveled to any big tournaments outside of the East coast too!

#No sarcasm and #Always relying on coaching to win your games totally fair

yeah thrashtalk!

But really, thanks. Thanks for being that insecure  whos flaming THE ONLY PERSON who has suggested something even remotely practical for months. People like you always come out to prove to me that, there is indeed nothing to gain from giving people advice to the whiny girls that are marth players.

@PP

I'll answer and further explain some of my points later, it'll probably be in a PM though because the marths boards just *ing disgust me lmao.

I'd honestly just see all the current marth mains fall apart and quit smash so that when a good player starts actually MAINING him they can come crawling back so leme get this straight.

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=13976401#post13976401>

LOOOOOOOOOOOLLLLL thank you

"Im not insecure "

Quote:

I have tough skin buddy, I took a jab at you and guess what I made the baby cry.

I dont know why people are always so "leffen youre so mean on the boards" or "why are you such a ". It isnt necessary because hes the definition of keyboard warrior, talks all that  on the boards but dnt say  in real life. Anyone that knows me knows im honest and real...if i  on you on the boards Ill do it in person. You on the other hand do all complaining like a  on the boards but you aint doind a damn thing at tourney. Lol your like 5 ft and wouldnt bust a grape in food fight.

I dont even have the time to get mad...its pointless. Isnt it cute how you keep up with me and know I dnt travel to anything, thats awesome but Id appreciate it if you took my d*ck out your mouth good sir. My girlfriend is getting jealous. And if I had tons of time to travel I would. But I have a full time job and im in school part time. Not that simple little buddy.

Lol talk all that  yet when Niko bopped Ice in pools you sat there like a little mouse. Kudos on being the definition of a . Full potential? I hear johns...what makes you think tec0 was playing good? He ing rotated on your bugs bunny looking ***.

Ive struck a nerve apparently so Ill let the remainder of your period run its course. I can get you some cramp medicine if you need it Followed by a huge post basically describing all of your personal life and throwing out a loads of totally not insecure insults.

Also its funny that you try to use ice against me... when I'm the guy who hates that he uses sheik/fox and who knew all along that he'd suffer from it. Ice is just as bad as m2k in that respect and everyone knows that hes god awful against marth so I was certainly not surprised when he lost to you or niko. Hopefully losing to marths that are, overall, much worse (not even trying to flame you lol, he lost to Hack too) makes him realize this.

oh and couple of more points that I laughed at:

- you obviously didn't understand what I ment about full potential. Hopefully thats one of the reasons as to why you're going to school (along with your spelling...oh god your spelling)

- "Isn't it cute how you keep up with me and know I don't travel to anything" LOL that's hilarious, I just assumed that you weren't traveling because of how much you got coached. Nice to see however that you fit the American stereotype where one thinks other people adore them and apparently "have your * in their mouths" just because they would know something about them or geography at all.

"I've struck a nerve apparently" "I don't even have the time to get mad" coupled with a long ragepost flaming everything after a *ing TROLL response. Hilarious.
Oh I get that you're slow so I'll just spell it out.

my previous "yeah thrashtalk!" was implying that all my thrashtalk that got you into pms mode and to insult everything about me was just a ironic post, making fun of retards like you who are dumb enough to start insulting someone personally when they're having a debate and helping you out

oh and i'll spell out the funny part too
The funny part is that you so obviously didn't get that and did ANOTHER ONE of that retarded kinds of posts.

lmaoooo

edit: @Chipmunk: I'll send you a copy of the PM, and yeah, i'm obviously being sarcastic. I sure hope he is too although experience makes me fear that he's not.

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=13979259#post13979259>

lol what KK said.

heh, thanks for making my day fun hbk.

oh and I dropped falco (the "omg overpowered rapes marth etc" character) because I was bored with him, not because I wanted a better character (just kidding, Yoshi clearly is the best in the game right).

and I don't really get all this keyboard warrior hate, saying that I'm fake etc lmao. I've time and time again said that I just troll the boards because everyone is just retarded anyway. No one should really care about what's said on the net but if you do (hbk) you're just dumb. I don't think I'm some kind of cool gangsta because I can write words on smashboards, I just do it because the responses are hilarious.

and calling me quiet irl is pretty damn wrong, just sayin

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=13983409#post13983409>

lol guys u're hilarious

"For Falcon to win a national, the person playing him would have to significantly out-play his opponents and that's all there is to it."

sigh...

just about as much as peach has to no wait

falcon wins by PURE SKILL because he's fast and does cool combos just stfu please, the falcon mains are just not good enough, and thats that.

tell me one falcon who even powershields falco's lasers even *ing once >_> no wait, why would you completely change falcons worst matchup by just practicing some more lets complain that falcon gets raped by people who play like s because falcon players never plays gay COUGHHAXCOUGH and falcon players could EASILY win every match if they just played a little gayer

I mean, so what if samus / peach players get a little better if they spam CC (even though falcon still rapes them both 60-40) do you see them complain about "I can't jump or approach because falcon will punish that everytime with 103810381 uairs" no, because they don't have the mindset of a ten year old like some falcon mains seem to do stop kidding yourself please oh, and I don't hate you guys.

I just hate your feminine side that won't stop complaining.
<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=13984440#post13984440>
yeah its totally not like mangos half  CF beats zhu everytime while THE MOST TALENTED PLAYER EVER AKA HAX loses to him

clearly a character problem people who think cf players are the most skilled once are just wrong and hilariously biased oh and ALL characters need to do hard reads, how is captain falcon any different?

Tech chasing doesn't ever require reads really, and you can cover more options with falcon than any other character.

if anything, peach and other characters require way more hard reads than cf since her combo game is hilariously much worse and she isnt fast enough to cover all options 99% of the time unlike falcon
<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=13985633#post13985633>
oh, at what points?

no I mean YEAH FALCON WILL NEVER WIN GUYS

continue maining him you couple of crybabies.

edit:
oh and I think its funny that Hax says that I don't know about something... that podcast LMFAO that  about peach dash attack being broken LOLLLL

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14028160#post14028160>

the fact that your vids are this crap when you've done so many is frankly astounding

sorry if this hurt you, that's just my honest opinion

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14032656#post14032656>

bones youre *ing retarded

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14032683#post14032683>

spam arrows is awful at doing movies, no matter what the aim of them are they're a embarrassment to the smash community imho the sad part is that people think that his vids are good talk about having low standards

hes a pretty awful marth too and his matchup and theorycrafting is hilariously retarded

inb4 infraction crush is awesome

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14039180#post14039180>

lol if marth mains weren't whiny *s and were more like the fox players this would've been mastered for soooo long now its a *ing shame really

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14043097#post14043097>

I think its funny that Spam arrows comments about my "success" when you consider how AWFUL he is at the game

I mean, during my brief time with Yoshi I've done better than you have (and will) do with marth also @Beat: Way to feed the retard who already posts and flames me for every post I do, no matter the subject and yeah, i'm considering playing some marth in tournament (maaaaybe). Its honestly largely because of the fact that 99% all marth mains are such so dumb(read: cry babies, cop outers, lazy and whiny *es). Marth mains don't even try to explore the character (or to simply put to use things that are proven to be effective) and at the same time complain that the other characters being harder to defeat because they are actually developing their characters...

whats even more sad is the fact that there are COUNTLESS people who are smart like Tekk and who come here and give the marth players healthy advice and they just ignore it and continue on whining

oh and you have a guaranteed FD pick every set now... and you'll get to start on YS/BF/FOD everytime ;o

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14053564#post14053564>

What am I salty for? Spam arrows videos being bad? :S

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14053917#post14053917>

Uh, are you dumb hax?

Sheik is the very same (But WORSE) to tech chase with, since she has less frame advantage after her grab AND she is slower than falcon (Yeah, she has dash attack at higher percents... but you can DI that * and falcon has uthrow->knee vs all characters which kills anyway so its not a problem)

This is not to mention that M2K NEVER reacts, and always reads you. If we assume this (which you clearly do) then falcon has even more advantage since he has more reward from reading a tech than sheik has AND has combos+CGs vs Sheik.

oh

if you think you need "GODLIKE" reactions to tech chase grab on reaction you're just plain wrong.

Just take any characters info out of here <http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?t=206469> and use some logic.

As long as you have decent running speed, above 0,30 seconds reaction time (yes, even you m2k can do this... its all in your head) you more or less can guarantee a grab or a notech punish every tech chase unless you're a dumb cf main who flails around with knees and stomps to look flashy.

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14053962#post14053962>

Wow just read Hax's new post

LMFAO you *ing biased *. So much of that isn't true/doesn't show both sides to the argument that it isn't true and if you honestly think the TINY difference between sheiks spacing (mind you, if spacies shine at the same frame she grabs/ a few frames before she still gets shined)

all you falcon mains is *ing complain and complain LOL

we should stop cluttering this thread - lets just repost Hax's cryfest in general discussion and we'll go from there xD

EDIT: Oh, and, let me just correct a very common thing (this has stemmed from all the retards being falcon mains).

FALCONS TECH IS NOT BAD. He has the SAME frame data (for both rolls and techs, and his get up attacks are among the best)

His horizontal movement (the frame which you can react to, when he starts to move to either side during roll techs) are the best among high tiers, he travels further than anyone else in top tier (well...sheik has better backwards tech but falcon has better forward...).

He isn't the strongest on wakeup, but he can still just run away (best ingame obviously) and you have a good roll.

Hell, if you don't count jabs that are "cc" able and spotdodges (CF can spotdodge a grab and get away by running every time vs Sheik but he doesn't get a punish) then he can run away from grabs faster than anything Peach, Marth, ICs, Ganondorf, Samus (cept up B which is easily punishable, she has terrible rolls too) Doc, Mario, Luigi, Donkeykong, Link, YL, Mewtwo etc has...

People are just too *ing biased to see this... jesus christ will you just stop sucking your own *s falcon mains and realize that the reason you lose to people is because you're worse than them instead of blaming it away at things being "gay" etc... its getting ridiculous

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14060716#post14060716>

Jman won 3 times over hax in a bo5 set get raped lol

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14063690#post14063690>

lmaooo

good job not getting it rocky

if the only thing you did is making that PATHETIC post
then why did I hate you beforehand >_>

for you americans: the above post is basically collection of posts from the swedish smash forum in attempt to show how horrible of a person I am. This post must have, no doubt, must have taken hours to find and compile, while at the same time, much like hax, takes every single scenario completely out of context and has massive amounts flat out lying + exaggerating a *load.

example of lie:

"provoing people for 72 hours straight until they finally snap"... true story:
waiting for a plane, first day (so not even 24 hours) of genesis trip

C(the person who snapped): Can I sit here (points where I'm currently sitting using my laptop)

me: No, my charger doesn't reach anywhere else

snaps and instantly starts hitting me

lol.

Granted, this guy is a extremely bipolar person who refuses to take any of his prescribed medicine. He also borrowed 2500$, destroyed AJP's computer and hasn't payed a single penny of it back, while he frequently buys very expensive computer equipment and forces us to pay for his food when he sneaks into our smashfests. The huge amount of money that he hasn't payed back is now being payed back by his (former) friend AJP, who barely has enough to buy food himself.

This is, btw, rockys mentor and very good friend.

btw, good job doing the classic C. "HURRDURR don't try to answer my lies because nu uh". And how would it waste your time if I shut down all of your points >_< [REDACTED]
I don't know why you brought this up here though, seeing as how all of your posts but one were swedish [REDACTED]

also, you generally spend time with your girlfriend when you're in a relationship during vday.
time that generally exceeds 1% of ones time during a day, esp if you're getting a gift

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14068540#post14068540>

ps: I'd gladly MM Hax for any amount of he was brave enough to fly out to europe... but hes probably too poor for that huh.

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14069221#post14069221>

I didn't say that, you ignorant * and how is beating someone in a money match "beating someone consistently"?

damn your dumb

also at DJ nintendo himself saying that people are ies for not doing money matches that risk their financial position

I mean seriously

ing seriously

haven't you learned ****

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14166359#post14166359>

Im gonna get so depressed if even one of you guys agree with something hax said in that post seriously, that has to be one of the worst post i've ever read

I dont even know where to begin

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14207763#post14207763>

what has kels done that proves that he is a "top 5" fox? Yeah he defeated Kage, but so did a lot of foxes (OMG SHOYO TOP 5 FOX).

Top 2 foxes are easily Mango then Javi and then there are about a billion foxes that excel in different matchups. Unknown, Lovage and SW are probably the ones who would be picked the most as top 5 but there are TONS of other great foxes that could easily be top 5 now (I'd like to consider myself one of them ;D)

I MEAN MW SUCKS

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14207789#post14207789>

John likes to think that MW doesn't suck

when it does

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14241199#post14241199>

Quote:

Originally Posted by DarrellD

*Every time i name search myself and i see that you posted anything with my name is getting on my last *ing nerve. I cant wait to run into you in tournament so i can soundly beat you and stop these retarded posts. * you are so god damn annoying* really didn't pick you for the salty whiny type.

LOOOOOLLLLLLLLLLLLLL

<http://www.smashboards.com/search.php?searchid=5127436>

All time I've mentioned you THREE times, where one where I quoted results you happened to be in. The other one I used you as one of the examples (the other being Duck) of how easy it is to punish samus tilt/jab by just shielding it, I didn't even mention my win. This is the first time ever writing about the fact that we even faced...

but yeah, "Every time i name search myself and i see that you posted anything with my name is getting on my last *ing nerve". L M A O oh and I'm looking forward to facing you too, but next time i'll actually have mained fox for more than one tournament and it wont be my first ever fox v samus matchup so I guess I'll have to go roy so you can take a stock or two off.

@Best samus: 1. Darrell/Plup (darrell should imo get #1 since he has performed much better in other nationals)

2. Hugs/Duck

3. Pi/IHSB/Cyr

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14241222#post14241222>

@C. You obviously are either very clueless about what being bipolar is or about how C acts. He is diagnosed with bipolar disorder type 1 and he is a textbook example of one (other swedes could easily confirm)

Maybe you are just in denial of other version of bipolar disorder because you suffer from bipolarism that isn't C's? You are type 2 rite?

That should explain it.

Nice ninja edit btw when you realized that you're were clueless, again (took you 8 hours too, lmao)

@Yoshi: You gets brutally 3+2 stocked by my yoshi with a character that relies on trading and without me giving a *, and then claims you claim that I'm scared to play yoshi. Yeah, totally. I would love to play yoshi again against you and I would have last weekend if you didn't wuss out of going to the tournament you had booked tickets for. Oh, and I annihilated everyone at that tournament using yoshi, not dropping a game, fyi. Me dominating Randomness with yoshi should be up soon.

But yeah, you're "TROLLING" so your horrible arguments and overcompensation is hip and cool.

inb4 comments about me being a douche btw, go figure, its mikefknhaggar

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14248963#post14248963>

lovage placed lower than Javi, so he should be considered worse. Going by "who beat who" is stupid and you're retarded for thinking so.

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14249651#post14249651>

HOW IS PRACTICE EVEN RELATED TO POTENTIAL WTF.

You make ZERO sense dude. Seriously, get it together.

ALL im saying is that the will+determination+stamina to play more is a PART OF being talent. I have written this maybe 3 times now, last in the post you answered. How do you not get it.

"The ability someone has to be good at something can't be measured, yet there are people out there that are better than others even though they -Play less

-Play without as much dedication

-Lack of good practice"

Uh, who of the top players (noob level like you dont mean  btw) have these? And if there are ppl like this, then their could talent is that they are simply smarter / learn faster (which again for the 10381031 time, is still a part of talent!), have a better mindset, have good reaction time/finger precision.

Your definition of talent cannot be measured, mine can (since tournaments show who are the most fit for the game)

Do you not realize this lol.

"Experience is obviously a factor in the over all skill level of the player, but when players beat another on a consistent basis even though they have far less experience is what destroys your argument"

ARE YOU SERIOUS. I have time and time again said that talent DOES exist and everyone isnt equally fit for playing Melee so some will outperform people who have more experience (I know this very well since my melee career is good example of me beating people with 10times more playtime).

All your above quote is saying is "Experience isn't everything" which is super obvious and does nothing against my reasoning.

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14250821#post14250821>

mikehaggar was funny

and then his post slowly got boring

then I met him irl and he was a totally different guy and he sucks  at thrashtalking irl

all he does is talk in a high squeaky voice and say things just aren't related/true enough for it to have any effect so now its just sad.

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14341791#post14341791>
heh, you're right.

if I cared enough I'd edit the douchiness out of the post but naaaaaaaaaaah
<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14346904#post14346904>
wow you guys are so retarded

LOL did I seriously get an infraction for this^
<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14388096#post14388096>
lol at jman deserving better.

the only reason hax came far anyway was because M2K forfeit and seriously, what is this "hax playing at 100%" Vids?

has he ever played as that in tournament? Who has he beat that proves that he even has that level?
Considering how long Hax has been in the top and how many times he has faced top players im amazed at how he has upset so incredibly few if anything, use lucky, wobbles, axe, chudat and the tons of other players who have and can actually beat people in the top but still place low half of the time instead of hyping up the player who always places the same (~8th) just because he plays falcon.

Im thinking that people are defining "playing good" as when Hax does stupidly unnecessary combos/auto combos on floaties and "playing bad" when he doesn't get huge combos falcon baby

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14388305#post14388305>
wow your stupidity ing amazes me

i mean seriously, what the hell is wrong with you guys

"^So you think peak skill is more important than consistency? " No, and consistency is constantly undervalued. However, if we are discussing "peak skill" I'd prefer that we rather talk about players that have a "peak skill" that is considerably different from their normal placing.

I have not seen Hax "peaking" so I asked for results/vids where he shows this "top 5 or above" peak.

"So according to you, we should get hype for people who get knocked out 2-3 rounds into bracket but ignore the man consistently placing top 10?"

Wow. I always knew that you were dumb Bing, but sheeeesh.
I did not mention "get hype for X" anywhere. I was not trying to tell you on who to cheer on or scream "GOOD " for. I was saying that if you're gonna discuss peaks, then Hax is a terrible example.

I did never mention that you should "ignore" Hax. where are you getting that from.

"Leffen literally just said hax isn't good because he "only" places top 8 every single time."

WHAT HOW ARE YOU OMFG HOW seriously wtf

WHERE DID I MENTION HOW GOOD HAX WAS. All I said was that he isn't one of the people who have huge "peaks", like Axe and Lucky for example have. you even ing used "literally"
LOL
how the  can you...

@Kage: Do I even have to? I'm just gonna say that I'm happy that you picked the by far simplest character to play because... well...
<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14388413#post14388413>
Im not really mad

im just very baffled at your stupidity
<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14394465#post14394465>
Quote:

Originally Posted by Willy OD

You didn't have to change the bracket in the first place. And it wasn't pool , it was because you were too afraid by Armada. They told you "no" a hundred times before cracking up because you were so godamn annoying. A lot of persons had to face the same persons they had in pools. But no one cried like you did. You can't have a perfect bracket just because you want to. Deal with it now. You failed, even with tears.

I didn't have to change the bracket? LMFAO are you serious whats the point of having pools if 90% of all 1st and 2nd seeded people (who were SEEDED TO WIN too!) face each other 2nd round?

When people said "no" I asked why. I got ZERO answers, and I asked 20+ times. I understand if you don't understand english but SHEEEEEEEESH and lmfaos at me being scared of armada. I tried to fix the whole bracket but they would only let me finish my because it was "too late" when it wasn't even close to "too late".

Having a good bracket is as easy as asking me/armada/some other good TO for advice or to just check that everything is okay before you start playing the bracket. This should be STANDARD for any local tournament, let alone a huge international one for gods sake.

* whats the point

@Battlecow: Either you are very dumb and you somehow don't see that calling them scrubs was 100% a joke, or you're just salty enough that you just keep on badmouthing me out of spite either way you're hilarious

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14394542#post14394542>

Watching my random top tiers (my cf/sheik iirc) along with MacD's Peach and Nikos Marth get raped by Hbox's ness was one of the best smash moments ever. I've rarely been so impressed.

I'm proud to say Hbox raped me with Ness. Does anyone know if there are vids? I know it was streamed...

I consider myself to be ranked 3-8th in europe atm. I'll be #1 soon enough.
I have a ~6-1 record against both Pepito and IVP during the last year. "Often", lol.

@Mikehagggar. Wanna know something funny about Mikehagggar? Mikehagggar sucks. Mikehagggar places last in teams not winning a game. Mikehagggar misses his trains to tournaments and when he has no other way to escape getting raped in pools by my Yoshi he burns himself on a PAPRIKA (that he heated up himself).

Mikehagggar burnt himself on a paprika so bad that he had to leave the tournament and his dad had to get his things.

I still can't stop laughing when I think about it

LOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOLLL

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14395369#post14395369>

Quote:

Originally Posted by MikeHagggarTHAKJB

yes, i intentionally burnt myself to avoid playing you. as always everyone and everything revolves around you you're the little entitled little  who cries (literally) over having to sit in the middle seat in a car on a ride over to gothenburg. that's a lot better than being clumsy and missing trains

LOLLLLLLLLLLLLLLLL

are you kidding

I didn't know Mikehagggar himself would be soooooo easy to trollbait you honestly don't see the hypocrisy in the top part of your post LOL?

you are the only one who thinks everything revolves around you lmao and you apparently don't know what the word "literally" means either.

you know damn well that if well that I could post a LOT more * on you than you could on me so will you stop this pathetic act and

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14395735#post14395735>

kage you have lost to link in tournament and PP almost beats you with roy in MMs

why the hell do you think you have a say in this lol

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14399819#post14399819>

I'll never lose to you

Maybe the crowd screaming in my ear+ you spamming nooby predictable puff * all the time like usual but never you in a fair fight

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14436714#post14436714>

the logic of "WELL IF I HAVENT SEEN YOU PUNISH IT ITS IMPOSSIBLE!!!11" is *ing retarded, especially when I present strong counterargument with reasonable evidence and you simply resort to "OMG LETS SEE YOU DO IT!"

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14441611#post14441611>

wow you are serious >_>

Randall is ZERO percent random.

Turnips are random yes, BUT, you still have to hit with them (which americans are god *ing awful at avoiding btw, especially when comparing to swedes, according to armada) and peach is HEAVILY limited when holding a turnip.

Aside from that, banning Peach or pulling turnips is much harder and worse than banning a stage that already has tons of other problems.

and please, enough with your terrible anecdotal advice. We both know that you dont know * about top level play in todays metagame, how about you act like it. Provide some evidence that proves that there isn't randomness in the result of matches on these stages with hazards that can OHKO you.

There is strong evidence suggesting that the RNG will affect the outcome of the matches in a unpredictable way, and your anecdotal advice is not strong enough to disregard that.

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14467022#post14467022>

haha yooooooooooooo

MW is *ing terrible compared to any other region lol

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14467328#post14467328>

Quote:

Originally Posted by Paju ➤

Well that's because Newton's laws still have practical uses. However, I don't see any practical uses for this information.

Yeah I agree

its not like there is something called archaeology

oh wait

also this was said in 1993, so im pretty damn sure when it was "new news" for you 2 finnish hipsters that it was actually already old did that stop you from enjoying it then? thought so hipsters man

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14467419#post14467419>

Quote:

Originally Posted by Mooooose ➤

i heard duck beat u in a mm

yes, duck beat me 2-1 in a 1 dollar money match and he still didnt even make bracket

god damn that changes EVERYTHING no wait its still much worse than any other region of comparable size (and many much much smaller)

yes, they have some above average players but what region doesn't lol inb4 john talks about how good kels is

lmao

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14474663#post14474663>

Quote:

Originally Posted by ShroudedOne ➤

I've never understood the appeal of criticizing things for the sole sake of criticizing them. People are weird. :\'

But yeah, people should never ever be forced to play on stages that are bad for their characters. I mean, imagine having to actually learn how to perform on a stage to mask your character's weaknesses! It's not like Armada has ever beaten a Fox on Pokesmon Stadium, after all. It's just not fair.

I hope you're not serious about any of this. esp the last sentence.

also I love how everyone answers my statement about darkrain being overrated with "LOL HOW CAN YOU NOT AGREE WITH THE PUBLIC OPINION OMG".

What has he REALLY done, except for doing a above average combo video and do combos that people remember. If he had any outstanding achievements that would make him a player of pc chris/kdj/ken/azen/m2k/yougettheidea then you'd be just be telling me them and no hax, the fact that falcon requires infinite skill is not a good argument

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14474871#post14474871>
lol and there comes kage with the stupid statement of the thread like usual thank you.

moving on

I really wish that MW (and europe) was comparable to the EC/WC guys, I really do lol. Im also not gonna lie about the fact that the skill level in europe sucks ****.

be happy americans.
Melee is really one of the few competitive things that america is the best at with international competition sadly even here you don't have the best player and soon im gonna rape all you flopmericans for europe

apex2013
* fc

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14515334#post14515334>
Is there any GOOD Lucario players/footage?

I wanna see if anyone uses the techniques I found and how people handle his horrible flaws.

also those 2 combos are *ing horrible

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14515462#post14515462> you play someone who is better than you and you are probably bad.

oh and WHY THE HELL ARE YOU SHIELDING AGAINST LUCARIO AGAIN?

Aura cancel combos are a nice concept but they are badly designed his back air and neutral air should REALLY be reverted to his old animations because they are awkward as * now

Honestly all of his aerals/his jump arc should be changed a bit imo, it all feel extremely unnatural

Lucarios ideas are all great, but he needs a more refined feel to him.
Probably the best character atm but it won't be reached because no one is gonna have enough brawl+melee+sf exp and the community is too small to work out all of his (overpowered)option selects

I guess I'll finally write my Yoshi essay and get into the PMBR since no one else seem to play him
<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14515541#post14515541>
youre dumb

just spotdodge lucarios dash attack and rape him for free it also has *ty priority and you can simply attack him during his "dash back" during dash dancing since he has no options then about jab x2

what is CC? you play roy, you should know a bit about it sheesh also, spotdodge after 2nd jab rapes palm. Buffer jump/roll rapes palm. You can shield grab any of lucarios jabs and the force palm

Lucarios best option on the ground isn't force palm, force palm is only good as a airgrab

Lucario still has mixups on shield, but his ground game mixups are extremely complicated and hard to use and in the end, infinitely inferior to fox/falco/wolf/lucas/any character with a good grab game

Dash attack is just super overrated. Sure, you cannot shield and punish it for free, but since when can you shield a *ing grab? Grabs, who have higher reward, less lag and who beat CC for free
<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14515634#post14515634>
LOL at Sheik and Marth vs Falco being impossible emo whiny * you have a horrible mindset and should stop being an awful representative for the smash scene

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14515797#post14515797>
LOL at roy having a better throw game/edgeguards then GAW

are you serious umbreon

wait no, you have talked with PP so nvm you're right
<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14515970#post14515970>
Quote:

Originally Posted by odinNJ
G and watch is an awful body with great moves. Roy is a mediocre body with trash Moves, how is g and w NOT better than Roy?

this type of post is *ing terrible and is only ever worth something if the person reading already knows that you have a good grounds to say this in other words, since you are such an awful player I now feel like roy is the better character.

damn fu
<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14516589#post14516589>
Quote:

Originally Posted by Umbreon

i think i know things because i talk to some of the best people we have.

you think you know things because you're european.

You think you know things because PP is too nice to call you out on your hopeless bull*

I could list a *ton of things that you have been dead wrong on if I wanted to, but you'd probably answer with "lol I talk with PP".

EVERY SINGLE POST you make you refuse to properly explain anything, and just come in spoofing with made up authority that you think you have (and the only "ground" you give is that you talked about it with PP)

You are a washed up veteran that thinks he know * when you dont have any *ing clue about high level play anymore

"roy's DD alone is better than mewtwo's entire character."

"yoshi is gimped as soon as his character appears on the stage with a capable opponent."

"YL vs fox is IMO one of the worst matchups in the entire game. a technically proficient fox can just do moves at the character blindly and it's horribly hopeless."

Never any explanation. Why? Every time you say "lol lets talk on aim" or "I have already discussed this with PP" Imfao and for me, no, I think I know a lot about the game because I play it in actively in tournament, experiment more than ANYONE and because many top players have appreciated and implemented things I've told them into their game

Oh, as for talking to good people. I talk to and coach Armada, THE best player, and he has now 3-0d your boy PP TWICE.

STFU or use decent arguments for once

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14516638#post14516638>

I love making people hate to love me

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14516665#post14516665>

The reason that I act like a douche on the internet is because I enjoy seeing people rage over the internet. It colors these empty words.

Oh and people are horribly incorrect and awful at *ing everything and everyone is to *ing prideful to admit anything of it so they never improve

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14516727#post14516727>

How so? I'm of course I don't literally mean what I said... but you get the point.

Explaining exactly why I do what I do would take too much work and I'd probably lie my  off because I'm flawed, like everybody else.

AIM discussions often tend to be more about just overwhelming your opponent instead of actually thinking properly while arguing. The results of the discussion is also entirely dependent on how stupid the other person is. When you make a forum post, your target audience is much bigger and has no such limitations.

They also have the advantage of being private, so Umbreon's terrible explanations never reach anyone who has already acknowledged him.

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14524734#post14524734>

Quote:

Originally Posted by Strong Bad ➤

*it's just really he's disrespectful for no reason. yeah it's the internet etc. but he's kind of a * in the way he goes about debating things. there are plenty of people i disagree with on many things but don't really mind because they disagree in a respectful manner. leffen's posting style is just rude, disrespectful, and obnoxious. look around for posts by KirbyKaze, Dr Peepee, Armada, Cactuar, etc. and you'll hardly ever see petty insults or whatever, and it's part of the reason they're respected. you don't gain respect by being an , no matter how accurate your information is.*

and if you respect peoples opinion just because they "disagree in a respectful manner" it just means that you prefer sugarcoated wrongs over disrespectful truths.

I could go and say "yes jabx2 is good but not broken" like a respectful person would and I wouldn't get hated as much but that is not the TRUTH. The truth is that Sethlon doesn't know jack * about jabx2 and while rude, I'm sure as hell not gonna hold myself back and let his bull* slide.

Also, KK and Cactuar are both extremely disrespectful at times, just like me. The difference is that when I see someone bull*ting, I write whats wrong AND why they came to the wrong conclusion (because they are a terrible player etc)

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14527135#post14527135>

you're a bad *ting player

your anecdotal evidence means nothing

Im not saying that it makes up for it, but its an advantage when you compare his shield to someone like DK, Mewtwo, Pika where it barely helps at all if you angle it.

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14534015#post14534015>

I have never seen such flawed arguments in a long time.

JPOBS, Spam Arrows. I salute you. You're officially too stupid warrant me raping you in a discussion

@DoH: Vanz and MacD quit (peach). As for Sheik players there are Tope, KDJ, M2K, Amsah, KK among many others

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14534072#post14534072>

The post was talking about you, but wasn't really directed for you.

It was more a "haha look at this *ing retarded poster that doesn't even play the game anymore and has stupidly flawed arguments please don't care about him" NOT "lol jpobs youre dumb go cry your self to sleep"

I'm glad that I had to spell that out for you, though, only proves my point further

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14534152#post14534152>

Nice spelling.

And no, I don't think you care about what I write. I do however think that by moving this thread offtopic, we will move attention away from your horrible post, letting fewer people view it. Thank you for helping me achieve this

A tier list is not easily defined, and the front page "definition" is NOT what everyone voted by.

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14534173#post14534173>

Jesus, are you that dense?

I was JOKING, I knew you were just "trolling me", of course you don't wanna move the thread off topic. However, by letting you troll me, I get people to realize how *ing retarded that post was and since it moves the thread offtopic it removes attention from it its incredible how you have still not realized this LOL

* _Arrows: I really don't wanna talk to you about these things. You just give me a headache. Your awful name, title and signature doesn't help you, either

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14534186#post14534186>

I spelled it out for you, you dumb ****

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14544343#post14544343>

IIT: below average players who are horribly ignorant

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14544656#post14544656>

I think this community is good at some things but really horrible at others. People are extremely lazy and ineffective

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14546631#post14546631>

3. thanks for being naive and narrowminded

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14546974#post14546974>

I think all the top players could learn stuff from each others whatever dude, if you're retarded enough to think that M2K's marth couldn't learn from a ton of marths then I cba lol

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14561603#post14561603>

lol.

In the past 3 months or so I've actually had more "lol am I the only one who enjoys leffen's posts" than actual haters LMAO

Quote:

i didn't finish reading the post you quoted so i thought he was talking about b-air -> shine -> early fadeaway b-air (instead of late b-air).

thanks for summarizing that wall of text for me. i don't know if i would have been able to comprehend it had it not been for this douche quip.

Look at the first part, and then at the last.

You deserve * if you don't fully read the posts, and then act like you know *. With how you somehow failed to understand what I even talked about in the last post, you needing a short summary is not out of the question.

You don't fail a first graders spelling test and then hate on people who assume that you don't know how to spell

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14561631#post14561631>

Quote:

Originally Posted by Archangel

LOOOOOOL.

I actually just can't get around Sheik mentally it's not about advantage or disadvantage in that case. I'm just more comfortable vs sheik with pretty much anyone else I play. Luigi, Fox, Falco, Falcon, Peach, and Puff are all characters I do better with vs Sheik.

Big woop. Because you lose to random sheiks in pools now everyone should play fox, even those one million times better than you.

You doing better against Sheik when you still don't beat anyone with half a brain doesn't matter * for top players, know your place scrub if you are kidding, which you are obviously gonna pull out asap, then that doesn't really make it any better. You're not creative, funny or original, and you're acting exactly how everyone assume a player of your level would

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14561660#post14561660>

Is it wrong that I call out on peoples bull* when they act fraudulent?

I don't hate on players who say "I don't think you could punish it". I "hate" on people who cannot even understand the post and then act like they know everything. Maybe then the person, and everyone seeing the *falls that rain on him, learn to actually read the post before posting

Oh, and I don't feel the "need". I just enjoy doing it, and I think it works better. And even if I am a bratty little kid, that doesn't really explain why I'm correcting you, and you not me. The reason for that is that you're vastly inferior in read and understand a simple post.

But feel free to john away your failure with personal insults instead of actually learning something. Scrub.

@Sveet. Dash attack is great in a number of situation. It's just so fast. The reward isn't incredible, but its speed and reach makes up for it

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14561943#post14561943>

puff loses to marth easy lol

you haven't even played the matchup with proper pivot tipper use, so please don't act like you know it

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14562261#post14562261>

I'm not Lovage/S2J/other mango wannabe, Bones

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14562284#post14562284>

you forgot the character mains, noob

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14564497#post14564497>

you're terrible for thinking that doc and mario are even close in the tier list noob.

<http://smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14564520#post14564520>

you're making a horrible job of the easiest task in the world, impersonating me

you untalented *****

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14796535#post14796535>

Quote:

Originally Posted by Strong Bad

Yeah, I do well with DK because I buffed him a ton, not due to my own skill or anything. Not to mention the fact that DK has probably the most conservative buffs out of any Melee mid/low tier.

No, I never said your success had anything to do with DKs buffs

However, hes one of the few low tiers that has actually gotten a fix to all his major problems, unlike Ganon/Bowser also your DK in P:M is bad, any top player could play him for 10 minutes and perform better, just like your melee DK. no offense, but you dont use 10% of his potential.

@Xeylode:

Snake is an awful example for you lol

Snake was often considered to be better than MK in the beginning, and then he was 2nd. Now hes 5th, and players like Ally think he should fall even more iirc.

Snake isnt even that "simple" to play but its more that he requires exp to fight against (not failing juggles really rapes him)

A better example is D3/GaW who were 3rd/4th in brawl, and they're now 12th/15th... both super simple characters, very much like Ike.

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14796554#post14796554>

play him like marth

not like some mongo dongo bongo drummer on drugs like you do you can always use back air now, use dat  also spam pivot grab edit: as for you, I watched one match and cried my eyes out stop tech rolling away 103810381083 times in a row stop spamming rolls out of shield like a 5 year old playing brawl stop falling down with forward air hoping that your opponent wont realize its faster now stop thinking dk punch beats everything, esp ganons bair

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14808734#post14808734>

I'll try to donate some if possible but honestly this seems very very unlikely to succeed...

also I'm still looking around for a teammate... ditching me and then coming back crawling when I raped you isn't too nice is it

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14819598#post14819598>

oh my *ing god how can you guys not realize that Varist is just trolling you guys make me seriously depressed...

a quote like "think about how dumb the average person is... then think about how half of the population is even dumber" fits very well in here.

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14869893#post14869893>

Thats because you play bad Yoshis tbh... yoshis nair is +2 on shield and yoshis should use a lot of emptys -> fsmash (causes grab to miss and is safe) and DJ-Dair (better empty, impossible to react to) whatever though, people think yoshi sucks, and I've really had it with the endlessly ignorant people (read: not you kk specifically) so nvm.

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14873482#post14873482>

Check my old posts for lots and lots of yoshi information. I used to do a lot of informative posts but 99% of them were simply ignored or forgotten super fast... I don't really feel like repeating myself because if you truly want to learn, just read through the vman thread etc, me or vman handfeeding you is only gonna get you so far.

I also had no yoshis to look to whatsoever (Vman had like 4 unserious friendly sets... anyone taking those as a serious inspiration should be laughed at)... I literally went into AR/Dolphin and checked EVERYTHING.

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14895055#post14895055>

Letting mikhaggar commentate serious matches makes me lose all respect for your stream worst commentary worldwide (for serious matches)

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14895257#post14895257>

I have no real problems with your commentary as long as its serious, but you have to constantly stroke

"I do actually know alot about moles, it's my biggest strength when it comes to this game " also repeat yourself some more. your stuff gets stale real fast lol edit: me + mikehaggar for official 24/7 stream commentators lets go.

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14903503#post14903503>

lmao you just are hilarious aren't you

do you think anyone ing cares about your retarded rants? >_>

well anyway, I honestly also think that me + mikehaggar would be a pretty good commentating team. Sure, you would have the arguing....

LOL NO, because mikehaggar never says  to me irl, and neither do I to him (I honestly don't "hate" mikehaggar, hes just boring/stupid at times, but considering how he tries to make me out to be the worst person in the world, you'd think that he could have the nerve to ever say something to my face).

If we are on stream I wouldnt say  about our personal stuff lol, why the hell would I want to. To think that I'd do that really proves that its actually you who'd do it Mike lmao.

btw, game knowledge (aside from frame data) is one of the main things that keep you from choking, so get the hell away with those johns lmaooo

edit: its sad that you're so bad at this game, otherwise we could have a hype rivalry, that'd be cool get yourself together with your "choking" and stuff and maybe you'll have a shot in 3, 4 years (supersrsbszn!!1  >:>)

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14903603#post14903603>

"I've been wanting to confront over things irl, but I've avoided it to not cause drama"

.....

yep

mikehaggar doesn't like drama.

jesus your worldview is so off, I don't even want to continue arguing.

you earlier posted:

"I'll stop ripping on leffen now because it will lead to him destroying the thread,"

lolllll

and if you do not see how game knowledge (again, not framedata type stuff) is incredibly important to not choke then whatever, I can't really argue that your other mental problems dont play a huge role in your "choking" , but for most people, that aint true.

I don't really see this debate going anywhere, since all you are gonna do is mindlessly spew out walls of text repeating the same thing a million times (that, have very little truth in them) and ignore the productive things that could come out of this (also, please learn to read, will you? You always misinterpret everything, our previous debate had this happening a million times and you still don't get half of what im saying)

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14903723#post14903723>

I wasn't even talking about your mental disorder, jeez. If I ment that, then I'd say "WELL YOU CAN*T PLAY BECAUSE YOU HAVE A MENTAL DISORDER DERP DERP"

I was just talking about your mental problems that aren't related to game knowledge, such as motivation, ability to perform under pressure etc that everyone has >_<

oh well, as usual you are blinded by your hate. All of my "lies" and me "trying to make you look bad" is to a large deal just you being incredibly paranoid and self centered which led to you misinterpreting everything again and again (and I have already proven that you did this in the past). You think that I'm trying to lie away what I've done to you/rocky, when its the complete opposite, but even if you would realize this you'd never admit it because this internet ego thing of yours is the so ing important to you

also, at the ban stuff. are you serious with your first sentence?your intentions are stupidly clear.

and if you didn't know, that "Ban" thing im guessing you and rocky tried to apply is complete bull that will never go through in a million years.

anyway I'm done, this is not going anywhere and you're just gonna repeat yourself AGAIN. this is probably gonna be replied to with you hating on me even more and trying to twist what I've said, but whatever.

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14917203#post14917203>

Quote:

Originally Posted by Bones0

Your second clip should be Lovage's nair-shine shield pressure to hard read usmash vs. Tope at Northwest Manifest.

The people saying a vid like this wouldn't attract newer players is being extremely condescending imo. Even new players are able to recognize and appreciate smart reads when they see them.

Look, it may be condescending, but that doesn't mean that its wrong.

Your first part just confirmed how right I was, sigh.

jeez this is just gonna be 3 minutes of people rolling into *, *ing noobs man

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14938956#post14938956>

Armada has already lost his phone and gotten hit by a bicycle.

Clear leader of the Rocky League

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14956060#post14956060> that is a very bad pie chart.

its more like

100% this thread is a big *ing mess who the * would listen to this guy and 10% jesus vanir who are you and why do you spend your days flaming me with these terrible, uncreative posts.

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14956118#post14956118>

lol i am not reading that that post is a messssssssssssssssssssssssssssssssss skimming through i realize that you did not get what I said at all

WE ARE ALL *ING HYPOCRITES, THATS THE POINT. You spend 1038103 words trying to do the same *ing thing again, to put yourself above me on a moral level by stating how wrong I am and all the bad things I've done in the past.

That doesn't mean *, and thats the point. If you see a problem in what I say, then answer that instead of trying to put me down with "oh well u did this before ohohoho"

How the * can you blame me on thinking that I am better even though the results may not have said so when you do the exact same thing? Just because you try to hide it with "oh well i had a bad day when I said it" doesn't change anything.

I just *ing say what I think, and if some rules like "you have to win twice to be the best" have to be bent then * it, we do not live in a black and white world and rules are meant to be broken.

Also, please don't confuse seeding with "who is the best". Getting the highest seed is not even close to the same thing as being considered the best by yourself/others. No one in this thread wants mango to be seeded over you, but people do think that he is better. Mango doesn't say he wants the highest seed, but he still thinks that he is the best. See the connection? There isn't necessarily a connection between top seed and who people think is the best, and there shouldn't be.

and I said OTHER top players, I am very well aware of his score against you, smartass.

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14956194#post14956194>

I'm not trying to be "defensive" I'm just trying to put an end to the mindless "no john" spam.

You didn't "just say that ec is playing much more" you said "ec is playing way more than wc SO NO JOHNS". One is offensive, one isn't.

and I just told you to shut it with the stupid "lol u john a lot" and then you go on a rant and explain how I do things that can be considered a "john". If you have a problem with me doing anything to "excuse" my losses then fine, tell me one of those examples (give me an example of me trying to excuse my loss against over. Oh wait, there isnt any) but don't just say "WELL YOU ARE KNOWN FOR JOHNING" soooo yeaaaah i dont know how to say anything else but yeah ice also said you john ok? ok? well no i cannot think about an example but maybe you john too much? john? john? well no johns.

You displayed exactly what I said I hated in my previous post, mindless hating behind the term "john" to criticize anything that you don't fully understand. You at least tried to criticize me with "well 3/4 were on PS" and I answered that, I'd like to keep it that way instead of you constantly trying to throw  at me instead of doing anything constructive.

also please put some more effort into grammar/spell checking your posts, they are very hard to understand imo.

@bones: LOLLLLLLLLLLLLLLLLLLLLLLLLLLLLL -dead-

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14957010#post14957010>

Look, armada.

I told you before to "shut it with all the *ing rants about how much I john" and then you go do it again. *ing genius. I do not care if yo, u consider what I do johning, so please, please stop bringing it up as an argument.

I didn't *ing try to lie about how much I had played, and I openly admitted that I had played way more. If I misspoke to Slynus, then I apologize for that because it was not intentional. Do you seriously think that I would not realize that he'd talk to you or that he'd have no clue what so ever? If I wanted to lie about it, I would've done a way better job and you know this.

and seriously "What is the next step?" LOLLLLLLLLLLLLLL will you stop making this waaaaaayyyy bigger than it is? This doesn't even qualify as a teenage drama, and even high school girls would laugh at how menial our fights are.
I know that you have your life is centered around smash atm but seriously you've got to realize that this isn't a *ing big deal.

Also, bringing up examples of me "johning" but then not criticizing why it was wrong other than it being wrong was exactly what I told you not to do, so will you pleeeeee understand that? Even so, I'll take a look at my "johns" that you spent so much time on digging up.

The YT video that you linked has the following comment THAT KILLED FIVE BABIES:

Quote:

GGs.

Sigh, I cant even watch this_ set without feeling embrassed over how * my excecution was >_>

oh well, next time 😊

-leffen

Yes. that's literally it. All I did was say that I was disappointed in myself (_SIGH_) and I still said GGs to make it even clearer that I was not trying to excuse my loss (aka johning). Having good execution is really hard, and its a part of what makes you good. Are you not allowed to be ashamed of how bad you are?

example numero dos is even worse, because not only do you circle argument (omg this is bad so this is bad because fuzzyness thinks its bad so that means its bad) but it had NOTHING to do with johns.

Yes, I ragequitted when he could've won but that has NOTHING to do with me trying to excuse our loss (which I didn't)I'm starting to think that you don't even know what the term "john" means. Even so, I of course realized how bad my behavior was and stopped doing it.

Since after that, I've had Fuzzyness beg me for months straight about us teaming again, and the reason he used at KFC for leaving me was "I just wanted to try with Ice because I thought it would work better, but we had no teamwork".

I'm *ing done discussing this with you here. This is just meaningless drama and you simply don't seem interested in understanding a tenth of my posts and half of your posts don't even make sense:

"You mostly of them time trying"

"I was saying I had played PM less then I have and you/Fuzzy way more then you have (maybe not cause what Fuzzy told you in Denmark it seems like he has been playing A LOT)."

WHAT.

I'd prefer if we could just stop this, I'd like to not lose you as a friend >_>

I'll take extra precaution to not upset you by "johning" or "lying to make myself seem better" since its so important to you.

Contact me through something else than smashboards if you really feel the need to discuss this further.

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14958774#post14958774>

lmao, I love how retarded mikehaggar is.

Mikehaggar doesn't like anything that doesn't let him get away with getting last place in EUROPE while being the player that plays the most with Armada outside of his brother. According to Mikehaggar, he has GREAT game knowledge, but since he still places horribly, he says that his is only problem is "choking".

Anyway, I find mihaggar to be both too bad of a player and too full of his ego that I'd waste time trying to tell him anything about this game. I wouldn't really mind if he stayed this horrible until he quits tbh, but I'd love to see others improve, so I'll share my thoughts on the matter.

My argument is basically this: good game knowledge makes you less likely to choke. You can still choke, of course, but it's really important.

I clearly stated that it was ONE OF the main things to keep you from choking, but mihaggar simply doesn't understand that and spammed this quote around 20 times on and off stream just during the recent tournament so yeaahhhhhh. Doubt this surprises anyone

So let's get into it.

Good execution requires good game knowledge. This is a fact. How do you wave shine? How do you wave shine without turning around? Why do I get stuck in my shine?

What makes melee's execution so much harder than almost any other fighter out there is that it requires immense game knowledge. Every single stage is extremely different, every character is very different, and your opponent's character and his inputs changes your execution!

Without good game knowledge you'll have a hard time becoming consistent with hitting your execution.

Missing ledgedashes that turn into ledgehops could for example be prevented by knowing that you have to reset the stick to neutral before letting go, and so on.

When you miss your combos, pressure, or whatever, it's very very very common for people to choke.

When you don't know why you just SD'd, it's much harder on you mentally because you don't know how to fix it and you often spend time thinking about why it happened and so on.

For MVC3 a common example is when you don't know why your combo dropped on this character.

What will you do to fix it? Is that combo even possible? Do you remember the proper combo for this character with X amount of meter with X assists ready at X spot on the screen.

While these thoughts are racing through your head, you lose focus on what your opponent is doing and is often known as "choking".

Another important thing is that with good game knowledge, you'll know what the go-to options for people in high pressure situations is for each character, and you're more likely to not "choke" and get the better of the situation. You can say that this comes "with experience" but that doesn't mean that the "experience" you gain isn't in the form of game knowledge.

As I stated, I'm not talking about frames here, or what character has the longest roll, or whatever. I'm talking about knowing a lot about the game, how people think, how players play it in tournaments and how you should go about your gameplan/strategy to not come up empty handed.

One common, easy example, is when you have a mixup. You know that your opponent can do A, B and C to counter your X, Y and Z. You'll be playing it right, winning every mixup.

Suddenly, your opponent pulls out F, and it changes the mixup game completely. You don't know the counter to F, and you aren't aware of what it counters. F can in fact be a very fraudulent gimmick, but since you did not know about it (aka didn't have enough game knowledge) it changes everything.

Your opponent can now freely go back to doing A, B and C and this really messes with your head, and very very often causes people to choke

An ingame example could be Westballz' doubleshine wavedash down. 99% of people simply don't know how to beat it, and after getting hit by it once or twice their defense just crumbles and they start choking. Another one could be any of the Ice climbers' desyncs, or Yoshis parrying. Everyone chokes when they get hit even once by a parry->djc, but if they simply had more game knowledge, it'd be easy to adjust.

I didn't come up with this theory, I took a lot of it from other well known FGC commentators (check out ultrachenTV where they talk about this) but I think it applies very well to smash. Especially since our community is small and spread out, so people don't get to face all of the gimmicks before they face a specific player, so its very important to know what to do and how to do it when the specific situation comes up.

Let me know what you think, this theory is still very "in-progress" for me

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14959131#post14959131>

"and why dont you try to explain your retarded claims instead of throwing out personal insults to people who expose you"

LOLLLLLLLLLLLLLLLL

im done

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14959163#post14959163> its the combination my man.

being awful and thinking you know * when you dont, while letting your ego block your improvement.

is not the same as being good, knowing * and having a big ego that doesn't block improvement.

Being able to back up your *talk is vital, you're just a fraud.

oh and don't pretend like your mockery got exposed, no matter how you twist it.
Getting demoralized leads to choking, smartass.

with that, I'm out. Gnight.

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=14986179#post14986179>

Umbreon is such a fraud lmao.

Understanding the game has very very little to do with how well you can explain it. Just because you THINK you can explain it, if you can't use it in practice then theres something you've misunderstood honestly.

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=15008424#post15008424>

The more I read from Purpletuce the more I realize how stupid he is.

Whatever, I'm out.

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=15116445#post15116445>

@Vman:

I don't hate you. However, I do really dislike that you are such a lowtierhero, who think that a futile accomplishment matters just because you were playing with a "bad" (yoshi is high tier) character. And then you constantly come in and say "oh hi im sad ppl are forgetting pound 5" and "oh hi im back for the 123103710371 time give me some attention"

The thing is, you take every chance you get to prove that pound 5 was a fluke. You never do well at locals, you didnt enter at g2, and you got annihilated as yoshi at apex2012 (lol you didnt go roy, I watched you get double 3 stocked by stabbedbyahippie as yoshi). The only videos that are up of you doing well as yoshi are hand picked friendlies

No one has proven anything with Yoshi in NTSC, Bowser players have done way better than you did at pound 5, and he is at least bottom 3. Winning against people with no matchup experience in bo3 sets just proves that you had more gimmicks/that they didn't know the matchup, and ANY character could do this (chillindude vs DJ nintendo)

I honestly do not give a damn about if people think you're the better Yoshi, it's very clear that everyone would like you to be. If people really think that me being the better, and much more motivated player overall doesn't give me leverage over a getting last in a bracket 2 years ago and then basically quitting then I don't value their opinion anyway.

I know that I'm the better myself, so its really just funny at this point. However, if you or any other Yoshi main would like to bet on it (according to how many vman says he has vouchers you have others could back you up I guess) then I'd put any amount on me winning. But that isn't going to happen. Because you don't play to be the best, you play to be a low tier hero, to get that 15 minutes of fame from not doing awful with that random low tier (roy, gaw, ness, mewtwo, yoshi so far?).

Don't get me wrong, I don't hate you as a person. I just hate your smash "persona" (just like most of you other guys hate me lol).

and yeah, I do act and talk like I'm better than everyone, but that is because I think I am. I like being honest. Feel free to ignore helpful advice because you can't stand my attitude.

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=15116946#post15116946>

[illegible]

```
get raaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaped mikehaggar
```

mr. i play the most with the best player in the world and still gets last place at tournaments, thank you for being so horrible, otherwise armada would have proper falcon experience

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=15118440#post15118440>

Quote:

Originally Posted by MikeHaggarTHAKJB

Look strongbad, this is what I'm talking about! Isn't it admirable? Isn't he cool? Get to work and get better so you can act in just as cool of a manner!

Is that why you're so polite?

I never entered this community to get attention or to be famous, I'm in here because I want to be the *ing best, not attention  while feeding the top players pot money like you.

Keep hating on me, it's hilarious. You do the same thing as I do, except you don't have any skill to back it up. I guess you're just jealous.

Trust me, if you think I'm the only one who thinks likes this then you should become just a tad bit more self aware. Oh, and since when is an opinion wrong just because it's not the norm?

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=15119053#post15119053>

Quote:

Originally Posted by MikeHaggarTHAKJB

This part is hilarious. The best part is that I wouldn't be surprised if you don't understand why it's so hilarious.

Wait... does this mean that people hate me????

Wow, I had no idea!!

There's a big difference between not knowing that people talk * about you, and not caring about it

It's apparent that you don't understand this though, and I'm happy that you don't. It always makes me smile when you show continue obsessing over me (like on KFC2 commentary LOL talk about making yourself look bad just to hate on me) lmao.

Quote:

Exactly, you can be an  as long as you have the skill to back it up. I need to get better so I can be a cool  like you!

Is that why you are so polite?

Seriously, your whole post gets raped and then you refuse to answer any of the points I brought up and find the 2 sentences that you could twist to being douchebaggy and then you scream "YES BUT YOU ARE AN  OMGGGGGGG"

hilarrrrrrious

dance for me puppet

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=15119081#post15119081>

S2J MM? 5$ fox vs falcon

also strong bad y u so salty

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=15119142#post15119142>

You took that long to make a one sentence post? Bravo, you reduced the

"Seriously, your whole post gets raped and then you refuse to answer any of the points I brought up and find the 2 sentences that you could twist "

to just finding one sentence, and not even a half of it.

and good job using irony, that must be hard for you. Too bad you are flaming me of something you did right back, and at least I apologized for it.

Its cool mikhaggag, at least you made me laugh. That counts for something, right?

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=15119200#post15119200>

Haha, nah hes even funnier/sad irl

he sits right behind me during most tournament matches and tries to make me choke by talking to me/thrashtalking, constantly talks  about me on commentary (check out kfc2 teams if you want to hear it)

maybe next time i should just tell the TO to get him banned, considering how people want inui banned for not doing something close to as bad lmao

maybe I should just do same thing back instead, but i mean, you can't get worse than last place anyway anyyyway. Fox. Anyone got advice on my set with over? <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=54sfSTNkoqo&feature=plcp>

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=15119562#post15119562>

hahaha, you're hilariously predictable. I was just wondering when you had to resort to that daaaance for me puppet

Oh and I'm just saying, if you don't want to be banned, then watch it.

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=15119614#post15119614>

that is from the stone age gimr

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=15132119#post15132119>

A gazillion bucks on my yoshi raping strongbad

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=15138622#post15138622>

I never quite understood how people can say "axe top 10 fo sho" and then "lol leffen/europe 33rd" when axe ALSO placed 33rd at apex oh and so did plup, chu dat and kage. they sure  hell could never do better than that, eh?

I'm just sayin, im gonna put in work, and  all dem haters

@strong bad. last time I checked, you still couldnt make it out of pools. and you can't even do well in a game that you designed for yourself, LOL. A potfodder hating on a player doing way better than you could hope for? imho you just look pathetic.

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=15138671#post15138671>

well i guess vectorman getting out of pools really was an achievement after all >_< to keep every one of your posts from being nonconstructive can you please write something that doesnt make your last post look like a status update, because i don't think anyone is interested in reading your diary.

i guess you'd like to think that you're special enough that we'd want to, just like everyone els , but guess what, you're not.

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=15138862#post15138862>

Quote:

Originally Posted by Strong Bad
you're trying to shut me up (when all I'm doing is stating facts) by saying i'm a worse player than you (which I am, congrats, you're better than an above average MW player). by that logic, should KK come in here, quote your retarded posts and say you suck because he outplaces you and you *should stop posing? no because he's not AN ABSOLUTE PIECE OF * like you are leffen*

$10 MM in both games

I'm not trying to shut you up at all, all im doing is pointing out is how silly you look when you're "JUST STATING FACTS" because both of us know that your intent is not to educate the public, your intent was to jump on the hate train of "LOL EUROPE GOT 33RD FREE!!one" because I was an  to you earlier. And its pathetic, what you're doing.

Also, if you want to give me your money, then fine. I should use this more, peoples hatred always makes them blind.

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=15144970#post15144970>

LOL. Listen, I cannot guarantee that I will have 200 dollars at the time.

The reason Hax is refusing to play unless he gets 200 dollars on the line is simple

1. Hax hates me as a person and thinks that im an awful player
2. I hate hax as a person but I respect him as a player (im not letting any bias make me ignorant)

So TLDR, Hax fears losing more than he'd enjoy winning, to make this change he wants to make playing it "worth it" by making him winning earn him lots of money, so the chance of losing to me would be acceptable.

And as Battlecow mentioned he knows I can't risk putting up so much money simply because of how expensive the trip is there, and is essentially buying himself out of looking "scared" by putting stupid amounts on the line.

This game has never been about earning money from me, and this MM would be the same. I just want to prove that I'm better. I'd be willing to play just for pride. I'm paying over a thousand dollars (for the third time) just to compete, I'm not (risking) spending another 200 just for a chance to prove myself against a player I'll still likely face in bracket.

If people think that I'm "scared" because I don't take a MM that I cannot guarantee the money for, then guess what, you're retarded. I haven't seen any of you pay for yor own trips to Europe, because no American would be willing to take that risk just to prove that he is better, its all about the money for you guys edit: I HIGHLY doubt that Hax would have 200 dollars lying around. It's very likely that he'd need backers to get to 200

Just face it, Hax is just scared of playing me for just the sake of proving who's better.

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=15192416#post15192416>

lol i like how EVERYONE cared about me but no one gave a  about westballz missing it sup *****.

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=15213856#post15213856>

lol mikehaggar. always so butthurt times are desperate when you have to brag about losing and getting sick and getting your dad to pick you up from the tournament

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=15247299#post15247299>

This was easily, and by far, the worst tournament I've ever attended. Organization, game, and information beforehand were all bottom tier.

However, I still want to apologize for being a bit too harsh to the crew, which even though all of the PMBRs failures with this tournament was not deserved also I'm probably not gonna play any more 2.5, or P:M overall, at least until you change some mechanics (pits arrows, sonics side B, charizards recovery, every god damn character having GODLIKE auto combos/recovery).The PMBR has some VERY VERY VERY bad character designers. This game does a very very poor job of rewarding the same type of skill that Melee does.

edit: possibly entering P:M at g3 just to stall every game with charizard, gay every character out with planking with pit, and just spamming side b with sonic to get them nerfed just like people did with lucario the second i did decent with him.

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=15247874#post15247874>

Quote:

since your parents are so incompetent they haven't learned you this im pretty much forced to step in.

lol ur amazing, is that what you think you're doing? LMAO

Mikehaggar, the parent. LOLLLLLL im sorry youre just so ing hopeless. Keep doing whatever you'd like, continuing to obsess over me is just gonna hurt yourself and no one else.

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=15247942#post15247942>

Keep giving yourself excuses to obsess over me for, the fact is that its only gonna hurt yourself and the people who you drag into your insane obsession.

I have made some mistakes, and I will certainly make more, but I will learn and improve from them and honestly, I wouldn't take any advice from you if you were the last person on earth, since really, you're *ing terrible at everything I value.

Whether it be mental health, social life, smash, school, being fit, commentary, work or simply not being ugly as * as far as I'm concerned you're *ing terrible at all of it.

I'm gonna try, I really am, to make this my last post about you Mikehaggar. Talking to, and knowing you, has been nothing but poisonous to me. You're probably gonna go balls to the walls crazy continuing your obsession over me, but I really, really hope that you'll eventually realize how stupid and fruitless it is.

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=15253923#post15253923>

I can't help but laugh at the irony of Hax with a poker avatar preaching about how bad luck is

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=15254722#post15254722>

Fox - Peach is NOWHERE as bad as armada tries to make people believe it is. Armada has always been one to stick to his ideas for wayyyy too long, even though everything speaks against it.

thats all I have to say, you guys are really just going nuts and making zero sense. let me know when you have a reasonable debate going on again LOL

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=15269076#post15269076>

Does anyone think that Mikehaggar is still funny? Seriously the attentionwhoring is just starting to get sad imho

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=15275479#post15275479>

Lol thats like saying:

WTF ARMADA DIDNT PM HBOX BEFORE POUND5 AND SAY THAT HE WAS GOING TO GO YOUNG LINK?

Thats low.

gtfo scrub

edit:Yoshi mains real problem is that they're all, honestly, really bad players overall (yes even v3ctorman) who have zero fundamentals and just rely on their character being gimmicky and that no one has experience against it.

Me giving them new tech would only distract them from what they really need to get better at.

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=15281629#post15281629>

The skullgirls community is pathetic.

I'm sorry, I know its "against the rules" to attack our competitor for some reason, but I've thought this long before this competition.

Just compare our communities:

Melee:

$50 gives you training and/or match critique from a top player

Skullgirls:

$50 Voice actor gives you a voice message

Skullgirls tried to hold a donation drive tournament yesterday
(<http://shoryuken.com/forum/index.php...lly-va.174667/>)

IT GOT TWO ING ENTRANTS.

And the tournament didnt even happen, the station was taken over quickly by KOF.

Let's show them what an actual, good community does when threatened by a group of tumblr jerkoffs.
We ing woop their *****.

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=15286845#post15286845>

when people think that "barely getting into bracket" = pushing a characters metagame to the limit i just sigh and realize how stupid the average person is

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=15286877#post15286877>

drill reset is fine at times but i really cant get why people think you need to do a 6 hits just get 1 or 2 hits, its enough and they can't sdi off is it that hard to piece it together lmao

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=15286977#post15286977>

lol how is "having known characters" a gimmick?

jesus youre ing retarded

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=15287020#post15287020>

what makes you think i give a  about what you think just because you're too stupid to know anything about the game and/or think for yourself does not mean you can go spouting your ignorant bull* like you matter.

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=15287031#post15287031>

most low tier players are *ing terrible tbh. taj is the only exception.

and taj plays marth too.

if you focus on being a low tier hero (read:retard) then in 100% of cases you will get nowhere and you probably have god awful fundamentals and only rely on gimmicks

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=15287195#post15287195>

Quote:

Originally Posted by Ripple

I don't think you care what I say, never said I did. if fact you've given pretty much everyone the impression that you don't care what anyone else says.

If I'm too stupid to know that Yoshi is high tier in NTSC maybe someone should show that he is. until that time, he deserves to be labeled as a mid tier at best.

yes, everything that aids not thinking by yourself should be applauded you're what wrong with the world lmao

if you know that i dont give a * about what you say, then why are you so eager to say it? you know damn well that you thought(hoped) that someone would care about what you had to say.

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=15287225#post15287225>

as I said, I really want to do it just so I can prove to these braindead morons who just follow the status quo what thinking outside of the box can give you.

im just not sure if its worth to spend time on such a hopeless matter though

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=15287282#post15287282>

You are requiring "evidence" for a claim that does not need any evidence.

you're so stuck in just following what others think that you could never take anything to your head and actually think about it. Yoshi is a top tier? LOL RESULTS OR DIDNT HAPPEN

That kind of thinking is *ing terrible, and if you weren't so locked in your way of thinking you'd take my critique of your post to heart and not make excuses as to why it didn't achieve the results you wanted (to get validation in your claim). We both know that you did not post to make me stop insulting people, COME ON. If you seriously did, then god damn that was a bad attempt.

I'm not always negative and I don't always insult people, but fine, use that as you go use that excuse to make sure that you will learn absolutely nothing from making such a terrible, pathetic post that was nothing but a desperate call for attention.

If you had actually given any kind of arguments as to why Yoshi isn't that good, then it would've been different. But you didn't. You couldn't just take a minute and think for yourself.

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=15308068#post15308068>

inb4 skullgirls gets in at more road to evo events and more/better stream time im just saying, this would nevvverrrr have happened if melee lost

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=15308144#post15308144>

You seem to go to a lot of tournaments Purpletuce... at least compared to the rest of the US yoshis. Keep at it but don't blame "choking" as to why you lost... you need to identify your problems to fix them and you have to be much more specific and/or detailed than just "I choked". Most of the time its just a way of not admitting "I lost to someone who my ego made me think I was better than"

oh, and beating a player better than you in a bo3 set 1 dollar mm is probably something you lost on overall... it takes very little skill to win in a bo3 with yoshi simply because of his gimmicks, and next time you face ciz in tournament he'll have experience against you.

Also... i still feel like you're that guy posting lots of empty facebook update with no discussion and no questions that nobody cares about... might be just me.

oh and im not even gonna read v3ctorman's post, lol. I glanced at it, saw something about pal vs ntsc and nationals and combovids...lolllll

All im gonna say on the matter of best yoshi is that if I'm not the best (and I laugh at the people who doubt it) then you can be damn sure that I'll be the best in a matter of weeks (if not days) since I actually practice Yoshi now.

i'm gonna try to upload the videos tomorrow btw.

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=15308252#post15308252>

The smash lab 2 is currently live over at @twitch.tv/bobby_scar oh and I got banned from the chat because during the donation drive when the chat was insane I wrote "anyone wanna do a skype chat so you can actually discuss something?" ONCE and which there came nothing from...

scar took this as me trying to rebel...

LMAOAOAOAo
LMAOAOAOAO

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=15309904#post15309904>

IIT random, under average players complain about the stagelist and demand answers instead of looking through the millions of topics on the same subject seriously, find a top player that wants a bigger stagelist and I'll be surprised.

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=15309930#post15309930>

if you have an iq point or two you can imagine what would happen with peach/ics/ganon/doc vs fox/falcon/falco on that stage lol.

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=15309966#post15309966>

You can complain at me "not knowing" you or whatever, but you have no idea if I actually know how hilariously average you are (protip: youtube)

Face it, you're not smart enough and you don't have enough influence to convince ANYONE with complicated principles or your discussion skills over smashboards. This subject has already been dealt with a million times, and its your responsibility to convince top players, host tournaments and come up with tournament footage that shows that stalling/degenerate types of play CAN'T happen.

Saying "I want tournament footage" really shows how out of touch you are. You aren't the people who decide, and the absolute majority of all TOs/Players DON'T want a bigger stagelist, thus the burden of proof is actually on you, maybe that's unfair but that is the way it is, and you need to accept it if you wanna achieve anything.

Oh, and there is tournament footage, but that isnt even needed, thats the whole point.

<http://www.smashboards.com/showthread.php?p=15309989#post15309989>

That wasnt in response to you, you sensitive little random.

[12] Swedish Forum Posts

<http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=33248#p33248> Jan 25/2010 – A very old post from when leffen had played for 3 months, ripping on a newcomer

"I like how Coz says he's even 1/100th as good as Radde when he doesn't know what spacing is.

I don't get what people are thinking with."

<http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?f=13&t=972&p=92802#p92802> Oct 30/2012 – Jerk is a scrub

"Jerk is such a fucking textbook scrub that it's unbelievable >_< stay free"

<http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=68895#p68895> Feb 17/2011 – Lies about not having talked shit about Rocky

"Regarding Rocky:

Srsly, nedech/rkey who think I'm looking down on rocky. Fuck off.

I was the only one who played with and didn't complain about him (yes Rkey, you included) during the time that the so called hate was at its worst.

Insanely many have brought up his mishaps/etc, C, Rkey, UGS, Nizro, IVP, hara, radde and so on. Agreeing with some statements does not make me one of them, the only back talk I've made regarding rocky was about him trying to blame what people had done towards him on others which is an extremely annoying and idiotic quality.

I'm pretty sure that the scanians and the people trying to prove that the so called "hate" is unjustified have also felt this.

People who say that Rocky is bad refuse to realize the truth and it's been a really long time since I heard anybody talking about it. People who feel that he's annoying to be around have a subjective opinion that I and apparently many others share at times.

@Why does he even go to tourneys: I don't fucking know it either, why would you go if you feel hated by the community."

<http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=77641#p77641> Jun 08/2011 – General raging at Rocky

"I fucking agree, when one's trying to push others down and point out their failures that they obviously cannot do anything about just to make his "buddies" (the ones you're fellating and think like you) and himself to feel better, it's fucking bad.

Especially bad is it when one never can realize that it's oneself that's at fault, not taking any responsibility and just pushes others down to seem less bad oneself, didn't you say it like that?

When one points out things just to point them out, despite not knowing whether they're true or not, one's really evil, don't you agree?

[Shoutout from Rocky: Leffen: Good stuff leaving your wallet in plain sight inside Jack's car, resulting in it getting smashed to bits, and then forcing Jack to sit in front and cover the broken window the whole way home (after which Jack gets a killer cold). Bonus points for not either offering to pay the reparation/insurance fees! I also hope you feel satisfied with getting 2nd at a tourney where just about everyone outside of the top 2 had broken controllers or played shitty!]

If you didn't realize, this was the reason for my "flame" post you fucking hypocrite LMFAO.

Edit:

this will most likely be responded to with another meaningless picture/video/smiley in a desperate attempt to attempt to laugh yourself out of your fuck up ^earlier written in size 0

sorry but it's fucking done now”

<http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=77709#p77709> Jun 09/2011 - Rkey, having been manipulated into not inviting Rocky to any more of his smashfests

”So to me it's like this, I'd really like Rocky to come but I feel like neither leffen nor Nizro would be able to stand it atm.

This sucks, Rocky =(Can we hang out in the weekend?”

<http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=82609#p82609> Oct 25/2011 – bans Rocky from trip to Finland

”I'm the one arranging the trip.

If I don't go due to for example not being able to afford it, nobody's going as of now.

Even if Rocky had paid me 10 hours before I'd made my post I wouldn't have given a shit about it. This is something Rocky (recently) has indebted himself to me for and he's only got himself to blame. Rocky isn't going and that's the end of it. Anybody who has a problem with it doesn't need to go.”

<http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?f=14&t=1250&p=89209#p89209> May 10/2012 – Bans C from Slynussmash

”You're not welcome, AKA banned, until you've paid back your debts to AJP and Jack”

<http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=83892#p83892> Nov 15/2011 – Flames Rkey for his game

”@Rkey and the intended shit: so fuuuuucking oooooowned.”

Further down:

”LOOOOOOOOOOOOOOL

I can't belive you're pulling the ”i wasn't serious” -card

i didn't read through all of your bullshit excuses – read ”i don't know how to roll through floors” and was done

Jack discovered the roll glitch, not me, and it was before that you spouted some shit about something being 'intended' or not”. I haven't been playing switch since day 2 since it came out, more or less... so yeah, you didn't make me play more like a pro.

And just because you say ”i know”, it doesn't mean that you actually knew.”

<http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=84110#p84110> Nov 19/2011 – Isa vs Leffen part 1 –

Isa's post

"leffen is a swine.

Pools in the singles tournament: me, leffen, lootic and another guy who everyone beat. Leffen 2-0s med with Fox and then goes and plays Mario, Mario, and GaW, all 3 of which he randomed, against lootic and loses the set 1-2. I face lootic and beat him 2-1 after three very long games (i timed him out game 1), but I still don't make it out since leffen didn't give a shit about playing seriously vs lootic.

Then, the bitch has the NERVE to tell Nizro to play seriously. I tell him to shut up and he responds with "at least I paid entry."

Apparently you get the right to be a fucking swine and not give a shit about others as long as you pay 50 SEK (which you then get back when you win the tourney). This would've been the first time I'd made bracket but now I didn't.

It wasn't exactly like leffen didn't knew what it'd lead to anyway, since I was screaming about it during his set against lootic.

I'm so fucking angry and frustrated.

I'm quitting the smash playing until January, when I'm going to Gothenburg to see Lolex and other people. I don't fucking know if I'll be playing any more after that, but atm I'm SICKENINGLY tired of everything Melee and the community surrounding it mean."

<http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=84137#p84137> Nov 20/2011 – Isa vs Leffen part 2 –

Leffen's post

"@Isa: "I wasn't a TO." You had spoken to Alex, set a time for the event, you asked people who they'd be teaming with (WITHOUT ME SAYING ANYTHING). Since you'd wanted to host a tourney and taken so much initiative yourself I assumed that you wanted to join in as a TO.

I don't give a shit if you didn't officially sign up as a TO, but everyone viewed you as that and you acted like one. You called pools and bracket, you made the pools and when Alex was asked about who the TO:s were he said 'Leffen, the one in the hat (you) and Jack'.

I didn't sign up as a TO, i didn't talk to Alex directly and even still every fucker knows I was one of the hosts BECAUSE I ACTED LIKE ONE. Did ANYONE view Jack as a TO, even though he was 'official'? If you do as much as you did people will assume you're a TO and trust you. You were much more "officially a TO" than I was (I made the thread when I was talking with Jack because he was busy).

@The pools shit:

First and foremost, you had the BY FAR easiest pool. (2 made it out, in the others it was Beat/Pep, Masterkai/AJP, Nizro/PO while our pool had me, emvald (a complete newbie), lootic and you).

I didn't check the pools at all after you'd changed them and I would doubtlessly have asked for a change if I'd seen them before you called them.

Then, it was like this: I didn't try EVEN. IN. THE. SLIGHTEST. BIT. Against you, even though I was playing Fox (you know this, why the fuck do you think you had the lead on several occasions, no offense). I felt it wasn't fun at all to play like that and it made me realize I'd rather have fun than win.

When I played Lootic I went random because it made it hype, lots of people watched the set because it was more interesting than all the other fucking sets in the room. You yourself cheered for Lootic before you realized his victory would hurt you. That you then began to whine like hell during the set I've heard later on, but I didn't listen to it at all, I was enjoying my set.

I was trying to beat lootic to a much higher degree than I did vs you, even though I was playing a "low tier" (MARIO IS BETTER THAN LINK). I lost in the end and when I realized it COULD hurt your performance I said sorry (I did this twice, btw, on both occasions you didn't give a shit). I would, completely honestly, probably not have played "other characters", had you played each other first.

I did NOT pull a Nizro, who intentionally got himself a low seeding to own as many as possible in the bracket (terebi). I didn't do it to put myself above anybody, or to own anyone. I did it in order to see if I could win with random which to me is fun. I asked Nizro to play seriously in bracket because he was playing Pichu vs Masterkai because he hadn't paid any entry fee. I paid his entry for him to play seriously and right then we knew money was missing (before any of the pot was stolen).

@your reaction

CHILL. WITH. THE. NERD. RAGE.

Everybody gets that you're disappointed, but seriously. You went around the whole room, screaming about what's happened and that I was a swine for a fucking hour. You went and kicked me for 2 minutes when I was playing...

That you'd been acting like a TO earlier made your acting like a 5 y o much worse, under no circumstances should you give outsiders such an immature and childish impression of the smash community, especially as a TO.

I know you think making bracket is an extremely big deal but have you said anybody else whine as much as yourself when they've gotten gayed out of it, regardless of the reason? No, exactly.

I went Yoshi in bracket and lost 1 game vs AJP and was generally closer to losing than I might've been had I gone Fox/Falco. If I'd lost I would've knocked Nizro out earlier, for example, but not one fucker would've complained about it.

@the theft.

It was supposed to be 1800SEK but instead it was 600 fucking SEK at the end of it. The money was in the cafeteria the whole time, until I took them out to give them to O/Aniolas who needed to leave (after that, ca 1000 SEK was left!). Me and AJP then went to play our games and we left the money out, but I assumed it was safe because you were sitting by the computer the whole time. Then, you left without saying a shit (while I was playing a tourney game, btw) and left the money completely unguarded and I'm 99% sure that's when the money went missing.

Anyway it's happened now and that's that.

Read from here if you're not Isa or have a strange need to understand why nerd rage occurred. IF YOU KNOW THAT YOU HAVEN'T PAID ENTRY, POST HERE PLOX (i know 99% will just lie but still)

Anyway, until next time!

1. You sign up and pay simultaneously, no exceptions.

Jinzo and Rocky being fail enough to stall the tourney and still not find a fucking ATM or head into 7-Eleven is not something I'll give a fuck about. You pay singles and teams at the same time and if you have to leave, you have to leave. I won't let anybody get their money back just because their planning sucks (which also ruins the tourney along with making it much easier for money to get stolen/lost)

I honestly didn't believe that Isa was giving any money back (at least, he didn't tell me), but it won't be allowed.

2. I'm a fucking official TO and talk to Alex personally. Jack had missed several facebook meetings, Alex didn't know the tourney was on until 2 days before (causing a double booking...). Isa will also probably not be a TO again due to him being mad at me + his mood not working as a TO. Jack/AJP/somebody else will probably help out but I'm at least going to arrange everything.
3. The tourney was overall really nice imho except the money/Isa incidents.

Blergh, now that's off my chest.

BTW, I don't give a SHIT about what people who were not present and just assuming think."

<http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?f=14&t=1189&p=84196#p84196> Nov 20/2011 – Leffen vs Jinzo

"okejji nzo iunder standdd"

<http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=84217#p84217> Nov 21/2011 - Leffen vs Jinzo 2

"uh. Wtf.

You're not making any sense.

I put Masterkai and Nizro together because they agreed on teaming and nobody said no afterwards AND they finished the tourney... YOU WEREN'T EVEN THERE THEN, because you were late.

I don't understand your last sentence. I paid Nizro's entry and how is that unfair.

You played both teams and singles, why should _I_ ow you money? Think a little, plx.

@Isa: Yellow Card/Red Card rules don't work. Period. There's been a ridiculous amount of bickering and it's completely illogically used in the brawl community (it's gotten hella negative feedbqack and when M2K got banned the URC changed the rules to allow him to come, etc...)

This is even worse for us to use since we don't have control over other melee tourneys (unity ban has it in brawl), and because it's a small, relatively non-serious tournament. If it's to be changed, the major tourneys need to change it first (BEAST 3 etc).

I do however think it's extremely shitty overall to ban people because they don't play to win. It would for example ban me from all tourneys ever since i play Yoshi...

It just isn't applicable. Should you ban people not using their mains? LOL.

Should you ban people who lose with low tiers? LOL

If you're going to separate players' characters, say if Lootic also played fox and lost it's cool, but if he loses with Link, it isn't.

If people want to do walkovers they can just as well use high tiers (such as what happened at BEAST1), you can just play on a lower level (like I did vs you for example...)

For you to be able to ban somebody you in other words have to say "If you lose to somebody with a lower seed, regardless of character, you're banned". You can also alternatively say that it's up to the TO to decide which only leads to a lot of bias about the players (for example you thinking my mario/gaw MUST be worse decisions for victory), which doesn't work + I'm a TO and would never allow somebody to be banned for not playing seriously."

<http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=84227#p84227> Nov 21/2011 – Leffen vs Jinzo 3

"So you mean that you have to play just as well vs everybody? If you try less in a pool game because of it being pools = ban. In other words, 99% of the community are worthy of being banned since they don't take every game as seriously.

You can't demand that people shall perform as well vs everyone, it doesn't work lol. I could just as well have went Fox and lost because I didn't know the Link MU. 'oh but i don't know how to beat link' → BAN RIGHT AWAY

With that way of thinking you have to ban Hack for "letting" Ice make it further at Beast1 because he doesn't use Kirby as much as I play Mario.

Worthy of mention is that I also got a first seed going into bracket, just like my pool seed. But as you say, you really can't do anything about it and nothing should be done about it when it's about locals.

@Jinzo: I asked SEVERAL TIMES, and nobody said a shit afterwards either. The bracket was done before you arrived, we threw you in at the last minute and we didn't have time to redo the brackets. When you'd finally came, 2 teams had already played their first set, but I guess I'll have to assume you didn't understand that.

Blame yourself, you played in the tourney (YOU AGREED ON TEAMING WITH ROCKY). You were late. You, nor Masterkai, didn't say anything about changing the teams. And you would, completely honestly, never ever had gotten even close to the same placing as the one Masterkai/Nizro got had you teamed with Masterkai.

Could you please stop acting like a handicapped jelly lump for fuck's sake, please, learn to spell."

<http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=84231#p84231> Nov 21/2011 – Leffen vs Jinzo 4

"Maybe he [MasterKai] didn't understand when I asked, but he had a lot of time to call me on it and so did you.

It doesn't matter if I'd asked him or I'm lying to you, you played with rocky, you entered the tourney and that's what you paid for. With you paying you had the chance to win money, and you were apparently competing for money when you were teaming with Rocky.

The fact that you don't get this is pretty mindblowing tbh.

If you don't like my personality, you're going to "make up" by taking your money back? How the fuck are you thinking? What exact part of my personality being bad is helped by you taking back your money.

I honestly don't understand why I'm asking, I know I'm just going to receive yet another impossible to understand response."

<http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=84259#p84259> Nov 21/2011 – Aniolas regarding Fair play

"Why do people have to be so fucking stupid?

'Sportsmanship is an aspiration or ethos that a sport or activity will be enjoyed for its own sake, with proper consideration for fairness, ethics, respect, and a sense of fellowship with one's competitors.'

It's disgusting to see that people sink to levels where it's being discussed who's got burden of proof and rules about valuing proof. A gigantically large part of humanity understands the concept fair play, and play by it because it helps everyone in all situations.

Do people really feel a need to destroy for others just because there's no rule to prevent it?"

<http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=84784#p84784> Nov 29/2011 – Flaming Rocky without reason

"qft @Aniolas, what the fuck could he be meaning:

my theories are:

- 1. he's saying it because he's already managed to fuck up the USA trip to hell and back so that nobody will be able to go (people are trusting rocky to arrange that trip :>)*
- 2. he doesn't get that he's making the exact faults he's talking about constantly and a few more*
- 3. he just says something random to fit in, as usual."*

<http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=84909#p84909> Dec 01/2011 – Does not comprehend why he deserves to be modded for a post

"Give me one example of what I've done wrong, please.

Abuseage of position much?"

<http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=80034#p80034> Aug 16/2011 – Apex 2012 part 1 - Rocky is excluded "without saying"

"How's it going boys? Time to book tickets soon!

The prices are about 4,5k SEK from stockholm to NY, which seems like the cheapest trip, even though you get a 5% discount if you book with an apex code or something.

*Can anybody come up with something better and when do people want to go?
I'd prefer going around 3-9 jan so that we can see some of the east coast, but i'm open to suggestions.*

Who's up for it besides Armada, Zoler and Jack? CW, Mikehaggar, Hack? And can you make it, Aniolas?

[small font]that this isn't meant for Rocky goes without saying[/small font]

<http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=80444#p80444> Aug 28/2011 – apex part 2

"So like I said, who's up for going to the US a little earlier?

And is there ANYBODY who can consider carrying rocky on his back during the trip?"

<http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=80466#p80466> Aug 29/2011 – apex part 3

"A leash is better, then you can tie him [Rocky] outside of stores/the tourney and avoid fuckups that way."

<http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=80533#p80533> Aug 31/2011 – apex part 4

"@VJ

Yes, I'm 100% serious. I'm not considering going with Rocky due to general retardness + extreme travel fuckups that I'm not gonna stand if I pay 4,5K SEK for a trip. Everybody I've spoken to has expressed similar thoughts.

I guess the sad thing is that Rocky has such poor self-awareness that he hasn't realized it himself."

<http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=80544#p80544> Aug 31/2011 – apex part 5

"It really isn't like I clearly wrote that I don't even WANT all the fucking problems/retardness that Rocky creates, even if I could "handle" them.

I like how you keep talking even though you're not going, btw, is Rocky talking with you on msn or what lol."

<http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=80552#p80552> Aug 31/2011 – apex part 6

"[Rocky: I understand that you're a very sensitive person regarding making a fool out of yourself or having flaws.]

Name reasons/examples plx.

[Rocky: however i can't grasp why you consider it necessary to talk about how i "always" fuck up when you haven't been on any of the trips that i've actually really blown it on (while these trips also took place more than a year ago (SNY)]

I consider it necessary because i don't want anything to do with it + that I don't like you as a person and you obv don't like me.

[Rocky: As far as I know you seldom have enough spine to complain about the people to their faces when you see them, rather letting the majority of it manifest itself as pure back talk]

Yeah, you sure do have a lot of information about this. I really didn't complain about C AT ALL at Genesis 2. Yep. Btw, I wonder what you have to say about the impending lawsuit against your god (C).

[Rocky: the only thing this is doing to the smash community (which, by the way, is turning into a sports club) is create drama and segregation. I don't get how people can keep doing that stuff, we're a community for a fucking video game, if somebody annoys you either shut up or grab the bull by its horns and talk to the person in question.]

LMFAO

Yeah, it's just me talking shit over the internet but not saying a SHIT irl.

Now let's see:

http://smashfonticulus.ecommunity.se/vi ... sc&start=0

The classic.

[Rocky: Leffen: Good stuff leaving your wallet in plain sight inside Jack's car, resulting in it getting smashed to bits, and then forcing Jack to sit in front and cover the broken window the whole way home (after which Jack gets a killer cold). Bonus points for not either offering to pay the reparation/insurance fees! I also hope you feel satisfied with getting 2nd at a tourney where just about everyone outside of the top 2 had broken controllers or played shitty!]

[Rocky: leffen, can't you like, break the brakes on the RV or something? That way you'll be rid of this idiotic, unnecessary road trip so that you instead can hitchike to the nearest tourney! (Because we all know smash was the point of the trip for you)]

HYPOCRITE.

- 1. I don't talk shit about you, I'm just asking if somebody's planning to play parent to you during this trip.*
- 2. Radde was the one who brought the shit up several times (after I'd said I was wrong), not me.*
- 3. C is a fucking bi-polar retard. That's it.*

[Rocky: my advice to you is to learn to become more tolerant and try to be more distanced to your self and others]

See the above quote. Lmfao.

The ONLY reason you want me to not say shit/be more tolerant is so that you can go to Apex when in actuality everyone doesn't stand you. Out of EVERY person that I've talked to about the Apex trip, NOBODY has wanted to book tickets with you going (and just like earlier in this thread when I've asked if somebody want's to act as your parent, nobody wants to, obviously). And yes, people have said that they want me to come.

Tl;dr

I hate you, you obviously hate me/are jealous, you're a hypocrite, you say all of this so that you can come along and I'm never going to go with a "regger" again after having lived with C for 2 weeks.

EDIT: You're free to contact me via PM or similar but don't think I'm gonna change anything, lol."

<http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=80577#p80577> Sep 01/2011 – apex part 7

"People who aren't planning on going: I don't give a damn.

Btw; sorry in advance to the people planning on going, Rocky will likely contact you in the near future (or maybe you've already been contacted)."

<http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=81509#p81509> Oct 02/2011 – apex part 8

"I've gotten a buddy pass (saving 3k SEK is pretty nice) so I'll be flying solo.

Arriving/leaving on the same day would still be nice, though!

+ if anybody wants to be housed with/get a hotel room/play parent for Rocky, mention it asap. I think it'll be better for everyone if we split up as of now. Radde? Armada?"

<http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=86822#p86822> Jan 03/2012 – apex part 9 – several lies here. Didn't ask his parents and Rocky didn't "fucked his trip up" as he'd gotten a different flight via buddy pass.

"The Fuckup Trip 2012 has officially began.

Rocky can apparently not make it to Arlanda airport.

Intead of taking it in his own hands he asks daddy Hack to do it for him

He wants me (yes, leffen) to house him

Even though Rocky already fucked my trip up I ask my parents, but they don't let me.

So in other words:

[Quote: For some reason, leffen's dad cannot drive Armada and Zoler at 2-3AM. They realize this at midnight. Hoping to save money, they take a flight shuttle supposed to arrive at 4:30 AM. Sadly, it's delayed by half an hour and the Gothenburg duo now have a mere hour to find the right terminal along with Rocky and Hack, check in and get to the right gate.]

But for Rocky.

Does this mean Rocky will miss the plane?

Does this mean Hack has to find something else for Rocky?

Sit tight.

To be continued.

PS. Rocky's mom got us an extra hotel room due to the "mishaps". She paid for this on her own. Thanks, Rocky's mom."

<http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?f=5&t=946&p=91086#p91086> Jul 30/2012 – Threatens to spread "much worse shit"

"I'd drank 6 7% ciders and I said before taking the 'shot' that I didn't want any more because I felt like vomiting :0

Besides, I started asking around about what it had been since I hadn't been feeling anything (even though they [Mikehaggard/IVP] said it would come xD) and that's what led to Zoler telling me lol (when he told Armada, I already knew)

Mike, it's fucking pathetic that you're going to repeat and over-hype exactly everything

Wouldn't have a problem spreading much worse shit but I'd rather us cease the shit-flinging."

<http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=91096#p91096> Jul 30/2012 - "I'm going to better myself from now on (at least if you do the same thing :>)"

"@O. No, you're talking about the wrong night. This was the 3rd.

@Armada. I won't keep putting my word vs yours, but I don't think it was like that, but w/e.

I'd bought 7 ciders, you got one of them and then I shared about ½ of a can with Zoler/Gamba.

I probably acted more drunk, but I'd been drinking cider before/after taking the shot and had just drank a whole lot before that when i was playing P:M.

Considering how furious you became when i posted something (that you also interpreted completely wrong), it's funny that you point it out, Mike >_>

whatever, if people want to keep dwelling on this feel free. I'm not saying it wasn't a good prank, but putting it up here, on facebook and smashboards after i'd asked you to stop Mike fucking makes me want to put up a lot of overstatements about how mentally unstable you are, that you've been hospitalized and eat a lot of pills and blablabla but like i said, I'd rather just see us quitting this and removing everything. I'd rather also do this with Rocky from now on. Sorry Rocky/Mike for how I've acted before, I'm going to better myself from now on (at least if you do the same thing :>)

edit: wrote this before rocky's new post. If you want to continue, Rocky, go on, I can see how you think I deserve it since it quite indeed was I who began (or well, the whole stockholm region, but I was a part of it), but I'm at least going to stop and ask for forgiveness rather than continuing.

If Mike/Rocky want a personal chat about this, please msg me on FB”

<http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=91107#p91107> Jul 31/2012 – Tries to blame others regarding treatment of Rocky when confronted

”uh, tldr because explaining what actually happened during the 'stockholm hate' isn't very interesting for this discussion.

Nizro began all the hate, like Yuna began all the hating on Ying. Everybody including me wondered why. After a couple of smashfests/tourneys more and more started realizing the truth in what he'd said. The shit talk went around and EVERYBODY was doing it on different occasions. I've heard/seen from AJP/Jack that you thought that they were the only ones who weren't flinging shit at oyu, and that you because of this constantly msn'ed them about completely random shit, and this was the source of a lot of laughing since it wasn't true in the slightest. Same goes for C, he was perhaps the one who talked the most shit about you out of everyone, and told a whole lot about random meetups/msn convos even during your ”regg-period”. Heard some similar stuff about a few others but you get the point.

Only thing is, the only people who were actually heard were me/pepito/nizro, because nobody, no matter how much shit they talked behind your back, wanted to say anything to your face.

So, and now, I'd like to hear why you wanted this publicly, because I feel like it's not something I want.”

<http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=91123#p91123> Jul 31/2012 – Wants to apologize - on his own terms

”The stuff about the 80% apple juice i can take back since I was very drunk and if anything I guess i'm just recalling it wrong.

”this is how i remember it” is always what you say when telling something >_> I also find it dumb to squabble about a point that i don't even care about, people can think that i got extremely fooled if they want to, but i still found my version of it worthy of being put up since it didn't resemble Mike's version at all.

Not going to comment the MikeHagggar thing since I've already (at least tried to) talk with him personally. The reason I'd prefer the shitflinging to end is because it's fucking hard for me to change myself (which i quite indeed need) when others are throwing shit my way. Whatever, I'll stop defending myself then, I see your point.

Am sorry about how I acted during the Mario Party 5 game if I haven't said it enough, if there's anything else you're free to bring it up (i'd rather it be on FB or similar, since it's much faster and as far fewer misunderstandings)

@Rocky: I still want to apologize, but you gotta meet me halfway >_> and true on the other bit.”

<http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?p=91131#p91131> Jul 31/2012 – abrasive retorts to points made by Rocky/MikeHagggar

”derppp

i've never complained about people joking about me before Mike, the only reason I'm doing so now is because I don't want to be spurred into starting yet another shitflinging war when I'm trying to change my way of acting. Stop trying to connect something I said x amount of months ago with something I've chosen to change just recently.

If you still don't want to have an opinion, and just want me to change my ways, then this discussion is worthless, right? (that's just what I expected you to do >_>) but fine, since you wanted to take this publicly i guess i can answer.

Your ”bottom” doesn't have a fucking lot of logic behind it. That my joking etc when people fuck up and that me not knowing where the line between personal attacks and jokes goes has ruined the community? Because that sounds really fucking like what MikeHagggar has done more than anybody (not saying I haven't done it).

However, MikeHagggar is on your side, so he obviously has to be the best, just like C is the best against everybody just because he was the only one who agreed with you.

'You can say that you're sorry for your behavior as many times as you want, but when you time upon time show that it wasn't an "accident" that you behaved bad, people see through it.' but lool, i've apologized this time, and never otherwise. I haven't had a chance to show that it was an "accident" so tldr your argument sucks.

'What you don't seem to have realized about the smash community is that it is a sorts of relaxation for people, where you can let go of the shit life otherwise throws at you. Your actions point at you trying to ventilate aggressions over something in your life, maybe your family/school/friend situation, what do I know, on a gaming community, which is sad.'

So first you say that the whole smash community is a relaxation for what people go through in the rest of their lives, which I completely honestly think is maybe your personal experience and not the whole community's. And then, you complain about me venting the shit I get in "the rest of my life" on this gaming community, when you've just said that's what people do. Logic much?

Completely honestly, can you just quit the whole "I know why exactly every person in the community hates you"-thing, because if somebody's going to tell me that it's fucking not you. You apparently had great issues with something I did during the Apex trip, probably when Hack/you went away without saying anything, but you refuse to elaborate on that. Instead, you make up a bunch of random, thoughtless arguments that don't have anything to do with the point of the discussion."

<http://forum.smashbros.se/viewtopic.php?f=5&t=790&p=91783#p91783> Aug 26/2012 – claims he'll change his behavior – to this day nothing has changed. Also claims he's apologized to Rocky/MikeHagggar which is a huge overstatement.

"But seriously, can you cut it out.

@O. I've fucking never said sorry to Rocky/Mike until just recently, so "same as always"... WUT and if you think that this was "breaking" against this, i'll have to ask you to reconsider.... this was just random drunken trolling, and if people took it as anything else i guess i'll ask for forgiveness for it...

Mike, who 24/7 does exactly everything to spread hate against me here, on streams/yt/swf/facebook, is apparently praised for making drunken posts and throwing dirt, but we aren't?

FYI, Mike had also promised me to quit all the hating after I'd talked to him on FB and asked him that we'd just quit it all and move on, and the first thing he does is not give a shit about it and go on doing stuff in the exact same (if not worse) manner. It's fucking nice.

Not gonna continue discussing this, if Mike/you others want to continue circle jerking then fine

I'm going to do what I can to change my behavior, but that doesn't fucking mean that I'll start respecting people who are idiots/frauds, however I will shut up about it since that's how you're "supposed" to act.

Btw, word @Isa/Slynus”